SPAIN WITHDRAWS FROM LEAGUE

Formal Spanish Withdrawal Note Given To League

Germany Comes In As Spain Leaves; Leaders Hope Spain Will Reconsider

LEAGUE AWAITS GERMANY'S MOVE

Indications Are That Germany Will Press For Disarmament Action

By S. DUNBAR WEYER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

GENEVA, Sept. 11.—The League of Nations starts a new phase in its career today.

Germany sits high in the councils of the league today, but Spain has announced her withdrawal.

The formal Spanish note, giving the usual two years' notice of withdrawal from the league was delivered today, leaving the numerical strength of the league exactly where it was yesterday before Germany took her seat.

Hope Spain Reconsiders

League leaders, although visibly concerned over the withdrawal of Spain, live in hopes that before Spain's two years of notice have expired that she will have reconsidered and will again take her place in the assembly.

It is generally understood here that the Spanish decision to withdraw was not based on the refusal of a permanent seat in the council to Spain alone, but that the decision was taken after it became apparent to Spain that her demands for a reorganization of the Tangier administration would not be met.

NEW BEAUTY QUEEN WILL CONTINUE HER COURSE IN COLLEGE

Brunette, With Unbobbed Hair, Is New Type To Hold Title "Miss America"

New Beauty Queen Hails From Tulsa, Oklahoma—Blonde Is Second

By SONIA LEE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 11.—Norma Descygne Smallwood, a dusky, long-haired girl of medium height, from Tulsa, Oklahoma, today carried the scepter of beauty as "Miss America, 1926."

She had been crowned the night before by old King Neptune before a pulsating, shouting, hysterical crowd that made a little pathway of its heart for the perfect feet of a new majesty.

It was a new line of royalty. The abdicating queen, Fay Lanphier of California, is blonde and tall. Miss Smallwood, with her Mona Lisa hair-dress and dazzling teeth, affer a manner justifies the brunette. She is 18 years old, weighs 118 pounds, is 5 feet 4 inches in height and has straight dark brown hair, worn parted in the middle with braided buns over the ears. Her skin is fair—her eyes are a blue.

Colorful Event.

The elevation of the beauty to her throne was a colorful event. There were the beauties representing their cities, the dignitaries of the city, King Neptune, Miss Lanphier and the jury. Eyes were focussed on the sealed golden apple of Paris, over which "Miss Atlantic City," as the official hostess, presided. She broke it open, and the announcer began calling off the names upon the ballots, enclosed yesterday morning.

"Miss Tulsa," he called.

The crowd cheered. Miss Tulsa had won the large cup for the most beautiful girl in evening dress on Thursday night, and she was being

Five persons were drowned at Fuchu and three at Hiroschima City.

State Insurance Commissioner's Move Assailed By Williams

Local Man, State President Of Insurance Federation, Decries Action

Says Abolishing Advisory Board System Is Political Reprisal

In a statement today, Joseph C. Williams of this city, president of the State Insurance Federation of Pennsylvania, assails the action of State Insurance Commissioner Einar Barfod, who has abolished the advisory board system of licensing agents to sell insurance.

"It is an unwarranted attack upon a system that was designed and has proven to be a protection to the insuring public," he said. "The insurance men of this state have worked five years to build up this protective system and to see it torn down by a man who is not an insurance man, who is not capable of properly adjudging the value of it, is most discouraging."

Governor Pinchot's Fault.

"We are not surprised at such action," said Mr. Williams. "We expected little from Governor Pinchot, for we believe that the action of Barfod is merely a political reprisal of the governor over the refusal of the insurance men to support him for the United States senate. We believed another candidate to be more capable and supported him.

"His removal of Insurance Commissioner Samuel W. McCullough and the appointment of Einar Barfod is in line with the same tactics that prompted the removal of Game Commissioner John W. Phillips, a man who had served under five governors and who, 30 days after his summary dismissal by Governor Pinchot, was appointed United States game commissioner by President Coolidge.

"However, we believe that this attempt to tear down the advisory board in this state will last only until the first of the year, when we hope the government of the state of Pennsylvania will once more be in

Italian Premier Escapes Injury; Pedestrians Hurt

Crowd Seizes Bomb Hurler To Wreak Vengeance; Saved By Police

BOMB THROWN BELIEVED TOOL

Only Recently Returned From France—Premier Undisturbed By Affair

(International News Service)

ROME, Sept. 11.—Premier Mussolini escaped an attempted assasination today.

Ermete Giovanni, an 18-year-old Italian youth, hurled a bomb at the premier as he drove in his automobile to his offices in the Chigi palace at 10 o'clock this morning.

The bomb struck the top of Mussolini's car and rolled off to the ground and exploded in the street. Mussolini being uninjured, but four passersby suffered severe injuries from the pieces of flying bomb.

The Plaza Porta Pia was, as usual, fairly well filled with pedestrians and four of these were struck by bits of the bomb as it went off with a terrific din.

Pandemonium Reigns

There was almost instant pandemonium and pedestrians who had seen Giovanni throw the bomb made a rush for him. The youth was seized upon and there was an instant cry that he be lynched. The police, who arrived when the crowd was scuffling with the would-be assassin, had the greatest difficulty in rescuing him from the hands of the mob, who were demanding his instant death.

The premier took charge of matters and gave orders at once that there be no reprisals and that those who had been injured be given the best care.

To his friends and colleagues in Chigi palace the premier again expressed the opinion that "divine intervention" had saved him to carry on his work for Italy.

When Giovanni was finally rescued from the mobs and taken to police headquarters it was learned that he had recently arrived in Italy from France. Giovanni admitted to the police that he had crossed into Italy from France surreptitiously and had not had a passport or the necessary credentials.

Believed Tool of Older Heads

While no official statement was made, angry Romans immediately declared that the plot to assassinate the premier had been fostered by anti-Fascists who have made their headquarters in France, and it was charged that Giovanni was the tool of older and wiser heads.

There were immediate rumors put into effect that Italy would make demands upon France for the curbing of the anti-Fascist activities in Nice and other points along the border, as well as in Paris.

While angry mobs surged through the streets, Mussolini, undisturbed, was at his desk in the foreign of-

Re-Enact Scenes In Hall-Mills Murder

Choir Singer Is Taken To Scene Last Night To Get Reactions

Gorsline Will Be Questioned Further To Secure New Facts

BY GEORGE LAIT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Sept. 11.—Police authorities investigating the Hall-Mills murder were expecting today to resume their questioning of Ralph Gorsline, vestryman of the church of which the murdered Rev. Edward W. Hall was pastor, and Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills, the other victim of the double slaying, was a choir singer.

May Identify Voices.

The police are attempting to gain further admissions also, from Miss Catherine Rastall, a choir singer of the same church, who, with Ralph Gorsline, admitted having been in De Russel Lane at the time of the slaying, and having heard shots and voices. Police are trying to persuade these two important wit-

MAY DEPORT BOOTLEGGER

Warrant For Action Issued Against Remus, "Millionaire Bootlegger"

(International News Service)

TROY, O., Sept. 11.—A warrant charging him with being an undesirable alien and subject to deportation, has been served on George Remus, "millionaire bootlegger", in the Miami county jail.

His hearing before the immigration authorities will probably not be held until after he completes his present sentence in the local jail, which expires July 1, 1927. Remus has been in the toils of the law for several years as a result of his bootleg activities. He served a two-year sentence in the federal prison at Atlanta and is now serving a year's sentence in the Miami county jail on a liquor charge.

Not Citizen.

Shortly after his conviction and incarceration in the Atlanta prison, the federal authorities began an investigation in regard to Remus' citizenship. After several years of investigation, the immigration authorities announced that Remus is not a naturalized citizen and is subject to deportation to Germany, his native country.

Remus admits being born in Germany but claims his father was naturalized shortly after the family came to America, more than 40 years ago. His daughter Ramona is at work at present in charge trying to find the record of the naturalization of the father.

STATE LEGION SESSIONS END

Final Event Is Parade At Stroudsburg This Afternoon

(International News Service)

DELAWARE WATER GAP, Pa., Sept. 11—With only two candidates remaining in the field for the office of state commander, the eighth annual convention of the Pennsylvania department of the American Legion will close here today with the election of officers.

The fight for commander is between Col. Robert M. Vail, of Scranton, and Col. Edgar Munson, of Williamsport, both of those named have been placed in nomination.

Al Sheasley, of Emporium, probably will be elected vice commander without opposition. James J. Dieghan, of Philadelphia, will be re-elected state adjutant, it was indicated. The convention yesterday increased the salary of the adjutant from $4,000 to $5,000 a year.

Following the close of the convention this afternoon the delegates will go to Stroudsburg, where the annual parade will be held. It is expected that at least 5,000 Legionnaires will be in the line of march.

Past Commander J. Leo Collins, of Pittsburgh, defeated retiring Commander Lucius McK. Crumrine, of Washington, Pa., yesterday for the Pennsylvania representative upon the national executive committee of the Legion.

MISSING MAN RETURNS

George Griffith, of 122 Quest street, reported missing, was today reported to the police as having returned home.

SECOND DAY TO REGISTER

New Castle Voters Have Second Chance On Next Tuesday

Second registration day for voters of this city will be held on next Tuesday, September 14. Registrars will be at all of the polling places from 8 to 10 a. m. from 2 to 6 p. m. and from 7 to 10 p. m. for the purpose of registering all persons who desire to vote at the November election.

Persons presenting themselves for registration must bring with them a county tax receipt, showing the payment of taxes within the past two years. Naturalized citizens are required to present their naturalization papers.

It is important that all who possibly can register next Tuesday. The registration was light on the first registration day, and there is always a rush on the last day. By registering next Tuesday, voters may save themselves the time and annoyance of waiting in line on the last day, which is a frequent occurrence.

Craig Trial For Jameson Slaying Comes Up Monday

Will Be First Case Before Court When Criminal Trials Begin

District Attorney J. Elder Bryan announced today that the first case to be taken up before Judge Hildebrand on next Monday morning will be that of Samuel Craig, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of David Jameson, Jr. Craig was originally charged with murder, but the grand jury ignored the first count on the indictment, and returned a true bill on the second, charging manslaughter. It is expected that there will be considerable interest in the case and that some new testimony will be produced by both the commonwealth and the defense.

Cross-Examine Star Witness In Daugherty Case

German Metal Financier Relates Payments To Late John T. King

WILLIAMS TO BE CALLED TO STAND

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Cross-examination of Richard Merton, German metal financier, the government star witness in the trial of Harry M. Daugherty, former attorney general, and Colonel Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian, charged with conspiracy to defraud the government will be resumed Monday.

It was learned today that the defense plans to call George R. Williams, first assistant to Colonel Miller. Williams was mentioned as "a conspirator," but his name does not appear in the conspiracy indictment.

Merton on the stand related how and why he had paid $441,000—$391,000 in bonds and $50,000 by check—to the late John T. King. In 1921, in consideration of the transfer of the $7,000,000 German equity in the American Metal company's assets, seized by the government at the time of the war to the German-controlled society Suisse Four Valeurs De Meleaux.

Allowed by Daugherty

The transfer was allowed jointly by Daugherty, then attorney general and Miller, then alien property custodian. The present indictment against them both alleges dishonest negligence on their part in the matter, and also alleges participation in a subsequent "split" of at least the $391,000 in bonds.

Merton also told of Colonel Miller bringing personally from Washington almost $6,500,000 in two checks, which represented the bulk of the proceeds involved in the Society Suisse-American Metal company. He said Miller had turned the checks over to him at a champagne dinner party which he, the witness, gave in the Ritz-Carlton hotel for Colonel Miller and the late Jess Smith, alleged go-between in conjunction with King. Gold cigarette cases were dinner favors.

He told how he previously had given a retainer of $50,000 to King to smooth the way for the Swiss concern's recovery of the metal money and how he had agreed further to pay an additional 5 per cent to the total amount involved if the deal went through by August 15, or 2½ per cent if by September 15—nothing at all if it took longer.

Somehow series in October drive the average Yankee mad, banker, merchant, plumber, doctor, matron, husband, lass and lad. Makes no difference where they're playing, in New York or old St. Lou, millions will attend the series, stand at score boards, see it through. Skies may darken, wind may bellow, baseball fans are most immune, when the series games are playing, every day is early June. Soon the series will be started, fans have little time to wait, till the umpire starts it rolling, weather's warmer, seventy eight.

Here, Husbands! Follow These Rules And Your Wife Will Be Happy

(International News Service)

LONDON, Sept. 11.—A decalogue for husbands, designed to reduce the number of unhappy marriages and divorces, has reached here from Austria where it was drawn up by Frau Ida Bock, a noted Austrian writer.

Frau Bock's ten commandments follow:

1—If you love your wife, be at least now and then attentive; flirt with her as you do with other women.

2—If you love your wife, do not assume that she knows it; she wants to hear it; therefore tell her "I love you".

3—If you think your wife is the moving spirit who spreads comfort and beauty in your home and you are pleased with it, do not take it as a matter of course—recognize her efforts and thank her occasionally.

4—If you, in your invincible conceit, think that she is for you alone in the wide world do not act accordingly. Try to win her.

5—If your wife is equal to you in intellect, then let her be your comrade. Let her share your inner life and do not show your superiority.

6—If your wife is not equal to you in birth or intellect, then see in her the mother of your children and treat her accordingly.

7—The love of a wife means her utter self-forgetfulness. Do not take it for granted, but pay attention to the thousand little sacrifices she so willingly makes for your happiness.

8—Be faithful.

9—Do not praise your mother, sister, aunt, cousin to your wife and do not hold them up as models.

10—If you find it difficult to recognize the wisdom of these nine commandments, try now and then to obey one or another of them. It will pay you in the end, and you will be the eighth wonder of the world—the ideal husband.

Town Talk

Mrs. Martha Gillespie of McClelland avenue reported today that she had a sun flower in her garden that was twelve feet, four inches high. The plant is expected to grow higher as there are very few blooms on it.

Fall like weather has arrived early this year. In some sections this morning reports were made that a light frost had been noted.

Speaking of sunflowers which reach unusual heights there is a stalk on the property of Newell McKibben of New Bedford on the Youngstown road which is attracting considerable attention according to a communication to the News. The plant is 11 feet three inches high and is surmounted by a huge flower at the top while 42 smaller blooms decorated it towards the bottom. The stalk itself is almost as heavy as a sapling. The sunflower in question was not planted but sprung up from a stray seed carried there by the wind.

Local ministers are attaching great importance to the meeting which will be held Monday morning at he Y. M. C. A. and an excellent attendance is looked forward to. All of the preachers of the community have completed their vacations and are prepared to enter into the fall program of religious activities with a will. A campaign of personal evangelism is planned for October and it will come in for consideration at the meeting. The program committee will take charge of the meeting and an interesting session is assured.

Matters connected with the opening of the schools for the 1926-27 term will be taken up at the meeting of the New Castle school board which will be held Tuesday evening of next week.

Ding-a-ling went the telephone bell in the office of a well known alderman this morning.

"Hello," said this pleasant mannered alderman.

"How much do you charge to marcel hair," came back the sweet voice of a young lady.

The alderman looked at the phone a minute, blushed a little (may have been his natural color) then was heard to remark into the phone, "Lady, you've got the wrong number. That's not our kind of business."

known, the league now turns to Germany to learn what her policies will be as a member of the league. Herr Stresemann, German foreign minister and head of the German delegation to the league, gave a clear indication yesterday that Germany intends to press for disarmament through league action.

It is understood here that Germany gave a promise not to bring up the Sarr question or the question or the problem of allied military control in the league, but pressure in Berlin may force Herr Stresemann to raise the question of reduction of the Rhine occupational forces at an early date, and if this is done then Germany may have an early demonstration of the effectiveness of the league.

NEW BEAUTY QUEEN WILL CONTINUE HER COURSE IN COLLEGE

paid the homage of new allegiances. "Miss Washington."

Here was divinity. Marjorie Joesting, the darling of the spectators at all appearances, received an acclaim only superseded by the demonstration when the new queen was known.

Now again and again and again the announcer intoned "Miss Tulsa".

In another moment without waiting to count all the votes with the requisite eight already chalked up, came the announcement, "Miss Tulsa—now Miss America, 1926."

Miss Washington Game.

But while Miss Tulsa sat on the red and white throne, while "Miss America 1925" was settling the glittering crown upon her head while the tumult of the acclaim of 10,000 people surged in one overwhelming wave, backstage, "Miss Washington" was laying claim to the honor of being a dead-game sport.

Tears trembled on her lashes, her mouth jerked with the effort to smile and take the blow standing.

"It's hard to be so close and not win," she said. "But I am glad she won. Miss Tulsa is beautiful—beautiful." The south's prettiest girl wasn't on parade any longer and she huddled within the arms of first Miss Lansing and then Miss Baltimore, sobbing with exhaustion and disappointment.

Miss Tulsa won out over a field of 53 girls gathered from all over the United States. The choice of the judges had narrowed down to a blonde and a brunette. Even before the final two were selected—when, while technically five were to be voted for, yet only four were considered—it was the golden girl against her darker sister. Miss Washington and Miss Greater New York are blondes; Miss Tulsa and Miss Denver are brunettes. The final two wear their hair long, those eliminated are bobbed.

Eldest of Two Sisters.

Miss Tulsa is the eldest of two sisters. Her father was killed in an automobile accident in California five years ago and her mother has re-married. She is now Mrs. W. A. Dickerson of Tulsa.

Miss Tulsa is a sophomore at the Oklahoma Women's college, majoring in art and expects to complete her course.

The new Miss America has been honored as no other. She has carried off the two highest prizes—that of best dressed girl in evening clothes and the supreme recognition—the first time in the history of the pageant that this has been so. She also took the first prize in her section in the bathers' revue.

"This is a greater honor than I ever hoped to achieve," said Miss Smallwood. "I didn't want to enter the contest at home in the first place, but was coaxed to do so. No girl would be a girl and not be supremely happy. But I don't know what I'm going to do, except maybe to get a good night's sleep. This business of being a queen is a rigorous one. Of course, I shall finish my art course at college. But now that I am 'Miss America'—I guess I better think everything over before I make any definite decisions."

Miss Tulsa rides extremely well, plays hockey and swims.

The tangible evidences of her victory are a $5,000 golden mermaid, a permanent trophy, a $1,000 diamond wrist-watch and the Edna Wallace Hopper silver loving cup.

Today marks the official close of the pageant, although the beauties remain the guests of Atlantic City over the week-end.

Middle Atlantic section—Philadelphia first, Orange second, Union City, N. J., third.

Southern section — Baltimore first, New Orleans second, Huntington, W. Va., third.

It was estimated that a quarter of a million people saw the parade. It was delayed slightly towards the close when a private stand collapsed. Twenty people received minor cuts and bruises.

Mother Voices Pride

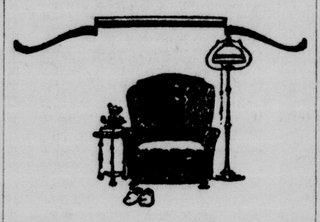

ALTON, Ill., Sept. 11.—Mrs. Bertha Joesting, a widow, voiced her pride today that she is the mother of one of the Atlantic City beauty contest winners. Her daughter, Marjorie, as "Miss Washington, D. C.," was awarded second prize.

"I am proud to be Marjorie's mother," said Mrs. Joesting, "Marjorie has always been a good sweet girl, and she deserved to win."

She excelled in dancing, according to Mrs. Joesting, in 1922, joined Ziegfeld's "Sally."

"But Marjorie left the stage," her mother explained, "after listening to a sermon at the Little Church Around the Corner in New York."

Prospects For Fair Here Are Very Good

New Castle Fair To Be Staged This Year On Largest Scale In History

Indications are that the New Castle Fair this year will be the biggest in the history of the association since its first exposition held in 1920. More concessions, a great number of racing entries and the addition of a night fair combine to strengthen the belief that the New Castle Fair will surpass its former record for attractions.

The Fair officials are all looking forward to a large attendance. The Fair dates, September 28, 29, 30 and October 1 were decided upon with a view to having the best weather possible and if the weather holds good the attendance is expected to exceed all former records.

the hands of normal people. Until then we expect to hold our organization intact, ready to take up the work under the new governor."

Board Organized in 1921.

The advisory board was organized in 1921, when Insurance Commissioner McCullough approved it. The purpose of the board was to have insurance men of character and ability in the various counties pass upon the requirements of a candidate for an insurance license. Before he could be granted a license he must first demonstrate his knowledge of the insurance contracts he expects to sell, and also his integrity. Through the advisory board, it was possible to keep out of the insurance field shysters and incapable agents.

Under the ruling of Commissioner Barfod, this system of licensing agents by mail.

The State Insurance Federation is bitterly incensed over the action of Barfod, and at the next meeting of the executive committee in Philadelphia, it is expected that some steps will be taken.

RE-ENACT SCENES IN HALL-MILLS MURDER

nesses to identify the voices they confessed to hearing.

Late last night, with the moon hanging in about the same position as it did on a similar night, four years ago, when the Rev. Edward Hall and his choir singer were shot to death, Miss Rastall revisited the now famous Phillips farm, the scene of the murder, and saw the crime re-enacted by detectives. The purpose of the play acting was an attempt on the part of the police, to get her reactions under conditions similar to those that prevailed on the murder night, September 14, 1922.

Miss Rastall appeared highly nervous as she stood near the "scene".

Authorities were highly elated over the fact that Gorsline's story corroberates the testimony of Jane Gibson, so-called "Pig Woman", star witness for the state.

Two More Speeders Pay Usual Fines

Wilmington Avenue And Liberty Street Scene Of Reported Violations

There is hardly a day, now, but that some motorist, who has forgotten to keep within the speed permitted on the streets of the city, does not appear in police court and pay a fine of $10.

John Riley was going just faster than necessary and much faster than the speed regulations of the city permit, when he was stopped by Motorcycle Officer Criswell on Wilmington avenue, and ordered into the police station. He paid a fine of $10.

Norman Brumeister was driving fast and also neglected to observe the barricades placed on Liberty street, while repairs were being made and as a result was ordered into the police station by Officer Allgier. He drove over the section of Liberty street between Clayton street and Wabash avenue where repairs were being made and through the barricades. He paid a fine of $10.

fice in Chigi palace. He went about his work as usual.

Crowds gathered in the Piazza Colonna before Chigi palace and cheered Mussolini, while others knelt in nearby churches and shrines and offered up prayers of thanks for the deliverance of the premier.

The premier continued at his desk and word came forth from his offices that he felt that the citizens should go about their work as usual, and the word was quickly passed that there should be no demonstrations or reprisals.

While no official statement has been made as to Giovanni's affiliations, it is reported that he has been identified as a member of the Italian Communist party.

The police state that only four pedestrians were injured by the exploding bomb, but it is reported that as many as eight persons suffered injuries of varying degrees.

Twelve pedestrians in the Plaza suffered injuries.

Giovanni was immediately seized, and it was only with the greatest difficulty that he was saved from being lynched.

Rome, as soon as the news of the escape of the premier spread, gave itself up to city-wide demonstrations and celebrations.

Although reprisals were feared, an appeal issued by the Fascist party, at the direction of the premier, warned against reprisals, and there have been no untoward incidents reported as yet.

"BROKE," MAN KILLS SELF BEFORE MONEY SENT FOR ARRIVES

ALTOONA, Pa., Sept. 11.—When Andrew Holzman of Seattle, Wash., was arrested in this city a few days ago, practically penniless he told police he had requested the State National Bank of Snoqualmie, Wash., to telegraph him $75. The police paid little attention. That night Holzman committed suicide in his cell at the city lockup. This morning the First National Bank of this city, through the Western Union Telegraph Company, received the remittance of $75. It will be used to help defray the funeral expenses of the man.

Trinity Rector And Family Return

Report Pleasant Summer Vacation At Eastern Points And Sesqui-Centennial

Rev. Philip C. Pearson, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, his wife and son Philip, Jr., returned home last evening after a two months' vacation, most of which time was spent at St. Hubert's, the Ausable club and other points in the Adirondack mountains. The trip was made by automobile and Boston and other New England points were included in the itinerary. They report a most enjoyable time.

Enroute home they spent six days at the Sesqui-Centennial at Philadelphia and report that the big exposition is now complete and one of the most interesting exhibits that it is possible to see. From an educational standpoint, it is wonderful, they report.

Among the more interesting things seen at the exposition was the pageant "Freedom," in which 2,500 persons take part and which depicts the effort of man to gain freedom from the stone age until the present day.

Another thing of interest was the Baltimore and Ohio locomotive, which was on exhibition at the Centennial in 1876, which was run to Philadelphia for the sesqui-centennial under its own steam.

Rev. Pearson will resume his duties Sunday and be in charge of the services.

WHY SMITH'S MASTER CLEANED CLOTHING STAYS CLEAN LONGER

Smith's Master Cleaned Clothing stays clean longer. This reason is plain. At the Smith Master Dry Cleaning Works every article to be cleaned is washed in a continuous flow of purified cleaning solvent until every particle of impurities is entirely removed. By means of the continuous flow system the impurities are washed away and the solvent purified before being used again. A deordorizing process eliminates the gasoline smell and clothing is as clean and fresh as when new after Smith's Master Dry Cleaning. New clothes stay clean for a long time, and Smith's Master Dry Cleaning restoring newness gives clothes new life through cleanliness.

September is a month when great care is needed to keep clothing looking clean and presentable. Around the house, besides clothes, there are many things that need cleaning now. Tapestries, draperies, hangings, carpets, rugs, blankets, comforts and bed spreads can be refreshed by periodical dry cleaning. Particularly at this time should you send your hats, which represent a considerable investment, for renewal. Gloves and ties also can be restored to original condition.

Smith's Master Dry Cleaning is the ideal cleaning for everything. Call 885 and a truck will call for your clothing and return it to you wrapped in a sanitary bag. Every article is insured to protect you. Call 885 for the super service Smith's Master Dyers and Cleaners give.

Diamonds Worth While

When you next buy a Diamond be sure you are spending your money wisely.

The market is always flooded with poor quality diamonds which are seldom worth what you pay for them.

On the other hand, fine quality, perfect diamonds are scarce and have the most dependable value of any commodity in the world.

You don't have to go away from home to buy good diamonds. We specialize in the finest quality—absolutely perfect diamonds. Our values not equalled anywhere.

FORTUNES THAT GO BACK TO THE PEOPLE

THE widow of the great grandson of John Jacob Astor has died in New York, leaving an estate of nearly $10,000,000, practically all of which is to go to public uses.

Columbia University and the Home for Incurables receive a million dollars each and the remainder is divided among educational, charitable, religious and other institutions which have been organized to help those who are not in a position to help themselves. Even the Prison Association, formed to aid convicts who desire to rehabilitate themselves, is given a modest bequest. The terms of the will have been carefully and thoughtfully drawn, and it is significant that the amounts left to relatives total only $800,000 — just enough to serve their purpose and not enough for wild extravagance.

There is food for thought in the filing of this interesting document, suggests the Philadelphia Inquirer. It is not the first time that vast sums of money have been left for public uses, and it is another reminder that great fortunes, as a rule, go back to the people. Many men and women dispense their wealth freely while alive and others leave it to worthy causes after their death. The list of large public benefactions during the year 1925 fills eight columns of small type in the World Almanac. Those of the present year promise to be still more numerous. The Rockefeller and Carnegie Foundations are systematically disbursing the money given by these philanthropists. In many cases they afford boys and girls opportunities which were not possessed by these millionaires.

Those who complain of the uneven distribution of wealth forget that in countless instances rich men act as trustees for those who have not had the industry or the ability to accumulate money for themselves. But even where fortunes are not given away for charity or education they are broken up on the death of their possessors and divided into many parts. Great wealth is not always a blessing; it has its cares and responsibilities, but in this country at least it is ultimately more widely distributed that most of us imagine.

NO MORE GENERAL STRIKES

WHATEVER the leaders may think, the rank and file of British labor has had enough of the general strike. The proposal to give the General Council power to call out labor organizations for partial or complete stoppage of work was voted down by an overwhelming majority at the Trades Union Congress at Bournemouth.

The general strike in May did not last long enough to create the suffering that would have ensued had it continued, though the losses it inflicted were staggering. But the warning as to the evil potentialities of such an industrial weapon was none the less impressive. Furthermore, it was plainly shown that the British people would never be terrorized by these tactics. It is gratifying to find that the lesson has been learned.

LIFE MORE LIVABLE

THE assertion that Americans are motor mad, that we are sorely afflicted with "acute motoritis," may be a clever one, but aside from mere cleverness in phrasing it does not add anything to the discussion. It may be held that just as we were once "bike crazy" so we have now gone wild over the automobile, but this would not be true.

In a great measure the bicycle was given up by people who took to the motor car as a more effective means of getting about; at least those that could afford it did so. And just as they used the two-speed vehicle to expedite the business of the day, so these persons are this day using the motor car for many things besides pleasure rides. For many people the ownership of an automobile merely means that they can carry on with more dispatch the business of the day.

If it is analyzed correctly what this increase in motor cars means is that we have raised fairly generally our standard of living. No doubt the phenomenon would surprise anyone who had left the civilized world 40 years ago and came back to it today.

But he would be surprised at more than the number of motor vehicles now to be seen on the streets. He would be surprised at the number of so-called luxuries which have become necessities among us. And all these so-called luxuries have made life more livable; they have extended our reach and raised life from the plane of the primitive.

The development of the automobile and its increasing use is only one more indication that our standard of living has been raised. We know what we want and, even at the cost of some little hardship, if that is necessary, we are going to get it.

We may call it "motorists" if we like, but the point is that it is a good thing to have, and that it will endure until something better than the motor car makes its appearance. And then we shall go in for that.

Rt. Rev. Thomas J. Shahan, who today enters upon his 70th year, is one of the fore-most Catholic educators in America. For seventeen years he has been rector of the Catholic University of America and during the same period, save for a brief interval, he has held the presidency of the Catholic Educational Association. Bishop Shahan is a native of Manchester, N. H., and received his education at Montreal college and at the American College in Rome. For five years after his ordination he was connected with the diocese of Hartford, Conn. In 1891 he was called to the Catholic University as professor of church history and patrology, which position he occupied until appointed rector of the institution in 1909. In 1914 he was consecrated bishop of Germanicopolis in the Baltimore cathedral by Cardinal Gibbons.

After this summer's experience with daylight saving by New Castle, before we go into it again an effort should be made to make it more unanimous in Western Pennsylvania. Only a few places have it and very few cities outside of the large cities have it. No city between here and Erie has it, but Erie has it. No cities between Pittsburgh and Philadelphia have it. Even in the Seventh Ward in this city it is not being used and it has caused a lot of embarrassment and daylight saving is considered more or less of a nuisance by those who are active in this community and get away from it once in a while long enough to see what other people are doing.

GOD, LET ME GIVE—

God, let me be a giver, and not one
Who only takes and takes unceasingly.
God let me give, so that not just my own,
But others' lives as well, may richer be.

Let me give out whatever I may hold
Of what material things life may be reaping,
Let me give raiment, shelter, food, or gold,
If these are through Thy bounty, in my keeping.

But greater than such fleeting treasures may
I give my faith and hope and cheerfulness,
Belief and dreams and joy and laughter gay
Some lonely soul to bless.

Who says there is no such thing as conscience? When I went to bed the other night, I left my coat where I had thrown it on the sitting room sofa. Crime Costs Money.
Wealth in the Sea.
Are You Resilient?
We have Slumped.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1926, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

Louis Siebold says crime costs the United States ten thousand million dollars a year, three and a half billions that criminals steal, six and a half billions spent on police, insurance against theft, prisons, criminal courts, etc.

Justice Victor J. Dowling of New York attributed our crime wave to the "wreckage of the war," which wrecks men physically and morally. Young men were told that killing somebody you never saw before across the ocean is a noble deed. A certain number, feeble-minded, concluded that if it is all right to kill for Uncle Sam it's all right to kill for their own pocketbooks. It will take some time to get over that.

Everything depends on your period and your cause. Farmer Holben of Pennsylvania, fined $2, said that it was unjust, he would never pay, killed a sheriff and his deputy sent to get him, and was shot to death afterward. His wife said "God would protect him".

Thirteen hundred years ago, William Tell, Swiss farmer, thought he was unjustly treated by Gessler, the Austrian governor, who, according to the legend, which isn't true, made everybody bow to his hat hung on a pole. Tell killed Gessler after shooting the apple from his boy's head, and he is the hero of Switzerland.

Mrs. Koppel lost a $3,000 diamond bracelet swimming in the ocean. Mr. Mayes, swimming teacher, dived and found it.

The tyrant of Samos lost his valuable ring overboard. His cook found it in a fish's stomach. Every German boy learns a poem about that. Er stand auf seines daches, zinnen, etc.

A good old saint in the ancient legend lost his crucifix overboard in a stormy sea. When he landed on the beach a crab came out of the water and handed the crucifix to him.

All interesting, but nothing compared to wealth that will be brought from the sea when submarines are perfected. One intelligent prospector is searching the bed of the ocean through glass in the bottom of a specially built submarine which recently traveled from Holland to San Francisco.

Where the ocean is now, dry land once was. Where dry land is, the ocean was. England's chalk cliffs were the bottom of the sea once. Oil wells are operated below the water of the Pacific. The old prospector went climbing over mountains on his little donkey. In future centuries he'll explore the ocean's deep valleys by submarine.

Wonderful is resiliency in man or material. If you bounce up after you are squeezed down, nothing can keep you down. If you stay flat when you are squeezed flat, you don't go far. That's why our Jewish friends succeed. They possess resiliency.

Scientists are searching vainly for synthetic rubber. Its discovery would be worth billions to the world. Synthetic elasticity for the human mind and courage would be even more valuable.

By the way, if any young man can find a way to "reverse the vulcanizing process of rubber," making old rubber as good as new rubber, as old iron is made good as new, that young man will realize the ambitions of millions, and get enough cash to make Paris and Palm Beach take notice.

Opening the American Legion convention at Niagara Falls last night, Theodore Roosevelt said: "Since the war we have slumped. A great wave of material prosperity has swept the country. Men and women are thinking simply in terms of dollars and cents, automobiles and creature comforts."

Although a Republican, with a capital R, Mr. Roosevelt attacks Republican money-spending at elections in Pennsylvania and elsewhere.

He would be the strongest vote-getter the Republicans could nominate for governor in New York state this fall. But the owners of the Republican party don't want him, as they didn't want his father. To get rid of the father and "shelve him" they made him vice president. You know what happened.

"The Democrats are overjoyed at Lenroot's defeat in Wisconsin. It will make trouble for the Coolidge regime."

It may make more trouble for interests that control many Democrats in the senate.

Blaine is a Democrat in the real sense of the word, although in the Republican party. He is an uncomfortable person who thinks this country should be run by the 115 millions that live and work in it, not by the few that sign the big checks. Such a man will disturb Democrats as well as Republicans in the senate.

The country is prosperous, there is lots of money. Wall street was happy yesterday. Borrowers, to quote the street, "literally had money pushed at them".

Mr. Mellon needing 350 millions offered only 3½ per cent interest. The whole issue was over-subscribed in advance.

We have lots of gold. But we haven't any flying fleet. One of these days those that have the flying fleets may have our money and give us experience in exchange.

Bathing ladies of Biarritz may presently miss an ear. Fashion says they must wear rubber earrings, brilliantly colored; also highly colored kid or satin shoes. If fish in the sea, like trout in the streams, are attracted by brilliant colors, earrings and slippers may cost some charming intellectual bather an ear or a foot.

Chicago's trade union college, according to Miss Herstein, chairman, purpose to add "charm and grace of manner" to the college curriculum.

The public laughs and shows the esteem in which labor is really held in this glorious democracy. Yet everything comes from labor originally.

Englishmen like to think that they descend from William the Conqueror. His mother was a tanner's daughter, washing clothes in the brook, when the Duke of Normandy first saw her.

Leonardo Da Vinci, illegitimate son of a poor peasant woman, supported his aristocratic half brothers and sisters, born of a mother whose position "made it impossible for his father to marry her".

A Mother's Counsel

"There is sin in the world," said the mother wise,
"but be you brave and true
And never the joy shall quit your eyes
Or the sin bring hurt to you.

"There are those in the world who would betray.
But be you not afraid,
If you hearken not to what tempters say
You shall never be betrayed.

"This life knows much that is red with shame,
But, daughter of mine, be true
And the words which poison a woman's fame
Shall never be said of you.

"For you may walk where the sinners are
If your heart be pure within,
And whether the road be short or far
You shall never be touched by sin."

IF YOU REFUSE—

SEPT 11 .....

To be generous do not complain if your money gives you no pleasure.
To be tolerant do not complain if you are the victiim of prejudice.
To be open minded do not be surprised if much truth is closed to you.
To be loyal do not be surprised if some one else is at your desk some morning.
To be faithful do not except your cleverness to atone for it.
To be consistent do not expect your children to overlook it.
To be patient you will lose many fine prospects.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

FINE WORK—FINE WORKMEN.

There is more to the steel industry than great blast furnaces, long lines of open hearth furnaces, great molding pots, cranes, crucibles, ladles, giant roll trains, fiery heat, and Gargunthian shadows. There is also the watch spring and the tempered springs, steel finer even than that found in the watch spring. An American steel company recently booked an order which demonstrates that great size only represents one phase of production. The order was for nearly four miles of material. Altogether the finished product weighed but ten pounds. It was for strip steel one eighth inch in width, and less than one-thousandth of an inch thick. It was an order for the smallest cross section ever rolled on a commercial basis. These four miles of spring steel were to be used as a part of a very delicate weaving machine, and the price was $75 a pound.

Although strip steel is commonly rolled in this country thinner than ordinary paper, and accurate to one thousandth of an inch, it was necessary to entrust the production of this to a firm in Sweden. The delicate task of rolling was done by a master craftsman, 77 years of age. He was helped by a younger understudy, a man of only 50. Both of these men have worked for the firm employing them since they were fourteen years of age. They have devoted their lives not only to the mastery of the art of rolling steel with the finest of finishes and the utmost accuracy, but they have remained in the employment of one firm all these years.

An American workman who has worked for one man sixty three years is not easy to find. Are there any such in Lawrence County?

Dr. Crane's Editorial

THE BASIS OF MARRIAGE

Mrs. Mary Borden, alias Mrs. Sears, an American novelist, in a lecture on international psychology in London, some time ago, deplored sentiment as the sole basis of marriage. She pointed out that in America love making and sentiments were the usual precedents of marriage, and the consequence was much after marriage estrangement.

With the French, on the contrary, and the Europeans generally, happy marriages were more common than in America because economic well being considered the proper basis of married life.

It is all too true that sentiment alone should not dominate in marriage. But then, on the other hand, neither should economic considerations dominate.

The best system seems perhaps to be a blending of the two. There should be enough sentiment to render the contract agreeable and tolerable, but it should be recognized that this sentiment is useless without a sound economic basis.

Among Americans the matter is attended to by the young people themselves almost entirely, while in France, for instance, the parents have much to do with the case.

There is no reason why a girl or boy about to be married should not take the advice of the parents. They are older and wiser and their experience ought to mean something. That the parents should entirely control the matter is contrary to American convictions. But that the young people themselves should manage the whole business does not seem to be reasonable.

A little more tractability on both sides perhaps would be advantageous. Parents should consider the feelings and preferences of the child, while on the other hand the child should consider the advice of the parents. If the two points of view in the case were properly coordinated the insurance of a happy marriage would be greater.

Many a marriage which is undertaken purely from sentimental reasons has speedily gone upon the rocks. Where one's individuality is so pronounced that he decides the whole matter for himself, that individuality may later lead him to go his own way after marriage without consulting the feeling of his wife, and a divorce or seperation may ensue.

The best way is to take all the elements in the case into consideration. Sentiment is to be reckoned with, since the basis of our happiness is always sentimental to a degree, while on the other hand economic reasons should not be disregarded, for much of our well being depends upon our means.

POEMS HOVE — BY CHARLES HANSON TOWNE

"I Am The Wind," by Zoe Akins.

Fine a playwright as Miss Akins is, she is an even better poet; and the pity of it is that she gives us of late so few metrical expressions. In her love poems she frequently rises to an exalted plane and if the drama did not so insistently call to her she might do big things in the realm of song.

I am the wind that wavers,
You are the certain land;
I am the shadow that passes
Over the sand.

I am the leaf that quivers,
You the unshaken tree;
You are the stars that are steadfast,
I am the sea.

You are the light eternal—
Like a torch I shall die;
You are the surge of deep music,
I but a cry!

Blue Prevailing Color For Fall

Suits, Topcoats And Hats For London Men Displayed In New Shade Blue

PRINCE OF WALES LEADS IN STYLE

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Sept. 11.—This Fall is going to be a very blue one for fashionable London men-about-town, according to the early hints of London tailors. "Plumblue," "China Blue," and "Madonna Blue," are among the new colors threatened for suits, topcoats, and hats.

Sir Phillip Sassoon, one of England's richest and most eligible bachelors, is already affecting suits of these shades, and the Prince of Wales was observed coming out of York House the other day in a near-blue turn-down hat.

These three shades of blue, according to the tailors, are to be the leading colors, because they tone well with other shades. Shades for hats in a list that reads more like a dressmaker's than a hatter's include Bordeaux, Chili and Azalea, three tones of red, cedarwood and buff, and lilac, storm-gray, chamois and sage.

London's literary coterie is already excited over H. G. Well's new novel, "The World of Mr. Clissold," the first volume of which is due to be published in September, and the other two volumes at monthly intervals.

Wells' publishers have made an arbitrary innovation for London, sending the book to the reviewers three weeks before the date of publication. Several well-known English people who are still living are said to be portrayed in the new book.

Tmericans trekked to the North for the grouse shooting season in greater numbers than ever this season, according to the tourist agencies, railroads and leading hotels. Terrific prices are reported to have been paid for the pleasure of renting several of the more famous Scottish moors, much to the displeasure of many English sportsmen, who complain that the Americans—with their freedom with money—are forcing up prices to an unprecedented extent.

Pierpont Morgan was one of the many distinguished Americans who made the journey North, while others who rented moors were Viscountess Furness, the former Thelma Morgan Converse, Jardine Bell Whyte of New York, J. L. Steers of Boston and his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Glorney of Boston.

Many Americans unable to make the trip North emulated the English gourments by having grouse sent down by airplane a few hours after the official shooting esason opened.

Prominent hoteliers and storekeepers estimate that London hotels and stores benefited to the tune of five million dollars a day by the anti-American demonstrations in Paris, many Americans having cancelled proposed trips to France and devoting longer time to London and England through the fear of being involved in "incidents."

The whole of the English Royal Family is now vacationing. King George and Queen Mary are leading the simple life at Balmoral, the Prince of Wales is spending his time between London and visits to Sandwich for golf, and other members of the Royal Family are at their respective country homes for shooting, walking and deer-stalking.

London society circles credit Prince Henry, third son of King George and Queen Mary, with the intention of taking unto himself a bride in the very near future. The names of a young Scandinavian princess and an accomplished daughter of an English peer, a distant relation of the Royal Family, are being mentioned.

(International News Service)
KITTANNING, Pa., Sept. 11.—Two hundred clergymen and laymen were in attendance today at the 93rd session of the Pittsburgh conference, Methodist Episcopal church, which includes the territory of southwestern Pennsylvania, northern West Virginia and eastern Ohio.

Officers for the ensuing term are Rev. Dr. J. C. Bloomfield, Pittsburgh, traveling president; Rev. A. J. Green, Pittsburgh, secretary; Rev. C. M. Smith, New Brighton, journal clerk; Rev. O. M. Bolton, Dunbar, statistical secretary, and Rev. H. M. Peterson, Fordyce, treasurer.

A proposal to raise $500,000 for Adrian college is under consideration by the conference, which ends its session next Monday.

Garment Makers Organize Strike

(International News Service)
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 11.—Battle lines of the International Garment Makers' Union have been extended seventy-five miles eastward from the seat of their strike war in New York.

Pickets are stationed in New Haven where city officials have ordered them to give up their task while their leaders are urging them to stand firm and make a court test of the right for peaceful picketing. Stamford has had several legal engagements as a result of the great New York strike.

Workhouse For All Wife Beaters

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 11. — Wife beating, a popular indoor sport in Pittsburgh, according to court records, must stop, Magistrate A. D. Brandon has ruled.

Long workhouse sentences will replace fines as the penalty for wife beating the magistrate has announced.

Four men started serving terms in the workhouse today, the first convicted wife beaters to feel the effect of the new edict.

Rev. S. H. Moore To Preach At Central

Rev. S. H. Moore, of Eustice, Fla., former pastor, will preach at the services in the Central Presbyterian church on Sunday morning and evening. These will be the last services in the church, prior to the coming of the new pastor, Dr. C. B. Wingerd, who takes up his duties one week from Sunday, at the Central church.

There is every indication for a most encouraging winter at the Central church.

No nation is as bad as its rich tourists. France will like us better when the American Legion meets in Paris next year.

Ice For Iceland

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—What looks like the coldest business deal in history has just been put over by an European firm which obtained a government concession for construction of a refrigeration plant in Iceland.

According to a report to the Department of Commerce today from United States Consul Maurice C. Pierce, at Bergen, Norway, the Iceland government will give its full support to the project. The new ice plant is to be located at Reykjavik.

Iceland heretofore has worried along on natural ice of which it is reported to have a considerable supply.

If the undertaking is successful it was reported that the concessionaries would negotiate for bathing beach rights at the North Pole.

Church School To Resume Sunday At Trinity Church

Sessions will be resumed tomorrow at Trinity church school. The fifth and higher grades will meet at their regular time, 9:30 a. m., and the primary classes up through the fourth grade will assemble at 11:00 a. m.

For a number of years it has been the custom of the school to close for a period during the summer vacation, re-opening when the public schools re-open for the fall term. It has been found that a gain is made in enthusiasm and interest on the part of both teachers and pupils by means of this plan.

A good attendance is anticipated for this first meeting of the new school year.

NEGRO CONVICT PAYS PENALTY

(International News Service)
MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., Sept. 11—The unclaimed body of Henry Jackson, negro, who was hanged last night at the state penitentiary, was buried here today.

Jackson was executed for the murder of Earl Langfitt of Parkersburg, a prison guard. He was serving a life term for murder at the time he killed the guard.

Twelve persons, the smallest audience in the history of the prison, witnessed the execution. Jackson was dead 12 minutes after the trap was sprung.

"God bless my soul," was Jackson's last remark.

Two Tennis Matches Played On Friday

At 3 o'clock Friday afternoon Florence Waddington met with Helen Galant to play off the second match of the Y. W. C. A. tennis tournament. The girls played three hard sets of tennis which lasted for one hour and 55 minutes, with a two-minute rest between the first and second sets and five-minute rest between the second and third sets. The girls were quite evenly match, however Miss Galant warmed up to the game while Miss Waddington was not up to her customary standard. First set, Florence Waddington, games, 6-4; second, Helen Galant, games, 6-2; third, Helen Galant, games, 6-1.

The third match of the tourney, between Ruth Jamison and Floy Owens, began at 5:45 p. m. Friday and ended at 7:45, with two hours of real playing. This match also called for three sets to determine the winner. First set, Ruth Jamison, games, 6-2; second set, Floy Owens, games, 8-6; third set, Floy Owens, games, 6-2. Miss Jamison had the better serve of the two, while Miss Owens gained on her return balls. In the second set, "games all" was scored no less than four times, which indicates that the girls were quite equal.

The match between Ruby Niemi and Mrs. Aileen Stone, postponed Friday will be played Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock. This match promises some keen entertainment. All games are being played at the Carnegie playground court.

Teacher Training Class To Graduate

Members of the Teacher Training class of the Highland United Presbyterian church, taught by Mrs. George W. Conway, will be graduated in connection with the services at the church on Sunday morning. The young ladies have completed the course of training and will receive diplomas at this time.

No Longer Smoky!

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 11.—Pittsburgh has temporarily lost its nationally known nickname of "Smoky City" according to W. S. Brotzman, local meteorologist. Skies as clear as those in any part of the nation are in order this week, he announced today. Friday the skies above Pittsburgh were officially recorded as being the clearest east of Denver.

FOUR ARE HELD FOR THEFT OF FREIGHT GOODS

Four Charged With Theft Of Interstate Shipments Of Merchandise

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 11.—Charges of thefts of interstate shipments of merchandise today were filed against Orville Cartwright, 40, a Pennsylvania railroad freight conductor, of Dennison, O., George W. Andrews, 35, Pittsburgh restaurant owner, his wife, Margaret, 34, and Earl Baker, 33, of Dennison, in Carnegie, Pa., police court. The four were charged with being implicated in the theft of $4,000 in merchandise over a period of four months.

Andrews, his wife and Baker, arrested by Carnegie police after a gun battle which followed pursuit of Andrew's car, mentioned Cartwright in subsequent questioning, and the conductor was arrested.

Andrews, in the information filed against him, is accused of acting as a "fence" in disposing of merchandise which police allege was taken from freight cars after the seals were broken by other members of the gang.

Carnegie police held the four to await action by Federal authorities.

Silk goods and other merchandise valued at $400, which police said was found in Andrews' car, was held as evidence.

SHARON TEAM TO COME HERE

Noted Degree Team Of Sharon P. H. C. Coming In October

Members of New Castle Circle No. 5, P. H. C., who have witnessed the beautiful floorwork of the Sharon degree team will be pleased to know of a delightful event now in progress for a visit from this crack team from the parent circle and a splendid program under the direction of the Guardian of No. 1. This was decided at the session held on Thursday night when the local circle accepted the invitation from Sharon to exchange programs for the "good of the order" in both circles.

The session will be held some time in October, when the Sharon team will initiate a big class for No. 5 and put on their wonderful drill, followed with a program presenting Sharon's finest talent.

The Knickerbocker team of New Castle will return the courtesy, intating a large class for Sharon, presenting a program of unusual merit.

The session of Thursday night was a busy one. The fall and winter plans for social events promise to bring out the usual splendid gathering of the membership.

Supreme Auditor Dr. R. G. Baird of Sharon and several of the service men now working in the city in the interests of the order, gave brief addresses along insurance lines and a social hour closed the interesting session held by No. 5.

LILLY B. JONES,
Secretary.

Three boys, Jonathan Brown, Oliver Brown and Ray Atkinson, were voted into membership at the meeting of First Presbyterian Troop No. 17, Boy Scouts, held Friday evening at the church. Scoutmaster Shultz presided. David Ritchie and Fred Foster led the meeting in pep songs.

Following the meeting a number of the scouts adjourned to the Y. M. C. A. swimming pool where they practiced for swimming tests.

A New Remedy

Thompson's Barosma Kidney Tablets

Are the result of a great deal of medical research and study.

Thompson's Kidney Tablets are composed of the drugs that have proved themselves in past years the most efficacious for kidney and bladder diseases, combined with the newly discovered drugs and chemicals that have made great advancement in the treatment of the kidneys and bladder. They also act upon the liver.

If you have any indication of kidney, liver or bladder trouble, backache, sideache, sallow complexion or nervousness, we want you to try the Tablets on these liberal terms: Purchase a box of Thompson's Barosma Kidney Tablets from your druggist and if you are not greatly benefited after taking the tablets, return the empty box to him and we will authorize him to cheerfully return your money. Price 50 cents.

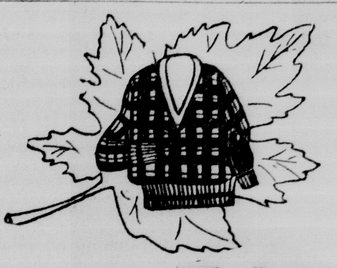

If you are constipated or bilious take one of the Golden Lax tablets at bedtime. 25 cents per box.

International Sunday School Lesson

Notes On Lesson By

George M. Landis, Pastor First Baptist Church, New Castle.

OBEDIENCE TO LAW (Temperance Lesson)

Lev. 26:5; 14-20

Golden Text: "Do not drink wine nor strong drink, thou, nor thy sons with thee." (Lev. 10:9).

In an accommodated sense only can this portion of Scripture fulfill the evident purpose of the international committee, i. e., to teach obedience to our national prohibition laws. Let it always be remembered that these words were spoken to the theocratic nation Israel, which was in covenant relationship to Jehovah. Israel, an earthly people, was at this time under the covenant of the law, which conditioned all temporal blessings, personal as well as national, upon strict obedience to that law.

In striking contrast to Israel is the church, a heavenly body, under the unconditional covenant of grace, which gives a much more distinctive place to the individual. Heavenly rather than earthly blessings are held before the eyes of the church as an incentive to loving obedience and service (Rom. 8: 17-18; John 17:24; Eph. 1:3; 2:6-7; Phil. 3: 20-21; Heb. 12:18-24; I Pet. 1: 3-5). While the Christian has the assurance that his needs will be supplied (Phil. 4:19), he is also warned that in this world he may expect tribulation, persecution and affliction (John 15:18-21; 16: 33; II Cor. 11:24-27; II Tim. 2: 12).

On the other hand, certain eternal principles of God's governmental dealings are enunciated in this passage, which are operative in every age. Obedience to the laws of God, whether found in His Word, on the statute books of the nation, or in the realm of nature; always brings health, happiness and blessing. History shows that those nations which have been most obedient to the laws of God, either in regard to worship or morals, have been blessed and prospered above all other nations of the earth.

I. "BLESSED ARE THEY THAT KEEP HIS TESTIMONIES" (Psa. 119:2; Lev. 26:3-5).

1. The supreme reason for obedience is because God commands it. Jehovah himself is the antecedent of the pronoun "my" in verse three. Above all rules and regulations of man are the statues and commandments of God. The majesty of the law-giver demands obedience. Because of who He is, God has the absolute right to make laws for His creatures.

With the Christian the supreme motive for obeying God is love rather than fear (John 14:15). The child of God obeys God, not only because of who He is in His majestic glory; but because of what He did in His matchless grace. We obey Him because we love Him, and we love Him because He first loved us (I Jn. 4:19) and gave Himself up for us (Gal. 2:20).

2. The secondary reason for obedience is to gain the promised blessings. God promised unlimited productivity and unquestionable protection to Israel if His laws were obeyed. Subsequent history demonstrates that periods of national obedience in Israel were periods of plenty. During these times her cities were safe and her armies were victorious. As the child of God walks in the spirit and feeds upon the Word, his soul becomes fat, the riches of grace unfold before him and he gains the victory over the adversary.

II. "THE WAY OF THE TRANSGRESSOR IS HARD" (Prov. 13:15; Rev. 26:14-20).

Having commanded obedience, God now in faithfulness fortold the frightful effects of disobedience. We see in this lesson both the "goodness and the severity of God" (Rom. 11:22). Let us observe:

1. The course of disobedience (vs. 14-15). There is progress in lawlessness. Man goes from God by definite steps downward (Psa. 1:1). Note the steps:

(a) Failure to hear God's Word—"If ye will not hearken unto Me" (vs. 15). This condition is generally due to neglect of God's Word and worship. How frequently we become so occupied with our prosperity that we do not take the time to study God's Word and meditate upon it. We must read His Word to know His will.

(b) Failure to obey God's Word—"And will not do all these commandments". Those who forget to hear soon forget to do. One of the most prolific causes of disobedience is the fact that the Word of God no longer has the supreme place in many hearts and homes. Not only should "all" the counsels of God be declared (Acts 20:27), but "all" should be obeyed. We have no right to select certain portions to believe and obey and reject other portions which we may not like.

(c) Disapproval of God's Word—"And if ye shall despise (reject) my statutes" (vs. 15). Those who disregard and disobey God ever seek for some excuse for so doing. Hence an effort is made to disprove and disapprove the Scriptures and show that they are not inspired and are contrary to the superior claims of intelligence. This attitude is seen in many exponents of the so-called "modernistic school".

(d) Despising of God's Word—"And if your soul abhor my judgments" (vs. 15). Rejection is soon followed by revulsion (Rom. 1:28). In many circles today the Bible is held up to contempt. It is little wonder that the laws of man are despised when the laws of the Almighty are scorned.

(e) Covenant breaking—"that ye break my covenant" (vs. 15). Men who break faith with God will soon break faith with their fellow men. The nations which regard God's Word as a "scrap of paper" will soon regard their sacred national agreements in the same light (Rom. 1:31; II Tim. 3:3).

(f) Confirmed hardness of heart—"And if ye will not yet for all this hearken unto me" (vs. 18). Continuance in sin lessens the probability of the forsaking of sin. Man becomes so depraved when he forsakes God that even the warnings and chastisements of God are unheeded.

2. The curse of disobedience is manifold, whether personal or national (vs. 16-17). The sinning nation and the sinning individual will surely suffer.

(a) Physically (vs. 16). The physical results of sin are apparent. Those who break the moral laws put themselves in the path of unmentionable afflictions and unspeakable suffering. Those who break the liquor laws pay for their violation in disease and death.

(b) Mentally—"And make the soul to pine away" (vs. 16 R. V.). Mental suffering is often more intense than physical suffering. The accusations of conscience, fear of exposure, remorse and despair have driven many a sinner to suicide.

(c) Economically (vs. 16). Crop failure was a result of Israel's sin. If we note the periods of famine in Israel's history we will see how accurately this prediction is fulfilled. It is possible to be an honest business man and a Christian at the same time. Our nation need not expect continued prosperity if it continues to turn its back upon God and His laws.

(d) Nationally (vs. 17). Israel was defeated by her enemies, carried into captivity, weakened in national morale; because she turned against God. Our nation should be warned by the finger of history.

3. Chastisement for disobedience (vs. 18-20). While the miseries of the previous verses came largely in accordance with natural laws and through the hands of Israel's enemies, yet behind them all we see the chastening hand of God seeking to bring His people to repentance. Many times God had to apply the rod the "seven" additional times (vs. 18), until the arrogant pride of Israel was broken (vs. 19). What a wonderful picture is this of the chastisements of the wayward child of God. His heaven is iron, unpenetrated by his prayers, and his earth is brass, barren and foreboding. In the Word of God brass is a symbol of judgment.

We should distinguish between the punishment of the disobedient child, which is corrective and curative in its purpose, and the punishment of the unsaved, which is punitive and unremedial.

As individuals may we obey the Word of God, which involves obedience to the laws of the state (Rom. 13; I Pet. 2:13-17). Only thus can we expect national prosperity and security.

Miss May Kelty To Leave For Texas

Missionary Among The Spanish Speaking People To Train Mexican Converts

Miss H. May Kelty of this city, who has been for several years a missionary among the Spanish-speaking people of the Argentine, S. A., and the Island of Cuba, will leave Monday evening for San Antonio, Tex., where she will engage in special Bible school work for the training of Mexican converts as missionaries to their own country.

The Mexican missionary work was established some years ago under the supervision of Rev. H. Ball, superintendent of Mexican missions of the Assemblies of God, whose headquarters are at Springfield, Mo.

Miss Kelty will give her farewell address at the Pentecostal Tabernacle on South street Sunday evening.

CANADA VOTES NEXT TUESDAY

Voting In Dominion Will Decide Issue Between Meighen And King

Premier Is Confident Of Victory, While Kings Looks To Progressives

(International News Service)

OTTAWA, Canada, Sept. 11. — Canada expects a vote that will shatter all previous records of past federal elections when the total figures of the balloting on September 14 are made known.

After one of the most spirited political battles in many a decade interest is at fever heat from one end of the dominion to the other.

Both party leaders, Premier Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen and William Lyon McKenzie King are confident of victory.

The eyes of all Canada are focused on western Canada and the French Canadian province of Quebec. Premier Meighen is counting on Ontario to bring him victory while former Prime Minister King looks to Quebec to put him over with the assistance of the western Canada progressive provinces.

The campaign has been waged around three big issues—the tariff, the constitution, and smuggling between Canada and United States. Other minor issues have appeared most prominent of these being the immigration question and the trek of native born Canadians to United States.

From political chieftains of both the conservative and liberal parties, it has been announced that whichever party goes down to defeat will be reorganized from cellar to garret.

Unending lines of adventurers rolling westward—
Untold numbers of unsung heroes in the fight for gold—
Unbending hearts in a land as cold as steel, where primitive passions and physical power ruled with a mailed fist—where might was right and weaklings dropped by the roadside—
Into this maelstrom of gold-maddened men and frenzied women rode a slip of a girl—and "3 BAD MEN!"
Terrors of the west, wreakers of havoc, border killers who settled disputes with the shooting iron, they formed a protecting trio for this dainty bit of femininity—
And they rode into eternity with a smile that this transplanted desert flower might realize the secret of her dreams.
It's the mightiest of all great stories of the birth of America's tremendous western empire.
The greatest thrill the screen has ever seen—the mightiest race for gold in the history of the world—that's what you'll see in "3 BAD MEN".

Border Treaty Is Agreed On

(International News Service)

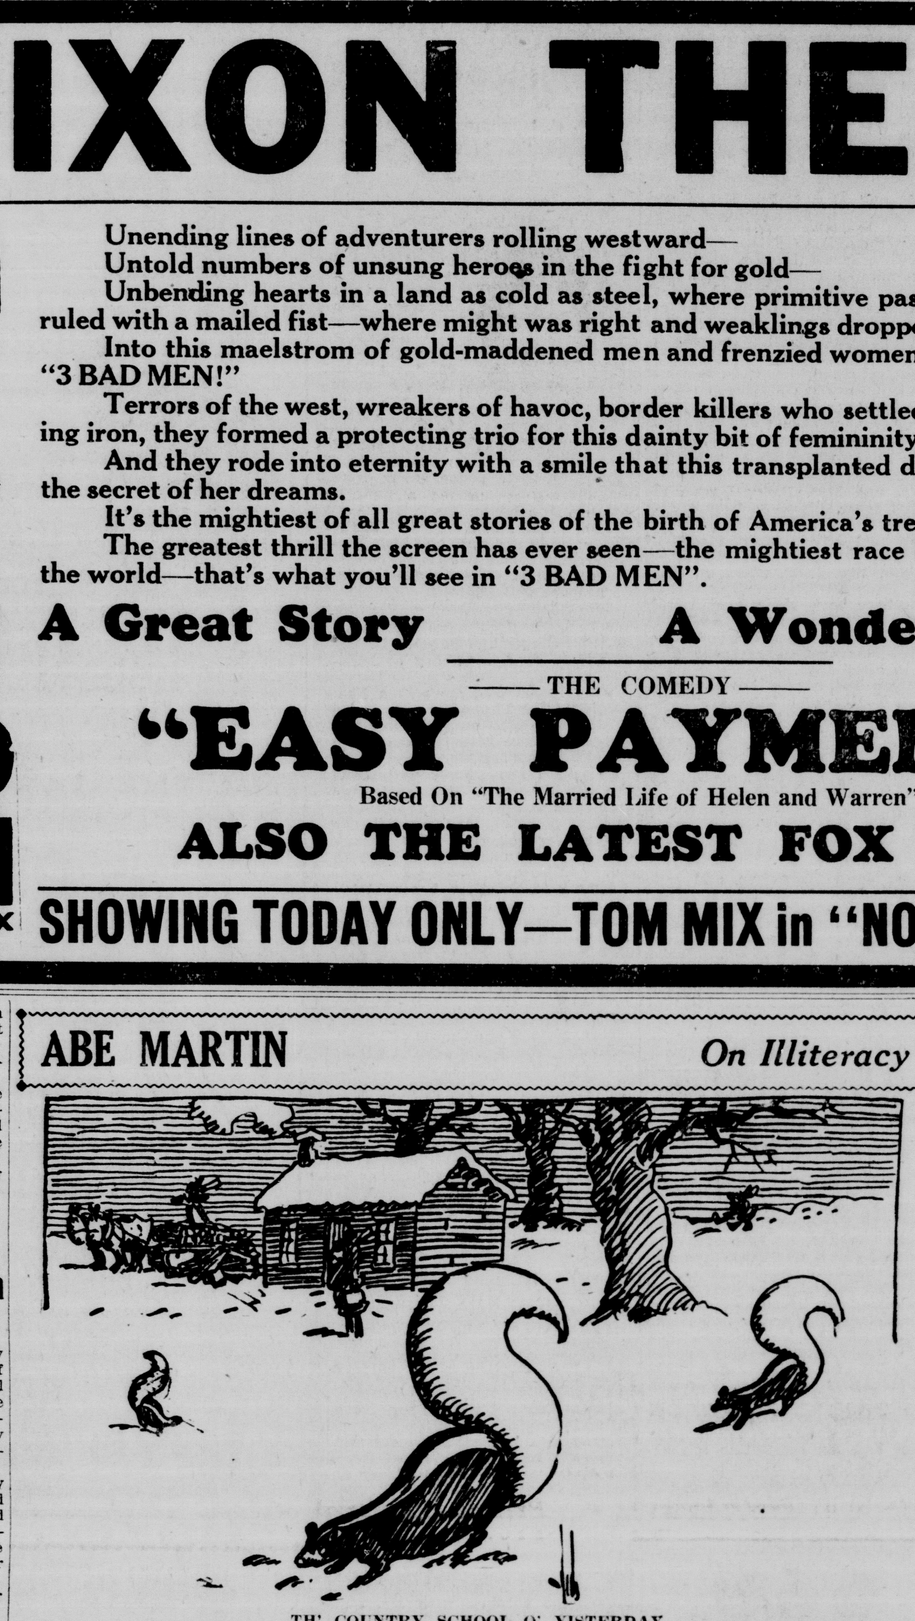

BELGRADE, Sept. 11.—A treaty securing the present frontiers of both countries and pledging mutual aid in case of attack will shortly be signed between Poland and Jugo-Slavia according to a statement by the Polish ambassador to Jugo-Slavia.

The negotiations for the treaty have already been completed and the document will be signed shortly for Jugo-Slavia by the foreign minister Nincic and by the Polish minister, M. Zaleski for Poland.

Nincic will visit Warsaw after the signing of the document.

Woman's place used to be in the home, but this summer it seems to be in the English channel.

ABE MARTIN On Illiteracy

TH' COUNTRY SCHOOL O' YISTERDAY

This is supposed t' be a purty enlightened nation, an' in an educational way things are buzzin' along at a lively rate t'day, but at th' beginnin' of our preparations t' jump in th' world war th' army illiteracy tests showed that we wuz twenty-six per cent illiterate. An' that didn' include those who could read an' write but didn' do either. An' when we recall th' ole one-room country school, an' th' class o' teachers that presided o'er 'em, an' th' hundreds o' thousan's o' country children that attended 'em, it makes me wonder if somethin' wuzn' wrong with th' army tests. Th' ole time skunk-infested country school wuz only open fer a short term each year, a period when th' snow wuz too deep t' do any farm work. "Ever' time I'm in th' vicinity o' a skunk I recall t' mind that Columbus discovered America, that th' earth is round, an' that th' Mississippi river empties int' th' Gulf o' Mexico. Th' odor o' skunk is associated with all th' lessons an' trials an' tribulations o' my country school days," Tell Binkley remarked lately. Ther wuz a skunk's nest under ever' country schoolhouse, an' what crops o' intellectual an' odoriferous giants those modest temples o' learnin' did turn out—thousan's upon thousan's o' country boys an' girls with jest enough education t' hold ther heads up among th' stock an' chipmunks. Who wuz th' teachers? It wuz quite th' thing fer town boys an' girls o' slender means, an' still slenderer educations, t' apply fer country schools t' teach. Twelve dollars a month an' found wuz good pay fer ignorant, inexperienced boy an' girl teachers with nobuddy dependent on 'em, an' many would apply ther earnin's toward gittin' an education. Many a man an' woman o' affluence t'day educated 'emselves with th' money they earned educatin' country boys an' girls. If a town boy wanted a sled, or a pair o' skates, he'd teach a country school fer a spell, an' sometimes a girl got romantic an' listened t' th' call o' th' wild an' took on a country school, an' returned t' town when th' roads got passable, fat an' yeller from eatin' sausage an' cane molasses. "I recall an arithmetic problem that used t' stump me when I wuz teachin' th' Tharp's Run School. It went like this, 'A gentleman returned from th' city an' brought each o' his four sons a pomegranate. How many pomegranates had he?" relates Lafe Bud, who taught three country schools before he could read or write. "I had t' bury my clothes fer a week on account o' skunks after ever' country school I taught before I could return t' civilization. I had a special skunk suit fer th' last school I taught," further relates Mr. Bud. Th' big commodious, modern, skunk-proof rural school buildin's o' th' present day are a long stride in th' right direction, although mighty belated, an' are turnin' out some exceptional basketball players an' promisin' orchestras.

Building Activity In Pittsburgh Is Hundred Million

(International News Service)

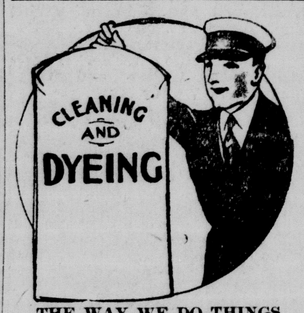

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 11.—Building projects to cost approximately $100,000,000 will be begun in Pittsburgh this fall, according to advance notices received by the Chamber of Commerce here.

Among the largest improvement projects being planned is that of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad, which will expend $5,000,000 on improvements to its Pittsburgh terminals, officials announced. The railroad will rearrange and enlarge its public delivery yard and add to its facilities for handling mail and dairy products.

MAJOR PARTIES FACE TROUBLE IN KEEPING PEACE IN RANKS

Friction In Both Democratic And Republican Ranks In Many States

G. O. P. Has Many State Worries From Insurgents And Progressives

By GEORGE H. MANNING
(General Press Association)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 11.—How to keep the peace between the Republican regulars and the Progressives or Insurgents until after election day is the problem that is making the party campaign committee leaders lie awake nights and is adding to the number of their gray hairs.

Factional strife in the Democratic party, too, is giving worry to the Democratic chiefs. Party ties, sitting loosely on the average voter, make it impossible for the leaders of either of the two great political organizations to crack the whip over him in the old-time fashion.

In Iowa, strange to say, the regular Republican organization has made peace, at least for the time being, with former Senator Smith "Wildman" Brookhart. Col. Brookhart, who was nominated for the six year term, in the face of the most relentless opposition from the organization, will take the stump under the auspices of the state central committee, a hard-boiled array of regulars, and will endeavor to avoid throwing any brickbats at the array in question until after the ballots are counted in November.

Harmony In Iowa

Two years ago, in a speech at Emmetsburg in the latter part of the campaign, he made an attack on Coolidge. That speech cost him thousands of regular votes and lost him his seat in the Senate. Now, if the regulars and progressives of his party unite for him on election day, he will be able to defeat Claude R. Porter, his Democratic opponent, and regain a place in the Senate sun.

Healing of party sores in Iowa, which seems to have taken place, is one of the most conspicuous examples thus far in the campaign of how factionalism can be subordinated under stress of necessity. However, efforts to accomplish the same thing are going on in many States. On the success or failure of such efforts much will depend as to whether the Republicans keep control of the Senate and House in the next Congress.

Dove Of Peace Near?

Massachusetts, Ohio, Illinois, Kansas, and Washington, are other States in which the dove of peace appears to be hovering over the various Republican elements. In Massachusetts, Senator Butler, Republican national chairman, and lieutenant of the President, although an independent is announced, has united the support of most factors in his fight against former Senator David I. Walsh, Democrat.

In Pennsylvania, it looks as if the great body of the Republicans would unite behind William S. Vare for the Senate, regardless of campaign fund revelations, and despite the fact that the Senate will probably not allow him to keep his seat if elected. In Ohio, Senator Willis has the bulk of his party support, though he will lose some of the wets. In Illinois, the Republican factions are well enough united on Colonel Frank L. Smith, Republican Senatorial nominee, so that it does not look now as if George E. Brennan, the Democratic candidate could beat him. Here again, the voters will apparently send Col. Smith to the Senate although it looks as if the Senate would shut the doors on him. In Kansas, there is plenty of progressive Republicanism but it will not seriously oppose the return of Senator Charles Curtis to the Senate.

These are some of the instances where a measurable volume of harmony obtains. In sharp contrast are such situations as those in California, Oregon, Wisconsin and New Hampshire, not to mention New York.

In California

In California, it is doubtful if anything can compose the troubles between Senator Johnson and Senator Shortridge. The latter has been renominated in the face of strong Johnson opposition, but the Johnson forces nominated their candidate for Governor. The unsettled question is how many progressive Repubicans, led by Senator Johnson, are going to knife Shortridge when they go into their booths on election day.

Senator Stanfield, beaten for the nomination on the Republican ticket, in Oregon, sets out to run independent. This hurts the Republican chances of carrying the state and helps B. E. Haney, the Democratic nominee for the Senate, former member of the Shipping Board.

No Peace In Wisconsin

The schism in Wisconsin between the LaFollette elements and the stalwarts, who supported Senator Lenroot for another term, is so pronounced that no one seriously expects peace there. Were it not for the weakness of the Democratic organization in that state, the Republicans would find it impossible to carry the state.

With the New Hampshire primaries over, efforts will be made to smooth out the differences between the friends of Senator Moses and Former Governor Bass. These differences became so pronounced in the campaign before the primaries that it will be difficult to dispose of them. They give the Democrats some hope of carrying the state.

Senator Wadsworth in New York is sure to be the Republican nominee for the Senate but the Republican difficulties over the wet and dry problem are giving him trouble. The general feeling in Washington today is that Senator Wadsworth's re-election is in great doubt, with the chances against him. Whether he can overcome the obstacles in his path between now and election day remains to be seen. An able and resourceful campaigner, his friends will not believe he is beaten until the votes actually show it. On the other hand, the great strength of Governor "Al" Smith in the state, the Republicans fear, will not only re-elect him as Governor but sweep Senator Wadsworth out of the Senate.

Maryland is another state where Republican dissensions are feared. The contest between Senator Weller and Representative John Philip Hill, wet leader in the House, for the Republican Senatorial nomination, is sufficiently bitter to afford much encouragement to the Democrats who will nominate Representative Tydings as their Senatorial candidate.

Democratic Troubles

But the Republicans have no monopoly of factional troubles. The Democrats have looming up before them the ghost of the antagonism that stalked about Madison Square Garden in 1924. Moreover, it is a very vigorous and persistent ghost. Recent developments in California where the McAdoo and Smith supporters came to an open clash are significant. John B. Elliott of Los Angeles, a McAdoo man, having the open support of McAdoo, was nominated for the Senate against Isidore Dockweiler, national committeeman, a supporter of Governor Smith. Had Elliott been beaten, it would have been hailed as putting McAdoo out of the running for 1928.

On the whole, the California Democratic contest has served to stir up the old Smith and anti-Smith controversy in other parts of the country.

The wet and dry issue is another that is giving the Democrats concern and there is also a division as between progressive Democrats and conservatives. The progressive Democrats accuse the conservatives of practically standing for regular Republican policies.

WOMAN CONQUERS FEARS

Husband Delighted and Home Happier

St. Paul, Minn.—"Here is a little advice I would like to have you put in the papers," Mrs. Jack Lorberter of 704 Dellwood Place wrote to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company. "If young women want to keep their health and strength for the next thirty years of their lives, it is best to start in right now and take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have tried the Compound myself and received fine results." In describing her condition before taking the Compound, she writes, "I was afraid in my own house in broad daylight, I used to lock the doors and pull down the shades so that nobody could see me." One day a booklet advertising the Vegetable Compound was left on her porch and she read it through. In so doing, she found a letter from a woman whose condition was similar to her own. "I bought the Vegetable Compound," Mrs. Lorberter continued, "and have had fine results. The condition I was in made me a burden to my husband. Now I ask "How is housekeeping?" and he says, "It is just like being in Heaven!"

Evangelicals May Purchase Park For Assembly Grounds

Monarch Park Site Between Franklin And Oil City Talked Over In Conference

SCALP LEVEL, Pa., Sept. 11.—The Pittsburgh conference of the Evangelical church in its 75th annual session here, will take action on plans to purchase Monarch park, Oil City, an abandoned amusement park, for use as an assembly ground for the conference, the Rev. George A. Collin of Oil City, newly elected presiding elder of the conference, said yesterday.

The conference considered a number of routine questions in its morning sessions, following which Rev. Mr. Collin took part in informal discussions regarding possible purchase of the park site.

The conference, which will bring its annual conference to a close here today, has held meetings here and at Windber during the week.

Fall Down Stairs Proves Beneficial

(International News Service)

WELLSBORO, Pa., Sept. 11. — An accidental fall down the stairs has proven beneficial rather than harmful to Mrs. Mary Murray, who lives near Towanda, it was reported here today.

For years Mrs. Murray has been unable to use her right arm, which had become shortened and stiffened from rheumatism. When she fell down the stairs recently she broke the deformed arm just below the elbow. She found that she could raise the injured arm, putting her hand to her head.

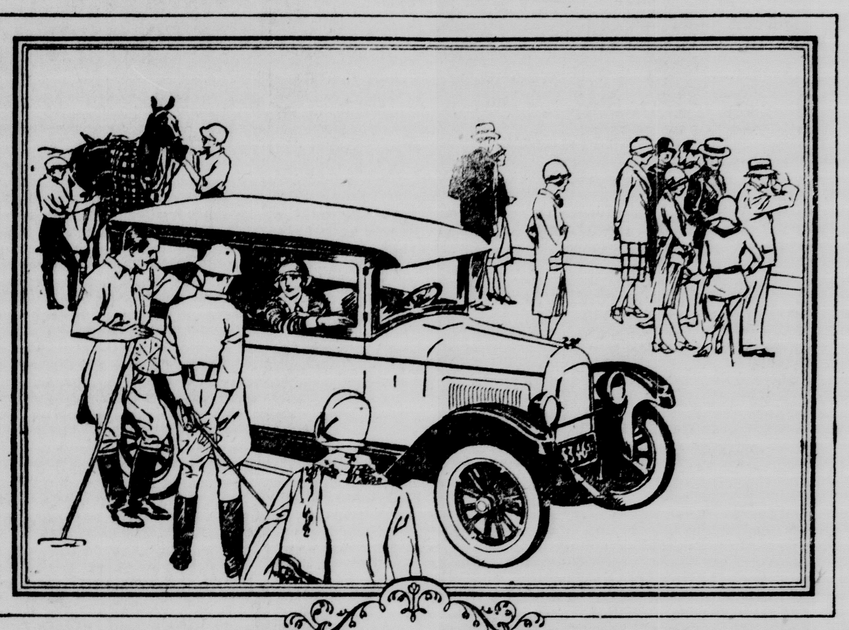

Instead of setting the bone physicians have placed the arm in a cast, leaving the bones an inch apart, hoping that new cartilage will fill the space and lengthen the arm so that its usefulness can be regained.

Unearths Wallet; Digging For Sewer

(International News Service)

QUAKERTOWN, Pa., Sept. 11. —While excavating for a city sewer system on Twelfth street here recently George Danaker unearthed a wallet which contained United States silver coins and a German coin dated 1875. The wallet also contained fifteen pieces of paper money, so decomposed that the denominations could not be identified.

TODAY—
America has its first high-speed European-type Light Car

THE Whippet is the first American light car designed to meet modern traffic conditions.

A car engineered specifically for parking at jammed curbs—for lightning get-away at congested traffic crossings—for instant stopping in pedestrian-crowded city streets. It will pickup in 13 seconds from 5 to 30 miles an hour. It will stop in 51 feet from a speed of 40 miles an hour. It will turn in a 34-foot circle—park in a 14-foot curb space.

30 miles on a gallon of gasoline . . . 55 miles an hour . . . 5 to 30 miles in 13 seconds . . . 4-wheel brakes . . . stops in 51 feet from 40 miles an hour . . . turns in 34-foot circle

More room—greater comfort

This new car has a low, European-type body. With height and length in true symmetrical proportion. It is 5 feet 8 inches high . . . not as tall as the average man. Yet it provides more leg-room and comfort than you've ever found in any American-built automobile of this class before.

4-wheel brakes are an integral part of this new car's chassis design . . . a necessity that light car owners have not heretofore enjoyed.

In fairness to yourself, come, see this wonderful new-type car.

Whippet Sedan $735, Touring $645, and Coupe $735. All prices f. o. b. factory. Prices and specifications subject to change without notice.

William Buquo Purchases Old Building Erected In 1891 —To Build Church

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Sept. 11.—Men are busy tearing down the old school building on Line avenue and College street today. The building has been purchased by William Buquo, who has been given until March to get the old building out of the road, in order that the Bell Memorial church can go ahead with its excavating for the new church for which plans and specifications are now in order.

The old building, which was used for a school, was one of the first school buildings on the north side in 1891, at that time known as Hazel Dell. It was used for a school building until about five years ago when it was purchased by the board of the Bell Memorial church, to be used for a community house. The school bell has been retained by the school board.

It has served the church and a number of lodges in this capacity for a number of years. Many basketball games, social and other events have taken place in this building which is being razed today to make way for a beautiful church building, the Bell Memorial.

This church has grown to mammoth proportions since its beginning, when Rev. Charles Bell started a mission in connection with his pastorate at the Slippery Rock church. Later he was pastor of the Bell Memorial, which honors him with its name, and helped in the church which is making such headway.

At the present time with Rev. J. A. King, pastor, this congregation is making great strides. Hundreds of new names have been added to the membership list and long ago the capacity in the older building was insufficient for the attendance.

Vesper Services To Be Conducted At Presbyterian Church

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Sept. 11—Sunday, September 19, there will be Vesper services beginning at 4:45 p. m., in the First Presbyterian church auditorium. These services will feature best music, organ and choir. The sermons will be terse statements of real religion for real people.

The service will not be denominational. The thought is to offer to the public a service of divine worship, in which any citizen of this community will feel at home and in which he may find fellowship, pleasure and inspiration.

The Vesper service or twilight service has been conducted in this church with success, in previous years. At the time of day shadows are falling over the Lee, the Ellwood community will take advantage of these special vespers.

Cars Running On New Track At Burnstown

Old Tracks Discarded That New Wurtemburg Highway Can Be Started At Once

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Sept. 11—Disclosing many unforseen beauties in the way of nature along the banks of the Connoquenessing creek, a number of trees have been hewn down and the hill filled in closer to the creek. Today the Harmony street car tracks have been completed on this new fill and cars to and from Ellwood are running on them.

The old tracks, which were badly depleted, have been torn out and the station at Burnstown stands with the little platform, all alone in the middle of what is to be the new Wurtemburg highway.

The street car company is fixing the street car tracks in various part of Ellwood City too. A gang of men have just completed finishing the final laying of brick on Fourth street, where they worked for two weeks, replacing old ties.

Today Spring avenue from Fourth to Fifth street has been made into a one way street, going West, and the brick work has been torn out, in order that new ties can be put in.

Rev. Cosby Conducts Wedding At Parsonage

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Sept. 11.—Miss Dorothy Sloss of Volant and Mark Anthony of Cleveland were married Friday afternoon at the United Presbyterian parsonage by Rev. J. A. Cosby. The young couple were attended by Miss Ruth Young and Norman Young of near New Castle.

The bride wore a charming gown of fawn georgette with hat of corresponding color. She carried Sweetheart roses. Following the wedding ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Mark Anthony left for Cleveland, where they will make their future home. Mr. Anthony is employed as a salesman for the Canfield Oil company.

Mrs. Anthony has a host of Ellwood friends which she has made during a number of visits to the home of her brother, Harold Sloss of North Ellwood Heights.

Class Number Four Has Class Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Sept. 11.—Class No. 4 of the Bell Memorial church had its regular monthly meeting at the home of Miss Esther James on Todd avenue Friday evening. The meeting was opened by singing of a hymn, following which Mrs. J. A. King led in prayer. The Bible reading was given by Miss Roma Menold.

The young women made plans for a bazaar to be conducted in the near future, as well as other business matters taken up at this time. The session was closed with prayer by the pastor.

Later in the evening lunch was served by the committee which comprised Miss Margaret Clyde, Miss Helen Menold, Miss Esther James, assisted by Mrs. John James.

Winifred Stoner Given Surprise

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Sept. 11—Mrs. John Stoner of North street entertained eight young people at her home Friday evening in honor of her daughter Winifred's fourteenth birthday. The guest of honor was presented with many lovely gifts. The evening was enjoyed with music and games. At a late hour lunch was served by the hostess.

Gardner

Mrs. Robb of Butler is spending a week at the home of her son, A. H. Robb and family of Gardner.

William Stephanov, who has delivered milk in Gardner for several years, was working on his truck when a box fell and struck him on the head, injuring him. He has not been able to work since, but is improving now.

Recent callers at the Williams home in Gardner were Mrs. Lydia Green, daughter Minnie and son Jack, Leo Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Mattinger and son Harry, Mrs. Fanny Wood, all of New Castle, and Miss Rose Duffield of Youngstown.

Miss Elizabeth Fombelle of East New Castle and Ernest King of New Castle were calling in Youngstown on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. McCoy and son Dale of Youngstown spent last Sunday with Mrs. McCoy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Locke of Gardner.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Laird and daughter Alberta of Ellwood City were calling on the Clapper family in Gardner on Labor Day.

Mrs. Laura Wallace of New Castle spent last Sunday with her brother, Frank Hay and family, in Gardner.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fombelle of East New Castle spent the week-end with Mrs. Fombelle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pierce of Evans City.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wimer and son Bobby of Woodlawn spent a few days with Mrs. Wimer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kirkwood of Gardner. Master Jack Wimer, who has spent some time with his grandparents, went back home to Woodlawn on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs Philip Moore and daughter Gladys of Gardner spent Labor Day with Mrs. Moore's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Zeigler of the Butler road.

Mrs. Mary Bevan and son Thomas of New Castle were guests last Sunday of Mrs. Bevan's daughter, Mrs. John Sherger and family of Gardner.

Paul Fombelle and sister Frances of East New Castle and Miss Kathryn Herbert and Montgomery Rogers of New Castle motored to Evans City last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller of Columbus, O., spent several days with Mr. and Mrs. Comstock of Gardner.

Mrs. C. W. Fenton of Wilkinson stop attended the funeral of her cousin, Dr. Balph of Beaver Falls on Thursday.

Miss Mary Milligan of Mt. Washington, Pittsburgh, spent a few days with the families of her uncles, John and Frank Sherger of Gardner.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. King of Shenango stop had as recent guests Mr. King's brother William and wife, and relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Komensky, all of Cleveland. Mrs. King brought her friends to the Dickson dahlia gardens and they were delighted with the flowers, and said there was nothing in their city to equal the splendid blooms in Gardner.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Fenton spent last Sunday with their nephew, Fred Fenton and family of Salem, Ohio.

Last Friday Mrs. Mary Wood and son H. L. Wood and wife and daughter Ella Jane of Albion, Pa., spent several days with Mrs. E. O. Alexander of Gardner.

Mrs. Will Hedrick of Wilkinsburg spent a few days with the families of her two brothers, John and Frank Sherger of Gardner.

Mrs. Mary White has returned home after a very pleasant trip to Niagara Falls, Chautauqua assembly and several days spent with the family of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. White of Baden, Pa., who have a cottage at Conneaut Lake. Mrs. White was accompanied on this trip by her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Fleming of Akron, O., and also by two sisters of Mrs. White which added much to the pleasure of the trip.

Russell King, who has been employed for some time in Detroit is now at home with his parents at Shenango stop.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Stelter and two children of Navarre, O., were guests on Labor Day of Mrs. Stelter's sister, and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Kennedy of Gardner.

E. O. Alexander of Pittsburgh was at home last Sunday with his wife and son Francis in Gardner.

Grange Women To Receive Instruction

State College Expert To Speak On Home Duties In Mercer County

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Pa., Sept. 11.—During the coming winter months 150 Mercer county women will derive instruction in home duties through the classes held at county granges under the management of Miss Lora Pinder of State College of the home economics department. Miss Pindar will be here five days each week every other week, so rapidly has grown the demand for her services. The instruction is in dressmaking and cooking. There will be classes in dressmaking at Hendersonville and Leesburg Granges, one in cooking at Millbrook, made up of young ladies; a dressmaking class at the Grange in Greene township, making of clothes will be the instruction at Jackson Center, Sandy Lake and in Hempfield township. This is the second winter that Miss Pinder has conducted these classes in Mercer county. She closed her 1925 work with a style show of dresses made by the members of the class. Her classes of this year are not only larger, but the thread of the interest in the work over the county has been responsible for increasing the number of classes.

The late J. P. Whitla of Sharon well-known barrister, who died quite suddenly Tuesday evening, had spent the day in court here. Perhaps two as important events as ever occurred in his life are of rocerd on that date. His son, William Whitla, of kidnapping fame, who graduated this spring from law school and has been taken into his fathers' office, was admitted to practice in the Mercer county courts. His father was with him when he was formally inducted by Judge J. A. McLaughry. Mr. Whitla was also associated with C. C. Brockway of his law firm in securing the signature of Judge J. A. McLaughry on an instrument that made legally airtight the turning over to the destitute people of northern France $1,000,000 by the trustees of the estate of Frank Buhl, as provided for in the will of that steel manufacturer, who died June 8, 1918.

Cities Do Not Happen
Co-operation Builds Them

The City of Progress Through The Chamber of Commerce

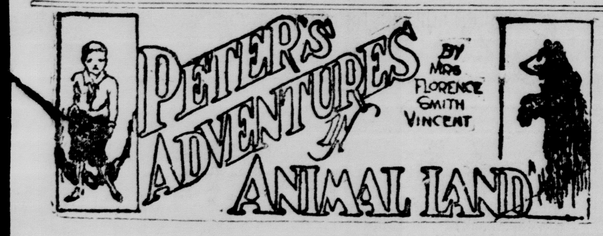

Chambers of Commerce are often regarded as solely commercial and industrial promotional institutions. The modern Chamber of Commerce, however, recognizes that industrial development requires a readjustment of every aspect of city life. The supply of labor, better living conditions, education of children, stimulation of thrift, development of public recreation, Americanization, transportation, efficiency, and many other factors, vitally affect the permanency of industry. All of these are matters in which an open-minded and broad-guaged community organization is interested.

It is becoming increasingly apparent that environment sets bounds to industrial as well as mercantile and professional prosperity, but it is also certain that mere physical surroundings are not the sum total of "environment." The propelling force in all progress is the human element. This is the fact behind the necessity for community team work.

The Chamber of Commerce is the best means for representative community development. What other organization can bring together all types and conditions of men? The Chamber of Commerce is the only organization which is non-political, non-sectarian and non-partisan, through which the community can think on terms of equality and can translate that thought into action.

After wandering for many months in the jungle and making friends with the animals, Peter, a small boy with a fondness for adventures, is again at his home. You see Peter possesses a blue lizard's tail which keeps him from all harm and anytime he wishes to be whisked away to another land Peter just shuts his eyes tightly, holds the tail in his hand, makes a wish and, presto, in an instant his wish has been granted. Now go on with the story and learn more of Peter's interesting adventures.

EYES AND EYES

Ding, dong! Ding, dong! Ding, dong!

Almost time for the train to start! As is sure to happen in every station just as the train is about to leave, through the door came scurrying last minute passengers, who must have set their watches wrong, or eaten too much dinner, or done something which they shouldn't, so that they almost weren't on time. Up the train steps they scrambled! Down the platform hurried men in uniform with big brass buttons on their blue coats. Out of the darkness twinkled many lights. A lantern swung by an unknown hand made red circles in the night.

What a hustle and bustle it was!

"All aboard!" shouted the conductor, and then—

"Hey, wait a minute!" shouted a voice. "Here's a little box marked to go that's been forgotten!"

A toss, a catch, and bang! Down on the floor of the baggage car went the little box.

Puff! Chug! Choo, choo, choo!

Huffing and puffing and sneezing steam the engine said a noisy goodby to the station. The train was off on its rambling way.

Nobody had noticed the squeal of terror that had come out of the little box as it rose in the air. Nobody had heard the grunt of pain when it was dropped upon the floor. Nobody saw the two bright, frightened eyes that peered out of two holes in the side of the box.

"Yip, yip! Oh, how scared I am! What is this dreadful place? Why am I shut up in here and shaken like an old shoe in a puppy's mouth until my poor sides ache? Where am I going? What is going to become of me?"

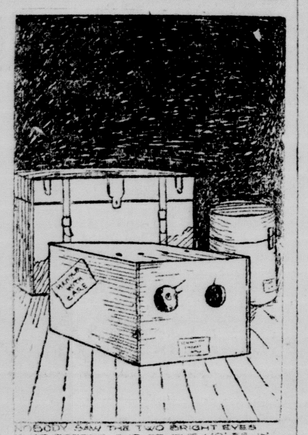

The voice that belonged to the two bright eyes in the box yelped as loudly as it could, but nobody answered its questions. Except for the bumping of the train there was silence.

It was very dark, too, in the baggage car. All that the two bright eyes peering out of the box could see were trunks piled on top of each other and boxes—lots of them like the one out of which they looked—not anything or anybody that interested them a bit.

"Oooh! How black it is. And I am all by myself. Mmmmm! I am so very lonely!"

The voice that belonged to the two bright eyes in the box started to cry, but broke off on the first whimper.

"Hello!" came a squeaky greeting. Out of the darkness in one corner blinked two eyes as bright as the eyes in the box.

FOOTBALL SEASON OPENS HERE NEXT SATURDAY

Mars High To Be Opponents

After Two Weeks Of Training High Gridders Show Up To Standard

TEAM MAKE-UP IS UNDECIDED

By "BUGS" WALTHER

One more week, or seven days, to be exact, till football season opens in this city. The opening contest of the year will find Mars High pitted against the New Castle High team. The game will be played at Ben Franklin stadium.

The New Castle High team has had two weeks of intensive training under Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh and his two capable assistants, Bill Klee and George "Gig" Thomas, and the writer is safe in saying that the boys have learned a heap of football in the past 14 days. The one week spent at training camp placed the team in a fine physical condition and the one week at the Ben Franklin field has served to further the cause of learning what the game is all about. With another week of training before the lid-lifter the boys will be in fine fettle.

Robinson at Center

With a squad that numbers over 50 candidates, the coaches have had a mighty hard time in picking out what they believed the strongest material. The job of selecting the varsity squad for the opening game is still in progress, and even Coach Bridenbaugh himself isn't quite sure about his starting line-up. Captain Harry Robinson, the youth who holds forth in the center of the line just as every house or building needs a foundation, sure is starting at the center job. In fact, Robinson is as sure of playing in the opening game as the writer is that Dempsey and Tunney will fight on September 23 at Philadelphia.

Tentative Line-up Announced

Here, folks, is the way the writer shapes up the team that will start the opening game of the season next Saturday; that is unless there is an earthquake: ends, Ostrosky and Burns; tackles, Millison and Christman; guards, Ulrich and W. Mott or Kirk; quarterback, Klaber; left half, Richards; right half, Turk or Dickson, and fullback, Harper.

Just what Mars has up their sleeve is not known at the present time, and will not be known very likely until they roll them up here next Saturday for the benefit of the local footballers, but it is a safe bet that Coach Hudson will have a good team to represent Mars High and that there will be a football dish here one week from today.

The High gridders went through a two-hour signal drill on Friday afternoon and this morning the boys were put through a hard scrimmage workout at 10 o'clock, and the squad was excused from further training till Monday afternoon at four o'clock, when they will enter their final week of practice preparatory to their start for the W. P. I. A. L. championship.

Pennant Races In Both Leagues

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—The National league race is a bit tighter today as a result of the stunning 11 to 3 defeat inflicted on the Cardinals by the Braves. St. Louis is now two and one-half games in front of the Reds, who have played and won one more game than Pittsburgh.

The Reds and Pirates, who divided a double-header yesterday, will play another game today while St. Louis tackles Boston in a twin bill.

Benny Leonard In Dempsey Camp

Cleveland Fighter Asks For Too Much Money, Gets Gate From Tunney

(International News Service)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 11.—Benny Leonard, undefeated lightweight champion of the world, was at Jack Dempsey's camp today and may box with the champion today or tomorrow.

Tommy Laughran, Philadelphia light heavyweight who came here to work out with the champion, said today that he would not spar with Dempsey unless he gets on the same card which stars Dempsey and Tunney. He asked Dempsey to try to influence Tex Rickard in his behalf.

Dempsey boxed a round each yesterday with Bill Tate, Charley Anderson, Frank Carpenter and Martin Burke. Tate landed to Dempsey's head three times and the champion retaliated with a right to the jaw that staggered the negro.

Report Greb And Mason To Reunite

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 11.—Harry Greb of Pittsburgh and his erstwhile manager James M. Mason have buried their hatchet and will resume their old relations of fighter and manager according to reports here today.

A new agreement between Greb and Mason was signed several days ago and the report says:

Mason acted as Greb's manager for nearly 11 years. The break came after Greb lost his middleweight championship to Tiger Flowers last February.

Court Monarchs, Past And Present — BY FEG MURRAY

Copyright, 1926, by Metropolitan Newspaper Service

It's a far cry from Dick Sears to Bill Tilden, but there is a distinct connection between the two, in spite of the vastly different type of tennis played by them and the thirty-nine years trat separated their first national championship victories. Richard Sears, the first to win the official title of "Lawn Tennis Champion of the United States," was like Big Bill has been the last few years, in a class by himself. He was so far in advance of the other players of his day that he could go out upon the court with a feeling of absolute confidence in his ability to beat them. Tilden has been suspected of having that same confidence.

Dick Sears was the first man in this country to use the volley, he was one of the first to use the overhand service, and after a trip to England, he returned with the famous "Lawford stroke," with which he ran his opponents dizzy. Sears is the only man in United States tennis history to win seven successive championships. William A. Larned won the title seven times, but not in succesSsion. Now Bill Tilden is out to equal Sears' record in the tournament starting Monday at Forest Hills, and what makes it appear that this will be the most interesting and exciting of all the forty-five annual contests is that there appear to be three or four players who have a fine chance of knocking the champion from his lofty perch.

Of the sixteen men who have held the title of United States lawn tennis champion, only one, H. L. Doherty, was a foreigner, and he, I believe, is the only one who is not now alive.

The most popular of all the winners was undoubtedly Maurice E. McLoughlin of San Francisco, called the "Comet" because of his flaming red hair and his dashing style of play. "Mac" was to tennis what Francis Ouimet was to golf, sort of a torch-bearer who popularized a game considered either too expensive or too lady-like for the multitudes. McLoughlin burnt himself out by his net-storming tactics, his terrific service, and his slam-bang overhead attacks, but he had a grand time, and almost revolutionized the game of tennis.

What do you think, can William T. Tilden, 2nd, thirty-three, of Germantown, Pa., accomplish what Dick Sears did nearly forty years ago?

Rules Set For Titular Scrap

Six Men Who Will Handle Fighters Secure "Second" Licenses

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 11.—The rules which will govern the heavyweight title fight between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney at the sesqui-centennial stadium Sept. 23, were set yesterday.

It was decided that no towels or sponges will be recognized by the referee if thrown into the ring.

A manager and three seconds will be allowed for each fighter and none of the assistants will be allowed to coach or speak to their man during the championship bout.

Each fighter will be allowed bandages for the hands. Kidney blows, rabbit punches and pivot blows are strictly barred.

The following men have received licenses as seconds: Gene Normile, Capt. Mabbutt, Jerry Ludavis and Gus Wilson, for Dempsey; Billy Gibson and Lou Fink, for Tunney, with the other two seconds to be chosen later.

Methodists And Presbyterians Are Deadlocked

The First Methodist and Central Presbyterian teams are deadlocked for the leadership in the New Castle church league as a result of the Methodists taking a forfeit game from the Croton team on Friday night.

Both teams have won 20 and lost 7 games to date and the championship of the circuit lies between the two.

The Third U. P. team following its defeat at the hands of the Central Christians is out of the pennant fight.

Red Tops Claim Midget Championship

"Red Tops claim the midget championship of the city" says at note delivered to the News, adding: "The team has played practically all the midget teams in the city and have carried off many victories in such games. This is the first year the team has been in existence and the players are pleased with results but hope to have a better team next year."

New Coach Leads Wilmington High

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Sept. 11.—With E. C. Wiggins, former star lineman at Bethany College acting as head coach, the local high school grid squad has started work for what promises to be a mighty strenuous season.

Wiggins takes the place of John Lawther, now a member of the Westminster College faculty as well as assistant coach of football and head basketball coach at the blue and white institution.

In filling Lawther's place, the new mentor has a big task before him since Lawther turned out winning teams despite the handicap of little material. However, Wiggins is going about his work in a business-like manner. He has already gained the confidence of his squad and expectations are that he will come through.

Twenty-three men have been issued equipment and have been taking part in the work-outs. Nine letter-men are available. They are: Pete James, full-back; Bill James, quarter-back; Bob Neale, half-back; J. Worrall, guard; Ted Anderson, center; Don Davis, end; Jack Lewis, an end who was not in school last year; Ted McConnell, an end and Matt Gilliland, tackle.

Two of the most promising new men are Bob Herriott, a husky lad who is expected to play a tackle position and Harry Sheers, a half-back.

The team was hard hit by graduation. Leading the list of those who received diplomas is Henry Penberthy, one of the fastest backfield men to ever wear the blue and gold. Tom Herriott, last year's captain who was a bulwark of strength at center; Howard Waltenbaugh, an end; Wesley Drake, a guard; Bob Hillard, a tackle, and Ralph Thomas, an end, were the other graduating members.

Matt Gilliland is student manager of the team and is working on his schedule. He expects to have it complete within a few days. The season will open September 25 when Grove City high is met abroad.

E. C. WIGGINS

A graduate of Bethany College, where he played a line position, E. C. Wiggins is now in charge of football at New Wilmington high school. He has nine letter men available, but is confronted by a hard schedule. He takes the place of John Lawther, now assistant grid coach at Westminster College.

Claims Wife Caused Split

Dempsey And Kearns Sever Connections Account Of Estelle

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Jack Dempsey is quited as having split with Jack Kearns because the heavyweight champion's wife, the former Estelle Taylor, could not get along with his erstwhile manager.

In an affidavit filed by counsel for Kearns in the latter's suit for a third of a million dollars against Dempsey, Dan McKettrick, well known boxing promoter, declared the champion told him the break was necessary "to keep peace in my family".

Summarizing conferences with Dempsey here on July 15, 16 and 17, McKettrick quoted Dempsey as saying he had "nothing against Doc (meaning Kearns)." "I like Doc," Dempsey is further quoted, "but my wife cannot get along with him and I have reached the parting of the ways to keep peace in my family."

Tagging All Bases

(International News Service)

The Cardinals unexpectedly stubbed their toes against the Braves, who tagged Alexander for 15 hits and drove him from the mound in the seventh inning when they scored six runs. The final score was 11 to 3, Mogridge pitching shutout ball after Benton got the gate.

The Reds and Pirates cut each other's throats by splitting a double-header, Pittsburgh winning the opener 5 to 2 and Cincinnati copping the nightcap by the same score. Kremer and Lucas were the winning pitchers.

Guy Bush's winning streak of eight straight was shattered when the Phils trimmed the Cubs 8 to 4. Dennis Sothern, a rookie, made his debut with the Quakers and clouted a homer and a double.

The White Sox, who had won six straight games, were stopped when the Browns nosed them out in the tenth, 5 to 4. McCurdy, Chicago catcher, was stopped after hitting his tenth consecutive safety in ten times at bat, within one of the world's record.

If all of the lady drivers were placed end to end, they'd be on the wrong side of the road.

Plan Forming Of Swimming Club

Plans are under way in New Castle for the organizing of a a first class swimming club that will include both male and female swimmers.

The Plans have progressed to the point where a meeting has been called for next Wednesday evening, September 15 at 7:30 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. of all swimmers in the city who care to attend.

The club as soon as it is organized will start training for meets held in the tri-state district, including Erie, Pittsburgh and other cities.

There are a number of expert swimmers in New Castle and it is believed that a fast club can be formed here.

Has Pitched Perfect Games

Ketcham Of Akron Turns In Six "Perfect" Contests

AKRON, O., Sept. 11.—Close of the Ohio & Pennsylvania baseball league's 1926 season finds Akron's General Tires the champions, and Charley Ketchum, their star hurler, with two more no-hit, no-run games to his credit.

Ketchum's collection of perfect games now totals six. He pitched four of them in 1921 while playing semi-pro ball with the Phoenix club of Buffalo. His victims this year were first the New Castle Flyers, and the Pittsburgh Pirates, with scores of 8 to 0 and 6 ot 0 respectively. Ketchum probably will pitch for Akron again next year.

County League To Be Unchanged For 1927, Indication

Four Teams Have Already Made Overatures For League Berths Next Year

Judging from present indications, the Lawrence County League for 1927 will be unchanged as far as the six teams already holding franchises are concerned.

John A. Jackson, in an interview granted yesterday, said that four of the teams in the league this year have already made application for berths next season, and that no new franchises would be granted unless one of the present teams decided to "throw in the towel".

It is the plan of the officials to conduct a fast six-team league in 1927, much after the manner of the latter half of this year after Union and Brent dropped by the wayside.

Call Meeting Of League Managers

Eddie Connery, secretary of the Lawrence County league has mailed out notices to the various managers to meet in the Sporting Goods Store at 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening, September 15, this is a change from the meeting scheduled previously for Tuesday night.

It is important that all managers attend the meeting. It is desired to close up all business matters relative to this year and to arrange for the annual Lawrence County League banquet, and the awarding of the pennant at Ellwood City.

The herring has always been regarded as a mystic fish by the Highlanders of Scotland. They believe it is subject to various occult influences and when, as has happened, the herring deserted old haunts, the Highlanders indulged in queer practices to lure it back.

Christians Top Third U. P., 3-2

Shiek Outpitches Marshall To Gain Victory For Central Christians

Wylie Shiek and Marshall engaged in a pitching duel on the Lehigh grounds on Friday night with the Central Christians gaining a 3 to 2 verdict over the Third U. P. outfit.

Shiek had the better of the argument holding the Third U. P. team to three hits and fanned nine men, while Marshall permitted but four hits and had eight strikeouts to his credit.

The Christians bunched their hits in the first three innings to score their runs. The Third U. P. team scored a lone run in the second inning when Bauman threw high to third base, and again in the third inning when McKnight stole home.

Both pitchers bore down as the game progressed but the fifteen-year-old youth was not to be denied victory and fanned the last five out of six men to face him.

Shaffer had the only extra base hit of the game a double to left field. The playing of Thompson at second base for the Christians was one of the bright features of the game, this youngster in his initial tryout with the Church League team looks mighty promising.

U. S. Retains Davis Cup

Williams And Richards Clinch Seventh Straight Victory

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 11.—For the seventh successive year and the tenth time in the history of Davis Cup competition America has established her world's supremacy at tennis.

The defense of the historic trophy was settled yesterday as decisively as it was begun when the American doubles combination of Richard N. Williams II and Vincent Richards smashed their way to triumph over France's pair, Jacques Brugnon and Henri Cochet, in a sparkling three-set tussle, decided by score of 6-4, 6-4, 6-2.

This was America's third straight victory over France, whose bright hopes as the survivor of 24 original national challengers have been blasted for the second year in a row. Coupled with the convincing triumphs of Big Bill Tilden over Jean Borotra and Little Bill Johnston over Rene Lacoste Thursday. The decision Friday gave America the three points necessary to settle the challenge round series on the courts of the Germantown Cricket Club.

Illinois Faces Hard Grid Schedule Minus Services Of Grange

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—Without the services of the great Grange but with more than a dozen veterans on hand, Robert C. Zuppke, famed football coach of the University of Illinois, faces one of the stiffest gridiron schedules in Illini history.

The schedule includes eight games and in the list are teams rated to be the strongest in the Big Ten conference.

Michigan, Chicago, Iowa and Ohio, conference battles; Pennsylvania, one of the leading eastern elevens, defeated last year by Illinois, and Coe, Butler and Wabash, foremost among middle western smaller schools, will be the Illini opponents this season.

Coe, the only team on this year's list which did not play the Zuppkemen last year, will open the season at Urbana, October 2. The following Saturday Butler will invade the Illini stadium, the conference games getting started October 16 with Iowa at the annual Illinois homecoming.

October 23 Zuppke will take his charges to Ann Arbor to meet Yost's University of Michigan team and October 30, climaxing a month of stiff play, Illinois will contest Pennsylvania at Urbana.

November 6 is the date of the Illinois-Chicago game to be played this year in Chicago. Wabash plays Urbana November 13 and the following week Ohio will journey to Illinois' stadium for the season's windup.

Facing the prospect of whipping his eleven into shape extremely early in the season in order to be prepared for the tough October games, Zuppke has had made a $10,000 rubber blanket, called the "world's largest raincoat" which will insure a dry field during September and October when rains and light snows may be expected.

Use of the raincoat is expected to furnish the Illini with a dry playing field during the days of practice and will also insure a fast gridiron for the playing of all games.

Bryan Downey Is Through As Block For Gene Tunney

By RAY CAMPBELL,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

STROUDSBURG, Pa., Sept. 11.—Bryan Downey, Cleveland middleweight who came here as a sparring partner for Gene Tunney, today had left camp after working with Tunney for only one day. Downey demanded a daily guarantee which Billy Gibson, Tunney's manager thought exhorbitant.

Jimmy Delaney, St. Paul lightheavyweight, who has twice boxed Tunney will fill Downey's shoes.

Beginning today Tunney will cut down his boxing to four rounds.

Tunney branded as preposterous stories that he was to split with Gibson. These yarns emanated from Philadelphia.

"Gibson will be my manager as long as I am in the fight business," he said.

Westminster Backfield Will Have Some Punch; Team To Have Offensive

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON Pa., Sept. 11.—With ten days of gruelling work behind them the members of the Westminster college grid squad in training here are in fine physical condition and with the exception of a few cripples the squad is ready for whatever manner of work Coaches Beede and Lawther desire to dish out. The training camp will end next Wednesday for this is the opening day of school.

With scrimmage sessions a part of the daily program Westminsterites are beginning to wonder concerning the personnel of the eleven which will be sent against Duquesne University of Pittsburgh September 24. Two teams one about as strong as the other have been pitted against each other in practice.

The so-called first team has been using Kelly and Crowell at the ends Dombroski and Ayers at the tackles Capt. Montgomery and Rose at guards with Joe Smith at center. "Rusty" Coles has been calling signals with Bowen and Hostettler alternating at fullback while Hall and Lauder have been at the halves.

The second team lines up with Del Smith and Stewart at the terminals Anderson, Hitchcock, Markes and Tom Herriott at the tackles, Sweet and McCullough at the guards with McLean and Kreuger alternating at center. McQuiston barks signals with Brown and Phillips playing the halves and Wolfe at full. Freed and Henderson are used frequently as guards as is Eller at tackle. Wrigley alternates at end.

During the course of a practice session Beede and Lawther make frequent changes so that it is a matter of guess work as to the first string lineup. It is certain however that the backfield will carry a punch for with such men as Bowen, Hostettler and Lauder carrying the ball there is plenty of weight.

Pirates Split In Twin Bill

LUCAS CAPTURES SECOND CONTEST

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 11.—The Pirates and Reds split in a double attraction Friday, Kremer winning from Rixey 5 to 2 in the opening contest and Lucas taking the second game by the same score with Morrison, Yde and Aldrich on the "Buc" flinging line.

In the first game the Pirates staged a three run rally after two were out in the eighth and offset Hargrave's home run. In the last game Smith of the Pirates brought fans to their feet with a home run but the Reds copped the contest.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

By ED. FRITZ

New Castle will send at least one hundred fight fans to the Jack Dempsey-Gene Tunney heavyweight title fight at Philadelphia, according to an estimate gathered by the writer. Some will journey by train but others will motor to the big scrap. Very few of the fistic fraternity have made arrangements to witness the fistic extravaganza.

Among those who witnessed the fight in which Jack triumphed over Jess Willard were Jimmie Dime, the late George Lamoree, the two Chips, Tom McMahon, a former resident, Marty Gibbons and others too numerous to mention. Were they all here they would agree that providing Dempsey is in the same condition this month as at Toledo, Gene's name would be mincemeat.

There are two local events which will monopolize the attention of men who are inclined to favor sports. One will be the first game of a series between New Castle and Ellwood City. New Castle is a member of the O. & P. circuit and Ellwood has won the Lawrence county loop flag. Our guess is that Ellwood will lose. The other event will be the field trials of the Lawrence County Coon Hunters at the fair grounds. An entry list of 250 dogs is expected. The sponsors have spared no effort to secure suitable prizes.

Talking about dogs, we might mention that we met "Dad" Lyons, noted handler of bench dogs after his return from Conneaut Lake. Being the owner of two bull terriers the writer listened to "Dad's" narrative of what took place at Conneaut. Finally "Dad" spoke a mouthful, as follows: "Always be careful to keep away from the man who is shunned by children and dogs." He went on to say that children and dogs have an instinct grown-ups do not possess. He also rapped dog poisoners, Lyons declaring: "A man who will poison a dog will poison a child."

Billy Glenn expects to have ice skating events at the Cascade Park pool this winter, according to a statement he made to the writer recently. Billy has one of the best pools in this section of the country. For years ice skaters have had no place to skate. Glenn will remove the boardwalks and there will be space for hundreds of ice fans. When Glenn built a pool he did something big. Formerly New Castle swimmers had been journeying to various swimmin' holes and the pool at Idora Park. Things are different now.

Pennsylvanians who are unable to attend the big fight at Philadelphia can see the "movies" of the encounter inasmuch as there will be no legal barriers to stop the display and the first man in this city to get a film will be an enterprising soul. There will be no interstate shipment and for this reason the films can be shown. After Johnson whipped Jeffries a law was passed prohibiting interstate shipment.

Officials and coaches of the Big Ten will meet today and consider football rules, according to Major J. L. Griffith, Western Conference athletic commissioner. The coaches wish to have a thorough interpretation of all rules before the season starts.

Four Murder Cases, Two Manslaughter, In Beaver County

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Sept. 11. Four cases of murder and two of involuntary manslaughter are on the list to be presented to the September grand jury. The murder cases are that of George Walker, charged with the murder of John Freeman; Albert Ruff, of Beaver Falls, charged with the murder of Harry Miller; Ralph Moore of McDonald, charged with shooting James Cairns at Hell's Half Acre several weeks ago and that of Milly Lucento who it is alleged shot and killed Jerome Oppedisano at New Brighton in August.

The two cases of involuntary manslaughter are those against Robert Martin, colored of Leetsdale, charged with the death of Joseph Armstrong and Jas. O'Neil both of whom died following an automobile accident which occurred on the road between Conway and Baden. It has been alleged that he two men were struck by a machine driven by Martin.

Coach Louis Young Of Pennsylvania Takes 58 Prospects For Practice

By HARRY BLOOMBARGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 11.—Coach Louis A. Young of the University of Pennsylvania football team has his 58 "prospects" for this year's grid team at Sea Girt this month for preliminary practice in order to develop the defense for five different systems of play that must be met, he says during the coming season.

Young believes that the important contests are almost as difficult to face as last even though this year's schedule provides a breathing spell between games.

Pennsylvania may not be as strong defensively as they were last year because they have lost a number of linemen and Kreuz, whose backing up of the line saved the team frequently last year, and the necessity of planning defenses for five different styles of play, may slightly weaken the team where it has always been strong, it was said.

Zuppke, at Illinois; Crowley, at Columbia; Stagg, at Chicago; Bobie, at Cornell, and Bezdek, at Penn State, all teach different brands of football, Young explained. Young holds victories over all the above mentioned coaches within the the last three seasons except Zuppke who aided by the famous "Red" Grange, stopped Penn last fall after a string of brilliant victories that included Chicago, Brown and Yale.

Karl Robinson, varsity center for two years, Joseph Wilson, last year's captain, Albert Leth, Howard Long, Emid Thomas, Stanley Sieracki and Emil Heintz, all letter men, will not be with the team this year, while Tillou, a promising center who starred with the freshmen two years ago, has decided not to return to the University.

Veteran ends and backs abound, Young indicated, but the line will probably be composed of a number of inexperienced men. The loss of Robinson at center means, it was intimated, the switching of Jack Butler, a guard to that post.

The coaching staff plans the changing of several end candidates to tackles and guards while Stewart Brydon, center understudy, will in all probability be groomed for a guard position.

The preliminary training squad is the largest in the history of the University. Young declared and contains freshmen from last year, veterans from the varsity squad, a number of men are playing the game for the first time and several who were promoted from the scrubs.

Indications are to a fast and light backfield with Charles Rogers, Alfred Wascolonis, Paster Fields, Jess Douglas, Thomas Freeman, Joe Laird, Richard Odiorne, Paul Scull, Paul Murphy and John Shober, as the principal candidates. The last three named were freshmen last season.

For ends the coaches have George Thayer, All-American of last season, Don Singer, Joe Lenzner, John Hayes, Folwell Scull, Raymond Walker from the varsity and Reese Dill, Joe Schaaf, Bill Sullivan and Ralph Monk, from the freshman team.

The coaching staff for this season is the same as last season with one exception. The resignation of Brodie Stephens, end coach caused a switch that made Ludlow Wray, end coach as well as line tutor.

Captain Hal Dies By Poison Dose

Famous Race Horse Killed By Error Of Chicago Stable Hand

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—Captain Hal, recognized as the greatest stake horse of the year, due to his consistent performances at Homewood and Lincoln Fields race courses, died in his stable yesterday from poison. A stable hand, intending to give the animal some linseed oil, mistakenly fed him a dose of poison from a bottle which formerly contained the oil.

Captain Hal, owned by five tobacco clerks at Louisville, in his last 11 starts won nine races and placed second in the remaining two. The son of Black Tony-Waverly ran second in the Kentucky Derby in 1925 to Flying Ebony. His owners rated him in value at $140,000 and were offered $75,000 to sell the four-year-old, but refused. Insurance covers part of the loss of the horse.

Racing secretaries have enrolled the horse under the ownership of A. A. Kaiser and but few persons knew of the intimate financial dealings of the five Kentucky owners, who struggled to gather the initial purchase price of $2,500 that they might develop the colt.

Was "Bad Post Actor"

As a two-year-old Captain Hal was known as a "bad post actor", but frequent barrier schooling made him one of the best "breakers" on the turf, with the result that his flying starts helped him establish an enviable winning record. This eventually brought him heavy impost in all his latest races, under the present form of handicapping, but did not prevent his finishing in the money.

Trainer Roscoe Goose told of the mistake in feeding the horse the deadly potion. He was being made ready for a campaign at Churchill Downs and, after a gallop this morning, was given the dose of "linseed oil". Shortly afterward he became frantic, foaming at the mouth and lying down in his stall, and died about 30 minutes later. Strychnine is the poison said to have caused his death.

Note:—If recollection serves accurately, Captain Hall raced at the local tracks two years ago.

Gasoline Mileage Greatly Improved

Steel Body, Fine Performance and New Lines of Beauty and Colors

With a new steel body in new lines and color, and as rigid as a steel building, the New Hudson Coach brings even greater improvements in the finest Super-Six chassis ever built.

Gasoline mileage is greatly improved. Added to the more important factors of Hudson economy, it gives lower operating costs than any previous Hudson, or any car of comparable quality.

The Super-Six principle which for eleven years has given Hudson exclusive mechanical supremacy through elimination of vibration, is supplemented by a balanced flywheel increasing smoothness, power, performance and reliability.

Gasoline, cleaned and strained, filtered air, and motor protected from dust and dirt are all taken care of in Hudson design without the added cost and complication of special accessories.

Gives Up Effort To Swim Channel

(International News Service)

DOVER, Sept. 11.—Louis Timson, the American Legion representative of Boston, today gave up his attempt to swim the English Channel after being slightly less than seven hours in the water.

Timson, starting from Gris-Nez at 10:06 last night, surrendered to the tides at 5 o'clock this morning. He was fifteen miles from the starting place, and ten miles from Blanc Nez when he gave up.

The sea was calm when the swimmer started but it roughened later and a heavy drift to eastward set in.

Timson returned to Dover avowing his intention to try again.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

© McClure Newspaper Syndicate

DURING THE "MORMON REBELLION" (1857), BISHOP LEE AND OTHER MORMONS PERSUADED THE INDIANS TO JOIN THEM ON THE WARPATH AND WIPED OUT AN EMIGRANT TRAIN NEAR MOUNTAIN MEADOWS. TWENTY YEARS LATER, LEE WAS CONVICTED OF THE OUTRAGE AND EXECUTED AT THE SCENE OF THE MASSACRE.

IN THE SPRING OF 1858, GENERAL HARNEY WITH THE "ARMY OF UTAH" ENTERED SALT LAKE VALLEY. HARNEY'S SCOUTS REPORTED THAT THE MORMONS HAD ABANDONED SALT LAKE CITY.

BRIGHAM YOUNG HAD LED HIS FOLLOWERS TO SAFETY, BUT WAS DETERMINED TO BURN THE "CITY OF THE SAINTS" IF THE SOLDIERS ATTEMPTED TO OCCUPY IT.

FURTHER TROUBLE WAS AVERTED BY PRESIDENT BUCHANAN, WHO PARDONED THE MORMONS ON CONDITION THAT THEY SHOULD OBEY THE FEDERAL LAWS. THE MORMONS RETURNED TO THEIR HOMES AND PEACE ONCE MORE REIGNED IN UTAH.

N. Y. STOCKS

By W. S. COUSINS,
International News Service
Financial Editor.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Prices were irregular in the brief session of the stock market today, with the major trend of the industrial stock leaders downward. Selling pressure was most apparent at the start of trading in the stocks which retreated most readily in Friday's final period, and the early declines in many of these stocks brought prices to the lowest range of the week.

The first of the week-end surveys of business to be issues after the Labor Day holiday were distinctly favorable. The stock market appeared to be suffering chiefly from an over-brought condition in many of the speculative favorites. It required only a small volume of selling to create a reactionary price movement.

Specialty stocks were able to make some headway, as also were a number of the motor and industrial stocks which moved upward on Friday in the face of a general reaction. Studebaker was the outstanding strong spot in the latter group, moving up to around 61.

Heavy selling of Mack Trucks caused that stock to decline to 11¢, compared with the week's high price of 128. Selling of the stock was attributed to liquidation by some prominent stock operators and pools, as well as by large stockholders who received the 50 per cent stock dividend last month.

Prices in important sections of the market, including the rails and oils, firmed up in the second hour. Short covering and new speculative buying was reported in stocks which had apparently reached a more attractive price level as compared with the high range of last week. Coppers, sugars and tobacco stocks appeared more often on the tape. Yellow truck held quite firmly around 34 on heavy trading. United States Steel and Independent Steels resumed their forward movements and tire and rubber stocks also firmed up.

Commodity markets were quiet and prices generally steady.

Members of the C. D. of A. will meet Monday evening September 13 in the K. of C. hall at 7:30. At the close of the meeting there will be a committee meeting to make further plans for the benefit to be given soon for St. Mary's new church.

Four Are Overcome By Gasoline Fumes

One Man Suffers Probable Fractured Skull, Arm And Leg From Fall

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 11.—One man was seriously injured and three others were overcome by gasoline fumes at the yards of the Atlantic Refining company here today.

William Lindsay, 28, suffered a probable fractured skull, arm and leg, and body lacerations when, overcome by fumes, he toppled from the top of the car which the men were unloading to a concrete pit.

Thomas Hewitt, 47, of Wilkinsburg, A. L. Murdock, 30, of Pittsburgh, and David Coulter, 36, of Pittsburgh, were overcome while at work near the car.

Shock Fatal To West Newton Boy

McKEESPORT, Pa., Sept. 11.—Ten-year-old Frank Orchek of West Newton, Pa., died in McKeesport hospital today from the effects of shock suffered two months ago when a dynamite cap with which he had been playing exploded.

The boy suffered a mangled hand in the explosion but the shock caused heart disease, physicians said, which proved fatal.

To Move Prisoners During Jail Repairs

Forty prisoners in the Mercer county jail are to be sent to jails of neighboring counties while repairs are being made on the Mercer jail. No applications for accommodations have yet been made in the Lawrence county jail according to Deputy Sheriff William Reynolds, but accommodations for 15 have already been secured in the Crawford county jail.

Double Court Next Week Problematical

Judge Hildebrand has been counting on Judge James J. McLaughry of Mercer to assist in holding criminal court next week but he may not be able to be present on account of the serious illness of his sister. It will probably not be known definitely until Monday morning whether or not Judge McLaughry will be able to be present.

Reaction Appears In Stock Market

Renewal Of Short Selling Checked Forward Movement During Past Week

CAR LOADINGS BREAK RECORDS

BY W. S. COUSINS
I. N. S. Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—High money rates, extended profit taking 'distribution", of industrial stocks by the professionals and a renewal of short selling from the same quarter, checked the forward movement of prices in the stock market this week, and produced a reactionary market which was as distressing as it was surprising to the bullish factors in Wall Street.

The closing of all markets on Monday in observance of Labor Day, and the absence of a large group of traders on Thursday and Friday for the Jewish New Year's celebration naturally diverted a good portion of speculative interest from stocks, bonds and commodity future.

A good portion of speculative interest from stocks, bonds and commodity futures. The effect was seen in a withdrawal of buying power from the stock market, particularly in the railroad and high grade industrial shares which led the latest forward movement in prices.

The continuance of the 5 per cent call money rate beyond the usual period after the first of September reflected chiefly the larger demand for funds from the interior points for crop moving and other purposes; also the increased call for money in industrial and commercial activities. In view of the high tension of the industrial plants this year and the comparatively larger turn-over of goods, this firmness in the money market should not cause any great surprise.

Industrially the reports for the week were uniformly favorable. Car loadings for the latest week reported topped all previous records in the whole history of American transportation; steel mills reported a continuation of advance orders beyond expectation; automobile manufacturers presented evidence of an unusually active season for production and sale of cars; mercantile establishments expressed themselves as well pleased with the volume and character of their fall business.

Forty Hour Devotion Starts On Sunday

Former Pastor Of St. Joseph's Church Will Be Here To Participate

Forty Hour devotion will be inaugurated Sunday morning at St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church, with the celebration of Solemn High Mass with the pastor Rev. Fr. A. Weisenberger in charge. The devotion will be continued for the period of forty hours and during Monday. This occurs only occasionally at the different Catholic churches of the city and it is anticipated that many of the members of that faith will make the most of the opportunity afforded them and attend.

Of interest locally, will be the fact that Rev. Fr. J. F. Eger, pastor of St. Joseph's church, Braddock, Pa., and a former pastor of St. Joseph's church, this city, for many years, will return for the devotions and will take part in the services held Sunday evening.

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., Sept. 11.—Mayor W. F. Hurst announced that he would investigate the handling of a $5,000 fire in the downtown business district today by the local fire department which consumed 12 minutes in making a run of the two and one-half blocks.

It was necessary for a business man to summon the Dover fire department, which responded with a "pumper". The flames, which destroyed a grain barn on the Goshen Dairy Company, were caused by spontaneous combustion in 10 tons of new mown hay.

Indian Guide, Named Co-respondent In Stillman Case, Seeks Damages

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Stillman, photographed since their reconciliation and, inset, Frederick K. Beauvais, the "Indian guide".

By Central Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—One half a million dollars. That, no less, can repay Frederick K. Beauvais, the far-famed "Indian guide" corespondent in the Stillman divorce case, for the ostracism which he now suffers as but one result of the libel and defamation he alleges came to him during the divorce hearings of the New York banker and his wife.

Up to the time of the reconciliation of James A. Stillman and his wife, last year, Beauvais maintains that he maintained his silence because a woman's name was at stake. But now that the Stillmans have settled their troubles—including the problem of the legitimacy of baby Guy Stillman—the Indian guide whom Stillman accused of the paternity of Guy feels that the time has come to speak.

Hence his $500,000 suit for damages from Stillman. Defamation of character and libel are the charges.

The petition alleges the libel was uttered in the Stillman divorce petition which charged Beauvais was the father of the famous "Baby Guy" Stillman.

Stillmans on "Honeymoon".

The Stillmans were recently reconciled on the eve of a "second honeymoon" to Europe.

The suit is the latest chapter in perhaps the most sensational marital tangle ever presented to American courts. Before the litigants had withdrawn their various suits, the legitimacy of baby Guy had been legally established, but not until Mrs. Stillman had accused Stillman of supporting Flo Leeds, the former chorus girl, and of being the father of Flo Leeds' son.

When the Stillmans were reconciled in November, 1925, it was announced that a suit brought by Mrs. Stillman had been dropped.

Orders Made In Non-Support Cases By Judge Hildebrand

Weekly And Monthly Payments Are Ordered By Court In Cases

Orders in a number of desertion and non-support cases were made following hearings held Friday afternoon. In the case of Jake Conti, charged with non-support of children he was directed to pay $30 per month.

Roy White, charged with non-support of aged parent, W. A. White, an order was made directing him to pay $2.50 per week.

R. H. Cage, R. L. Cage and Geo. Cage were directed to pay $2.50 per week, each for the support of their aged father, R. E. Cage.

George Swisher was directed to pay $7.50 per week for the support of his wife, it appearing by the testimony that Mrs. Swisher is already getting $25 per month rental on property.

M. W. Cox for support of his wife was directed to pay $3 per week and Ewart Reese for support of wife $4 per week.

Home Street Man Is Badly Injured At Cement Plant

Dominick DeForso of 16 West Home street is confined in the New Castle hospital as the result of painful injuries sustained Friday afternoon while at work at the Lehigh Portland Cement Plant.

The injured man fell from the top of one of the buildings, a distance of about thirty feet. Several ribs were fractured and he sustained a deep cut on his head. He was also badly bruised.

Funeral party with the body of the late Mrs. Hannah Young whose death occurred at Hermosa Beach, Los Angeles, Cal., will arrive in this city Monday morning.

Announcement of funeral will appear in Monday's paper.

CHEWING GUM AT SCHOOL IS BANNED

MONONGAHELA, Pa., Sept. 11.—During the summer Monongahela officials have startled the outside world with a number of reforms, some of which were so cute as to elicit front page publicity in distant cities. But it remains for the Monongahela board of education to deliver the crowning blow, and knock Chief of Police S. S. Burnworth and his reform schedule for the count.

The board of education has announced that chewing gum will be withdrawn from the counter of the high school cafeteria. This is the initial move to discourage jaw exercise in the public schools. Close upon the heels of the announcement comes the information that students will not be allowed to chew contraband gum—that is, gum bought elsewhere, during school hours.

DEATH TOLL IN SHARON BLAST REACHES TWO

(International News Service)

SHARON, Pa., Sept. 11. — The death toll of a gasoline stove explosion in the Frank Cimperman home here was increased to two today with the death of Mrs. Cimperman. Mildred, 2 years old, died a few hours after the blast late yesterday.

The mother, already badly burned, attempted to save the life of her child by re-entering the house after the blast. She removed Mildred from the building, but not before both were burned so seriously as to cause their deaths.

East Brook Man Is Injured By Fall From Roof

Blanchard Hall of New Castle, R. D. 9, received injuries while at work on the roof of a home on Galbreath avenue, Friday afternoon.

Mr. Hall fell considerable distance and was badly cut about the face. His left wrist was fractured. He was removed soon after the accident to the New Castle hospital.

RICH FARMER FOUND GUILTY OF POISONING WIFE TO WED SECOND

M'COOK, Neb., Sept. 11.—Burt M. Davis, former Beaver City grocer and wealthy stock man, was found guilty of first degree murder in connection with the death of his first wife, Blanche, by a jury. His punishment was fixed at life imprisonment. Davis' first trial several months ago resulted in a hung jury.

Davis was alleged to have poisoned his wife so that he could marry Mrs. Kate Resler, a neighbor, which he did four months after his wife's death. Mrs. Resler, held as an accessory, was acquitted. She and Davis blamed the charges to "main street" tongues wagging.

This is an unusual year in baseball. A few of the clubs doped to win are going to win.

ASK NEW ROAD TO STATE LINE

New Galilee And Enon Citizens Aid Boosting For New Highway

A community meeting of the residents of Big Beaver township, Little Beaver township, Darlington, Enon Valley and New Galilee was held at the ball park in New Galilee Friday evening for the purpose of creating an interest in the new road project in which an effort will be made to construct an improved highway from Darlington through New Galilee and Enon Valley to the Ohio state line, a distance of eight miles.

The event was in the form of a booster meeting and was attended by about eight hundred people. A corn and weiner roast was also enjoyed.

Representatives, J. G. Marshall and J. C. Patterson of Beaver, Pa., were present and made addresses of interest of the proposed highway. Frank George of New Galilee and George Andrews of Enon Valley also gave talks.

W. J. McGeorge one of the oldest residents of that community, who is 81 years of age, has presented a petition representing the citizens to the commissioners of Beaver county. The petition is the largest one ever presented to these officials and is an evidence of the interest shown by the people of the community. A committee will also wait on the State High Way Department at Harrisburg.

The event was one of the most enjoyable ever held in that community. Selections by the Mt. Jackson band furnished music for the evening.

Harness Shop Is Forced To Quit

(International News Service)

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 11—Chalk up another defeat for Old Dobbin and the one horse shay. The Perkins-Campbell Co. here one of the largest concerns in the United States manufacturing harness, saddles and accoutrements of the horse and buggy era is quitting the business.

Large harness show rooms in New York and Chicago already have been closed according to officials, and the harness departments of their huge plant here are being sold or leased for other types of business effective in October.

The corporation will turn its $20,000 capital to the manufacture of leather specialties peculiar to this modern age and the automobile.

"Only in the west does a demand for harness and saddles remain sufficient to justify their manufacture declared Milton D. Campbell, vice president of the company "and the harness houses of Milwaukee, Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas have the technical advantages of lesser freight rates to distribution points. Hence we are not needed in that field."

The Perkins-Campbell Co., was established in 1879 by Henry A. Perkins and Braxton W. Campbell. It is now owned in entirety by the Campbell family.

FALL KILLS GIRL JOLTED FROM AUTO BY SUDDEN SWERVE

BLAIRSVILLE, Pa., Sept. 11.—As an automobile driven by Albert Buzzanotti of Black Lick was swerved suddenly to avoid a collision with a machine occupied by Congressman M. Clyde Kelly and his wife, of Braddock, and two other men, on the William Penn highway, Mary Lucas, 17 years old, of Palmertown, fell from Buzzanotti's machine and was killed.

Buzzanotti was driving in the middle of the highway, according to witnesses, and when the machine occupied by Congressman and Mrs. Kelly and M. K. Clementson and William Clementson, of Marchland, Ind., approached turned his car suddenly.

CITY HEALTHY, SAYS REPORT

Only Four Cases Of Contagious Disease In Past Month

Milk Test Report For Month Submitted By Health Officer

"A new low record for contagious disease was established in August and the city was entirely free from contagion, excepting four cases of whooping cough" said City Physician William L. Steen to city council in a report presented Friday. This is most unusual in a city the size of New Castle and the number reported is the smallest since the health department was instituted."

Although the physician did not have much contagion to deal with he made analysis of water and milk and other matters pertaining to the department.

The average for August bacteria per c. c. in milk examined, he reported was 24,000.

The following is a table of milk examined naming the firm, raw or pasteurized milk and the bacteria per c. c.

LONDON, Sept. 11.—With the approval of King George, the singing of the choir of the Chapel Royal, St. James Palace, has been recorded by a phonograph company, the first records to be issued this month.

The records include one of the favorite hymns of Queen Mary—"O Love that will not let me go".

HUNTS MISSING BROTHER HERE

Missing Youth Last Seen In New Castle About One Year Ago

ABRAHAM SOLOMON

Charles Solomon, of Detroit, Michigan, brother of Abraham Solomon, the latter shown in the picture, has been in this city for several days, seeking to secure some trace of his brother, who has been absent from his home in Detroit, for the past three years.

Abraham, who is 23 years of age, was seen in New Castle about a year ago, but since that time, no trace of him has been found. The family, especially Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Solomon, of 72 La Belle street, Detroit, Michigan, is anxious to learn of his whereabouts, and the brother Charles said that $50 would be paid for information as to his whereabouts.

The search here did not prove successful in locating him and it is believed he has left this city. Fears that something has befallen him are entertained by the family.

Anyone knowing anything of the youth is asked to make it known to the parents in Detroit.

Foster's Weather Prognostication

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—A wave of below normal temperatures is expected to cross southern states centering on September 11, central and northern states centering on 8; during this wave killing frosts are expected to make their first appearance of any consequence this season, reaching down out of the north and northeast probably as far as northern corn belt and mountain areas. While September temperatures are expected to average below normal generally the month will not be one of continuous cold or wintry conditions, but rather of great extremes of warm and cool temperatures that will average below normal. The real danger periods of September from cold waves and frost in central and nothern fields will center on 17 and 23. The condition of some fall crops especially corn is such as to cause some anxiety during these two periods. The general average condition of corn is still somewhat behind that of the average year, whereas the average year does not find corn ready for frost in central belt before September 15 at the very earliest. A storm wave of moderate intensity is expected to cross continent during week centering on September 14; warm wave preceding this storm center will carry central and northern temperatures consideraly above normal and probably furnish a muchly desired period of harvest weather. Periods centering on 18 and 25 will be expected to average warm and dry in southern sections where such weather will be in great demand for cotton and rice cool waves and above normal precipitation are expected in southern sections during these two periods causing conditions favorable to pests and bad for harvest.

Solar Radiation.

For the present at least theories relative to solar radiation its cause and effects, have not sufficient substantial evidence to establish them as fact or law. Such theories however are of a force that actually reaches our atmosphere, some phases of which have actually been measured, therefore unlike many astrophysical subjects solar radiation theories deal with what may be termed a tangible force; such theories will be proven right or wrong by future discovered facts. Many years of accurate and detailed records will probably be necessary before forecasts of the effects of solar radiation upon plant life, germination of plant and animal life, etc., may be made with any degree of accuracy; cycles of cause and effect are so varied and overlapped that a long record of past results are necessary for successful research. Empirical forecasts may be made from synoptic tables in a similar method to that now employed by the government bureau in its daily weather forecast, but I am unable to see that valuable forecasts of effects of solar radiation to a given locality would result from such a method; forecasts of world averages could probably be made with a fair degree of accuracy by such methods but would be of value to scientific research only. It is also possible that a search of past records would reveal sufficient data of great extremes to be of value in forecasting great local extremes and to aid in checking up tehoretical results. To forecast for a given locality, tables of records from the same locality must be used Detailed records of solar radiaton that are now being made will be of immense value in the future.

Wet Drive Will Not Have Kick Declares Wheeler

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—There will be no more "kick" in the drive of anti-prohibitionists for modification of the Volstead act at the next congress than is found in a bottle of "near" beer, Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon League said today.

"The wets will ferment and create a little suds on their steins, but it will amount to nothing," Wheeler said.

On the other hand he predicted enactment of new prohibition legislation, proposed at the last session of congress for strengthening the federal enforcement program.

Some men are such darned old skinflints they manage to keep all their debts paid.

To Which Class Do You Belong?

People are divided into two classes as to the way they use their money—wasteful people and careful people. Which are you?

If you are careful with your money, you will get ahead. If you are wasteful, you will not.

It doesn't make much difference how much you earn, or how much you have, waste will ultimately consume it.

It doesn't make much difference how little you earn, or how little you have, careful use of money will bring you some measure of financial success.

SPAIN WITHDRAWS FROM LEAGUE

Formal Spanish Withdrawal Note Given To League

Germany Comes In As Spain Leaves; Leaders Hope Spain Will Reconsider

LEAGUE AWAITS GERMANY'S MOVE

Indications Are That Germany Will Press For Disarmament Action

By S. DUNBAR WEYER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

GENEVA, Sept. 11.—The League of Nations starts a new phase in its career today.

Germany sits high in the councils of the league today, but Spain has announced her withdrawal.

The formal Spanish note, giving the usual two years' notice of withdrawal from the league was delivered today, leaving the numerical strength of the league exactly where it was yesterday before Germany took her seat.

Hope Spain Reconsiders

League leaders, although visibly concerned over the withdrawal of Spain, live in hopes that before Spain's two years of notice have expired that she will have reconsidered and will again take her place in the assembly.

It is generally understood here that the Spanish decision to withdraw was not based on the refusal of a permanent seat in the council to Spain alone, but that the decision was taken after it became apparent to Spain that her demands for a reorganization of the Tangier administration would not be met.

Look to German Attitude

With the Spanish decision made

Brunette, With Unbobbed Hair, Is New Type To Hold Title "Miss America"

New Beauty Queen Hails From Tulsa, Oklahoma—Blonde Is Second

International News Service Staff Correspondent

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 11.—Norma Descygne Smallwood, a dusky, long-haired girl of medium height, from Tulsa, Oklahoma, today carried the scepter of beauty as "Miss America, 1926."

She had been crowned the night before by old King Neptune before a pulsating, shouting, hysterical crowd that made a little pathway of its heart for the perfect feet of a new majesty.

It was a new line of royalty. The abdicating queen, Fay Lanphier of California, is blonde and tall. Miss Smallwood, with her Mona Lisa hair-dress and dazzling teeth, after a manner justifies the brunette. She is 18 years old, weighs 118 pounds, is 5 feet 4 inches in height and has straight dark brown hair, worn parted in the middle with braided buns over the ears. Her skin is fair—her eyes are a blue.

Colorful Event.

The elevation of the beauty to her throne was a colorful event. There were the beauties representing their cities, the dignitaries of the city, King Neptune, Miss Lanphier and the jury. Eyes were focussed on the sealed golden apple of Paris, over which "Miss Atlantic City," as the official hostess, presided. She broke it open, and the announcer began calling off the names upon the ballots, enclosed yesterday morning.

"Miss Tulsa," he called.

The crowd cheered. Miss Tulsa had won the large cup for the most beautiful girl in evening dress on Thursday night, and she was being

State Insurance Commissioner's Move Assailed By Williams

Local Man, State President Of Insurance Federation, Decries Action

Says Abolishing Advisory Board System Is Political Reprisal

In a statement today, Joseph C. Williams of this city, president of the State Insurance Federation of Pennsylvania, assails the action of State Insurance Commissioner Einar Barfod, who has abolished the advisory board system of licensing agents to sell insurance.

"It is an unwarranted attack upon a system that was designed and has proven to be a protection to the insuring public," he said. "The insurance men of this state have worked five years to build up this protective system and to see it torn down by a man who is not an insurance man, who is not capable of properly adjudging the value of it, is most discouraging."

Governor Pinchot's Fault.

"We are not surprised at such action," said Mr. Williams. "We expected little from Governor Pinchot, for we believe that the action of Barfod is merely a political reprisal of the governor over the refusal of the insurance men to support him for the United States senate. We believed another candidate to be more capable and supported him.

"His removal of Insurance Commissioner Samuel W. McCullough and the appointment of Einar Barfod is in line with the same tactics that prompted the removal of Game Commissioner John W. Phillips, a man who had served under five governors and who, 30 days after his summary dismissal by Governor Pinchot, was appointed United States game commissioner by President Coolidge.

"However, we believe that this attempt to tear down the advisory board in this state will last only until the first of the year, when we hope the government of the state of Pennsylvania will once more be in

Italian Premier Escapes Injury; Pedestrians Hurt

Crowd Seizes Bomb Hurler To Wreak Vengeance; Saved By Police

BOMB THROWN BELIEVED TOOL

(International News Service)

ROME, Sept. 11.—Premier Mussolini escaped an attempted assasination today.

Ermete Giovanni, an 18-year-old Italian youth, hurled a bomb at the premier as he drove in his automobile to his offices in the Chigi palace at 10 o'clock this morning.

The bomb struck the top of Mussolini's car and rolled off to the ground and exploded in the street. Mussolini being uninjured, but four passersby suffered severe injuries from the pieces of flying bomb.

The Plaza Porta Pia was, as usual, fairly well filled with pedestrians and four of these were struck by bits of the bomb as it went off with a terrific din.

Pandemonium Reigns

There was almost instant pandemonium and pedestrians who had seen Giovanni throw the bomb made a rush for him. The youth was seized upon and there was an instant cry that he be lynched. The police, who arrived when the crowd was scuffling with the would-be assassin, had the greatest difficulty in rescuing him from the hands of the mob, who were demanding his instant death.

The premier took charge of matters and gave orders at once that there be no reprisals and that those who had been injured be given the best care.

To his friends and colleagues in Chigi palace the premier again expressed the opinion that "divine intervention" had saved him to carry on his work for Italy.

When Giovanni was finally rescued from the mobs and taken to police headquarters it was learned that he had recently arrived in Italy from France. Giovanni admitted to the police that he had crossed into Italy from France surreptitiously and had not had a passport or the necessary credentials.

Believed Tool of Older Heads

While no official statement was made, angry Romans immediately declared that the plot to assassinate the premier had been fostered by anti-Fascists who have made their headquarters in France, and it was charged that Giovanni was the tool of older and wiser heads.

There were immediate rumors put into effect that Italy would make demands upon France for the curbing of the anti-Fascist activities in Nice and other points along the border, as well as in Paris.

While angry mobs surged through the streets, Mussolini, undisturbed, was at his desk in the foreign of-

Choir Singer Is Taken To Scene Last Night To Get Reactions

Gorsline Will Be Questioned Further To Secure New Facts

BY GEORGE LAIT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Sept. 11.—Police authorities investigating the Hall-Mills murder were expecting today to resume their questioning of Ralph Gorsline, vestryman of the church of which the murdered Rev. Edward W. Hall was pastor, and Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills, the other victim of the double slaying, was a choir singer.

May Identify Voices.

The police are attempting to gain further admissions also, from Miss Catherine Rastall, a choir singer of the same church, who, with Ralph Gorsline, admitted having been in De Russel Lane at the time of the slaying, and having heard shots and voices. Police are trying to persuade these two important wit-

MAY DEPORT BOOTLEGGER

Warrant For Action Issued Against Remus, "Millionaire Bootlegger"

(International News Service)

TROY, O., Sept. 11.—A warrant charging him with being an undesirable alien and subject to deportation, has been served on George Remus, "millionaire bootlegger", in the Miami county jail.

His hearing before the immigration authorities will probably not be held until after he completes his present sentence in the local jail, which expires July 1, 1927. Remus has been in the toils of the law for several years as a result of his bootleg activities. He served a two-year sentence in the federal prison at Atlanta and is now serving a year's sentence in the Miami county jail on a liquor charge.

Not Citizen.

Shortly after his conviction and incarceration in the Atlanta prison, the federal authorities began an investigation in regard to Remus' citizenship. After several years of investigation, the immigration authorities announced that Remus is not a naturalized citizen and is subject to deportation to Germany, his native country.

Remus admits being born in Germany but claims his father was naturalized shortly after the family came to America, more than 40 years ago. His daughter Ramona is at work at present in charge trying to find the record of the naturalization of the father.

STATE LEGION SESSIONS END

Final Event Is Parade At Stroudsburg This Afternoon

(International News Service)

DELAWARE WATER GAP, Pa., Sept. 11—With only two candidates remaining in the field for the office of state commander, the eighth annual convention of the Pennsylvania department of the American Legion will close here today with the election of officers.

The fight for commander is between Col. Robert M. Vail, of Scranton, and Col. Edgar Munson, of Williamsport, both of those named have been placed in nomination.

Al Sheasley, of Emporium, probably will be elected vice commander without opposition. James J. Dieghan, of Philadelphia, will be re-elected state adjutant, it was indicated. The convention yesterday increased the salary of the adjutant from $4,000 to $5,000 a year.

Following the close of the convention this afternoon the delegates will go to Stroudsburg, where the annual parade will be held. It is expected that at least 5,000 Legionnaires will be in the line of march.

Past Commander J. Leo Collins, of Pittsburgh, defeated retiring Commander Lucius McK. Crumrine, of Washington, Pa., yesterday for the Pennsylvania representative upon the national executive committee of the Legion.

MISSING MAN RETURNS

George Griffith, of 122 Quest street, reported missing, was today reported to the police as having returned home.

SECOND DAY TO REGISTER

New Castle Voters Have Second Chance On Next Tuesday

Second registration day for voters of this city will be held on next Tuesday, September 14. Registrars will be at all of the polling places from 8 to 10 a. m. from 2 to 6 p. m. and from 7 to 10 p. m. for the purpose of registering all persons who desire to vote at the November election.

Persons presenting themselves for registration must bring with them a county tax receipt, showing the payment of taxes within the past two years. Naturalized citizens are required to present their naturalization papers.

It is important that all who possibly can register next Tuesday. The registration was light on the first registration day, and there is always a rush on the last day. By registering next Tuesday, voters may save themselves the time and annoyance of waiting in line on the last day, which is a frequent occurrence.

Craig Trial For Jameson Slaying Comes Up Monday

Will Be First Case Before Court When Criminal Trials Begin

District Attorney J. Elder Bryan announced today that the first case to be taken up before Judge Hildebrand on next Monday morning will be that of Samuel Craig, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of David Jameson, Jr. Craig was originally charged with murder, but the grand jury ignored the first count on the indictment, and returned a true bill on the second, charging manslaughter. It is expected that there will be considerable interest in the case and that some new testimony will be produced by both the commonwealth and the defense.

Cross-Examine Star Witness In Daugherty Case

German Metal Financier Relates Payments To Late John T. King

WILLIAMS TO BE CALLED TO STAND

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Cross-examination of Richard Merton, German metal financier, the government star witness in the trial of Harry M. Daugherty, former attorney general, and Colonel Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian, charged with conspiracy to defraud the government will be resumed Monday.

It was learned today that the defense plans to call George R. Williams, first assistant to Colonel Miller. Williams was mentioned as "a conspirator," but his name does not appear in the conspiracy indictment.

Merton on the stand related how and why he had paid $441,000—$391,000 in bonds and $50,000 by check—to the late John T. King. In 1921, in consideration of the transfer of the $7,000,000 German equity in the American Metal company's assets, seized by the government at the time of the war to the German-controlled society Suisse Four Valeurs De Meleaux.

Allowed by Daugherty

The transfer was allowed jointly by Daugherty, then attorney general and Miller, then alien property custodian. The present indictment against them both alleges dishonest negligence on their part in the matter, and also alleges participation in a subsequent "split" of at least the $391,000 in bonds.

Merton also told of Colonel Miller bringing personally from Washington almost $6,500,000 in two checks, which represented the bulk of the proceeds involved in the Society Suisse-American Metal company. He said Miller had turned the checks over to him at a champagne dinner party which he, the witness, gave in the Ritz-Carlton hotel for Colonel Miller and the late Jess Smith, alleged go-between in conjunction with King. Gold cigarette cases were dinner favors.

He told how he previously had given a retainer of $50,000 to King to smooth the way for the Swiss concern's recovery of the metal money and how he had agreed further to pay an additional 5 per cent to the total amount involved if the deal went through by August 15, or 2½ per cent if by September 15—nothing at all if it took longer.

Soon the season will be over soon the series will be on, baseball bugs with slipping reason, soon will be entirely gone. Somehow series in October drive the average Yankee mad, banker, merchant, plumber, doctor, matron, husband, lass and lad. Makes no difference where they're playing, in New York or old St. Lou, millions will attend the series, stand at score boards, see it through. Skies may darken, wind may bellow, baseball fans are most immune, when the series games are playing, every day is early June. Soon the series will be started, fans have little time to wait, till the umpire starts it rolling, weather's warmer, seventy eight.

Here, Husbands! Follow These Rules And Your Wife Will Be Happy

(International News Service)

LONDON, Sept. 11.—A decalogue for husbands, designed to reduce the number of unhappy marriages and divorces, has reached here from Austria where it was drawn up by Frau Ida Bock, a noted Austrian writer.

Frau Bock's ten commandments follow:

1—If you love your wife, be at least now and then attentive; flirt with her as you do with other women.

2—If you love your wife, do not assume that she knows it; she wants to hear it; therefore tell her "I love you".

3—If you think your wife is the moving spirit who spreads comfort and beauty in your home and you are pleased with it, do not take it as a matter of course—recognize her efforts and thank her occasionally.

4—If you, in your invincible conceit, think that she is for you alone in the wide world do not act accordingly. Try to win her.

5—If your wife is equal to you in intellect, then let her be your comrade. Let her share your inner life and do not show your superiority.

6—If your wife is not equal to you in birth or intellect, then see in her the mother of your children and treat her accordingly.

7—The love of a wife means her utter self-forgetfulness. Do not take it for granted, but pay attention to the thousand little sacrifices she so willingly makes for your happiness.

8—Be faithful.

9—Do not praise your mother, sister, aunt, cousin to your wife and do not hold them up as models.

10—If you find it difficult to recognize the wisdom of these nine commandments, try now and then to obey one or another of them. It will pay you in the end, and you will be the eighth wonder of the world—the ideal husband.

Town Talk

Mrs. Martha Gillespie of McClelland avenue reported today that she had a sun flower in her garden that was twelve feet, four inches high. The plant is expected to grow higher as there are very few blooms on it.

Fall like weather has arrived early this year. In some sections this morning reports were made that a light frost had been noted.

Speaking of sunflowers which reach unusual heights there is a stalk on the property of Newell McKibben of New Bedford on the Youngstown road which is attracting considerable attention according to a communication to the News. The plant is 11 feet three inches high and is surmounted by a huge flower at the top while 42 smaller blooms decorated it towards the bottom. The stalk itself is almost as heavy as a sapling. The sunflower in question was not planted but sprung up from a stray seed carried there by the wind.

Local ministers are attaching great importance to the meeting which will be held Monday morning at he Y. M. C. A. and an excellent attendance is looked forward to. All of the preachers of the community have completed their vacations and are prepared to enter into the fall program of religious activities with a will. A campaign of personal evangelism is planned for October and it will come in for consideration at the meeting. The program committee will take charge of the meeting and an interesting session is assured.

Matters connected with the opening of the schools for the 1926-27 term will be taken up at the meeting of the New Castle school board which will be held Tuesday evening of next week.

Ding-a-ling went the telephone bell in the office of a well known alderman this morning.

"Hello," said this pleasant mannered alderman.

"How much do you charge to marcel hair," came back the sweet voice of a young lady.

The alderman looked at the phone a minute, blushed a little (may have been his natural color) then was heard to remark into the phone, "Lady, you've got the wrong number. That's not our kind of business."

known, the league now turns to Germany to learn what her policies will be as a member of the league. Herr Stresemann, German foreign minister and head of the German delegation to the league, gave a clear indication yesterday that Germany intends to press for disarmament through league action.

It is understood here that Germany gave a promise not to bring up the Sarr question or the question or the problem of allied military control in the league, but pressure in Berlin may force Herr Stresemann to raise the question of reduction of the Rhine occupational forces at an early date, and if this is done then Germany may have an early demonstration of the effectiveness of the league.

paid the homage of new allegiances. "Miss Washington."

Here was divinity. Marjorie Joesting, the darling of the spectators at all appearances, received an acclaim only superseded by the demonstration when the new queen was known.

Now again and again and again the announcer intoned "Miss Tulsa".

In another moment without waiting to count all the votes with the requisite eight already chalked up, came the announcement, "Miss Tulsa—now Miss America, 1926."

Miss Washington Game.

But while Miss Tulsa sat on the red and white throne, while "Miss America 1925" was settling the glittering crown upon her head while the tumult of the acclaim of 10,000 people surged in one overwhelming wave, backstage, "Miss Washington" was laying claim to the honor of being a dead-game sport.

Tears trembled on her lashes, her mouth jerked with the effort to smile and take the blow standing.

"It's hard to be so close and not win," she said. "But I am glad she won. Miss Tulsa is beautiful—beautiful." The south's prettiest girl wasn't on parade any longer and she huddled within the arms of first Miss Lansing and then Miss Baltimore, sobbing with exhaustion and disappointment.

Miss Tulsa won out over a field of 53 girls gathered from all over the United States. The choice of the judges had narrowed down to a blonde and a brunette. Even before the final two were selected—when, while technically five were to be voted for, yet only four were considered—it was the golden girl against her darker sister. Miss Washington and Miss Greater New York are blondes; Miss Tulsa and Miss Denver are brunettes. The final two wear their hair long, those eliminated are bobbed.

Eldest of Two Sisters.

Miss Tulsa is the eldest of two sisters. Her father was killed in an automobile accident in California five years ago and her mother has re-married. She is now Mrs. W. A. Dickerson of Tulsa.

Miss Tulsa is a sophomore at the Oklahoma Women's college, majoring in art and expects to complete her course.

The new Miss America has been honored as no other. She has carried off the two highest prizes—that of best dressed girl in evening clothes and the supreme recognition—the first time in the history of the pageant that this has been so. She also took the first prize in her section in the bathers' revue.

"This is a greater honor than I ever hoped to achieve," said Miss Smallwood. "I didn't want to enter the contest at home in the first place, but was coaxed to do so. No girl would be a girl and not be supremely happy. But I don't know what I'm going to do, except maybe to get a good night's sleep. This business of being a queen is a rigorous one. Of course, I shall finish my art course at college. But now that I am 'Miss America'—I guess I better think everything over before I make any definite decisions."

Miss Tulsa rides extremely well, plays hockey and swims.

The tangible evidences of her victory are a $5,000 golden mermaid, a permanent trophy, a $1,000 diamond wrist-watch and the Edna Wallace Hopper silver loving cup.

Today marks the official close of the pageant, although the beauties remain the guests of Atlantic City over the week-end.

Middle Atlantic section—Philadelphia first, Orange second, Union City, N. J., third.

Southern section — Baltimore first, New Orleans second, Huntington, W. Va., third.

It was estimated that a quarter of a million people saw the parade. It was delayed slightly towards the close when a private stand collapsed. Twenty people received minor cuts and bruises.

Mother Voices Pride

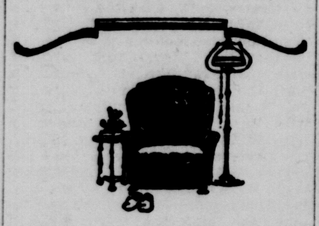

ALTON, Ill., Sept. 11.—Mrs. Bertha Joesting, a widow, voiced her pride today that she is the mother of one of the Atlantic City beauty contest winners. Her daughter, Marjorie, as "Miss Washington, D. C.," was awarded second prize.

"I am proud to be Marjorie's mother," said Mrs. Joesting, "Marjorie has always been a good sweet girl, and she deserved to win."

She excelled in dancing, according to Mrs. Joesting, in 1922, joined Ziegfeld's "Sally."

"But Marjorie left the stage," her mother explained, "after listening to a sermon at the Little Church Around the Corner in New York."

New Castle Fair To Be Staged This Year On Largest Scale In History

Indications are that the New Castle Fair this year will be the biggest in the history of the association since its first exposition held in 1920. More concessions, a great number of racing entries and the addition of a night fair combine to strengthen the belief that the New Castle Fair will surpass its former record for attractions.

The Fair officials are all looking forward to a large attendance. The Fair dates, September 28, 29, 30 and October 1 were decided upon with a view to having the best weather possible and if the weather holds good the attendance is expected to exceed all former records.

No Cessation Of Dancing At Park

Cornwell's Orchestra To Succeed Kings Of Tempo, Beginning Monday Night

Although concessionaires will operate only one more day, excepting such concessionaires that thrive during fall weather, the Rainbow Terrace pavilion will operate every night, according to park officials who announced today that commencing Monday night Cornwell's Cavalliers will succeed the Kings of Tempo as the orchestra. Dances will be held until September 18, according to the present plan. The new orchestra is said to be one of the best in this section of the country.

the hands of normal people. Until then we expect to hold our organization intact, ready to take up the work under the new governor."

Board Organized in 1921.

The advisory board was organized in 1921, when Insurance Commissioner McCullough approved it. The purpose of the board was to have insurance men of character and ability in the various counties pass upon the requirements of a candidate for an insurance license. Before he could be granted a license he must first demonstrate his knowledge of the insurance contracts he expects to sell, and also his integrity. Through the advisory board, it was possible to keep out of the insurance field shysters and incapable agents.

Under the ruling of Commissioner Barfod, this system of licensing agents by mail.

The State Insurance Federation is bitterly incensed over the action of Barfod, and at the next meeting of the executive committee in Philadelphia, it is expected that some steps will be taken.

RE-ENACT SCENES IN HALL-MILLS MURDER

nesses to identify the voices they confessed to hearing.

Late last night, with the moon hanging in about the same position as it did on a similar night, four years ago, when the Rev. Edward Hall and his choir singer were shot to death, Miss Rastall revisited the now famous Phillips farm, the scene of the murder, and saw the crime re-enacted by detectives. The purpose of the play acting was an attempt on the part of the police, to get her reactions under conditions similar to those that prevailed on the murder night, September 14, 1922.

Miss Rastall appeared highly nervous as she stood near the "scene".

Authorities were highly elated over the fact that Gorsline's story corroberates the testimony of Jane Gibson, so-called "Pig Woman", star witness for the state.

Two More Speeders Pay Usual Fines

Wilmington Avenue And Liberty Street Scene Of Reported Violations

There is hardly a day, now, but that some motorist, who has forgotten to keep within the speed permitted on the streets of the city, does not appear in police court and pay a fine of $10.

John Riley was going just faster than necessary and much faster than the speed regulations of the city permit, when he was stopped by Motorcycle Officer Criswell on Wilmington avenue, and ordered into the police station. He paid a fine of $10.

Norman Brumeister was driving fast and also neglected to observe the barricades placed on Liberty street, while repairs were being made and as a result was ordered into the police station by Officer Allgier. He drove over the section of Liberty street between Clayton street and Wabash avenue where repairs were being made and through the barricades. He paid a fine of $10.

fice in Chigi palace. He went about his work as usual.

Crowds gathered in the Piazza Colonna before Chigi palace and cheered Mussolini, while others knelt in nearby churches and shrines and offered up prayers of thanks for the deliverance of the premier.

The premier continued at his desk and word came forth from his offices that he felt that the citizens should go about their work as usual, and the word was quickly passed that there should be no demonstrations or reprisals.

While no official statement has been made as to Giovanni's affiliations, it is reported that he has been identified as a member of the Italian Communist party.

The police state that only four pedestrians were injured by the exploding bomb, but it is reported that as many as eight persons suffered injuries of varying degrees.

Twelve pedestrians in the Plaza suffered injuries.

Giovanni was immediately seized, and it was only with the greatest difficulty that he was saved from being lynched.

Rome, as soon as the news of the escape of the premier spread, gave itself up to city-wide demonstrations and celebrations.

Although reprisals were feared, an appeal issued by the Fascist party, at the direction of the premier, warned against reprisals, and there have been no untoward incidents reported as yet.

"BROKE," MAN KILLS SELF BEFORE MONEY SENT FOR ARRIVES

ALTOONA, Pa., Sept. 11.—When Andrew Holzman of Seattle, Wash., was arrested in this city a few days ago, practically penniless he told police he had requested the State National Bank of Snoqualmie, Wash., to telegraph him $75. The police paid little attention. That night Holzman committed suicide in his cell at the city lockup. This morning the First National Bank of this city, through the Western Union Telegraph Company, received the remittance of $75. It will be used to help defray the funeral expenses of the man.

Miss Catherine Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Wilson, Wallace avenue, left this morning for the Kindergarten and Primary school of Cleveland, where she is a senior student.

Miss Betty Hutchinson, of Cleveland, O., who has been the guest of Miss Dorothy Pander, Blaine street, has returned home, accompanied by Miss Pander who will remain there for a week.

Richard Deveral, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Deveral of North Jefferson street left this week for Pittsburgh to attend the Carnegie Institute of Technology. Deveral, who for several years has been a member of the Senior High school band, will major in music at the Pittsburgh school.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lewis of Chicago are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Evans of South Mill street, while en route home from a visit with Prof. Reese Reese of Pittsburgh, Pa., who just returned from Wales, where he was a member of the choir that won the main chorus prize of the national Welsh Eisteddfod.

Special Message To College Students

Service In Recognition Of Students Leaving City At First Baptist Church

Special service in recognition of all students who are leaving the city for various schools and colleges, will be conducted in the First Baptist church, East and North streets, Sunday evening at 8 o'clock.

The pastor, Rev. George M. Landis will preach from the subject, "Hard Advice for a Soft Age." There will be special organ numbers by the organist, Garth Edmondson and by the chorus choir.

The Lord's Supper will be observed at the morning service and reception of new members.

BAND SERENADES NEWS EMPLOYES

Prof. Ralph Gaspere and his band, which is participating in the St. Vitus celebration, which started Friday and comes to a close this evening with a fine display of fireworks at the B. & O. grounds on South Mill street, visited The News office this morning and serenaded the employes. The music was good and was thoroughly enjoyed.

Trinity Rector And Family Return

Report Pleasant Summer Vacation At Eastern Points And Sesqui-Centennial

Rev. Philip C. Pearson, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, his wife and son Philip, Jr., returned home last evening after a two months' vacation, most of which time was spent at St. Hubert's, the Ausable club and other points in the Adirondack mountains. The trip was made by automobile and Boston and other New England points were included in the itinerary. They report a most enjoyable time.

Enroute home they spent six days at the Sesqui-Centennial at Philadelphia and report that the big exposition is now complete and one of the most interesting exhibits that it is possible to see. From an educational standpoint, it is wonderful, they report.

Among the more interesting things seen at the exposition was the pageant "Freedom," in which 2,500 persons take part and which depicts the effort of man to gain freedom from the stone age until the present day.

Another thing of interest was the Baltimore and Ohio locomotive, which was on exhibition at the Centennial in 1876, which was run to Philadelphia for the sesqui-centennial under its own steam.

Rev. Pearson will resume his duties Sunday and be in charge of the services.

WHY SMITH'S MASTER CLEANED CLOTHING STAYS CLEAN LONGER

Smith's Master Cleaned Clothing stays clean longer. This reason is plain. At the Smith Master Dry Cleaning Works every article to be cleaned is washed in a continuous flow of purified cleaning solvent until every particle of impurities is entirely removed. By means of the continuous flow system the impurities are washed away and the solvent purified before being used again. A deordorizing process eliminates the gasoline smell and clothing is as clean and fresh as when new after Smith's Master Dry Cleaning. New clothes stay clean for a long time, and Smith's Master Dry Cleaning restoring newness gives clothes new life through cleanliness.

September is a month when great care is needed to keep clothing looking clean and presentable. Around the house, besides clothes, there are many things that need cleaning now. Tapestries, draperies, hangings, carpets, rugs, blankets, comforts and bed spreads can be refreshed by periodical dry cleaning. Particularly at this time should you send your hats, which represent a considerable investment, for renewal. Gloves and ties also can be restored to original condition.

Smith's Master Dry Cleaning is the ideal cleaning for everything. Call 885 and a truck will call for your clothing and return it to you wrapped in a sanitary bag. Every article is insured to protect you. Call 885 for the super service Smith's Master Dyers and Cleaners give.

Diamonds Worth While

When you next buy a Diamond be sure you are spending your money wisely.

The market is always flooded with poor quality diamonds which are seldom worth what you pay for them.

On the other hand, fine quality, perfect diamonds are scarce and have the most dependable value of any commodity in the world.

You don't have to go away from home to buy good diamonds. We specialize in the finest quality—absolutely perfect diamonds. Our values not equalled anywhere.

FORTUNES THAT GO BACK TO THE PEOPLE

THE widow of the great grandson of John Jacob Astor has died in New York, leaving an estate of nearly $10,000,000, practically all of which is to go to public uses.

Columbia University and the Home for Incurables receive a million dollars each and the remainder is divided among educational, charitable, religious and other institutions which have been organized to help those who are not in a position to help themselves. Even the Prison Association, formed to aid convicts who desire to rehabilitate themselves, is given a modest bequest. The terms of the will have been carefully and thoughtfully drawn, and it is significant that the amounts left to relatives total only $800,000 — just enough to serve their purpose and not enough for wild extravagance.

There is food for thought in the filing of this interesting document, suggests the Philadelphia Inquirer. It is not the first time that vast sums of money have been left for public uses, and it is another reminder that great fortunes, as a rule, go back to the people. Many men and women dispense their wealth freely while alive and others leave it to worthy causes after their death. The list of large public benefactions during the year 1925 fills eight columns of small type in the World Almanac. Those of the present year promise to be still more numerous. The Rockefeller and Carnegie Foundations are systematically disbursing the money given by these philanthropists. In many cases they afford boys and girls opportunities which were not possessed by these millionaires.

Those who complain of the uneven distribution of wealth forget that in countless instances rich men act as trustees for those who have not had the industry or the ability to accumulate money for themselves. But even where fortunes are not given away for charity or education they are broken up on the death of their possessors and divided into many parts. Great wealth is not always a blessing; it has its cares and responsibilities, but in this country at least it is ultimately more widely distributed that most of us imagine.

NO MORE GENERAL STRIKES

WHATEVER the leaders may think, the rank and file of British labor has had enough of the general strike. The proposal to give the General Council power to call out labor organizations for partial or complete stoppage of work was voted down by an overwhelming majority at the Trades Union Congress at Bournemouth.

The general strike in May did not last long enough to create the suffering that would have ensued had it continued, though the losses it inflicted were staggering. But the warning as to the evil potentialities of such an industrial weapon was none the less impressive. Furthermore, it was plainly shown that the British people would never be terrorized by these tactics. It is gratifying to find that the lesson has been learned.

LIFE MORE LIVABLE

THE assertion that Americans are motor mad, that we are sorely afflicted with "acute motoritis," may be a clever one, but aside from mere cleverness in phrasing it does not add anything to the discussion. It may be held that just as we were once "bike crazy" so we have now gone wild over the automobile, but this would not be true.

In a great measure the bicycle was given up by people who took to the motor car as a more effective means of getting about; at least those that could afford it did so. And just as they used the two-speed vehicle to expedite the business of the day, so these persons are this day using the motor car for many things besides pleasure rides. For many people the ownership of an automobile merely means that they can carry on with more dispatch the business of the day.

If it is analyzed correctly what this increase in motor cars means is that we have raised fairly generally our standard of living. No doubt the phenomenon would surprise anyone who had left the civilized world 40 years ago and came back to it today.

But he would be surprised at more than the number of motor vehicles now to be seen on the streets. He would be surprised at the number of so-called luxuries which have become necessities among us. And all these so-called luxuries have made life more livable; they have extended our reach and raised life from the plane of the primitive.

The development of the automobile and its increasing use is only one more indication that our standard of living has been raised. We know what we want and, even at the cost of some little hardship, if that is necessary, we are going to get it.

We may call it "motorists" if we like, but the point is that it is a good thing to have, and that it will endure until something better than the motor car makes its appearance. And then we shall go in for that.

Rt. Rev. Thomas J. Shahan, who today enters upon his 70th year, is one of the fore-most Catholic educators in America. For seventeen years he has been rector of the Catholic University of America and during the same period, save for a brief interval, he has held the presidency of the Catholic Educational Association. Bishop Shahan is a native of Manchester, N. H., and received his education at Montreal college and at the American College in Rome. For five years after his ordination he was connected with the diocese of Hartford, Conn. In 1891 he was called to the Catholic University as professor of church history and patrology, which position he occupied until appointed rector of the institution in 1909. In 1914 he was consecrated bishop of Germanicopolis in the Baltimore cathedral by Cardinal Gibbons.

During the world war excitement, Mr. Buhl of Sharon, out of the kindness of his heart provided to give France and Belgium two million dollars to help rebuild their countries after the war was over. We think, had Mr. Buhl suspected what France would do, the million dollars would not now be paid to France. It could be used in Sharon better.

A weather prophet predicts a long, hard, cruel and scandalous winter. In this climate it is more than safe to predict such a winter. Those who have to do with keeping people warm are prone to urge such predictions in the hope it will help their business—and it does.

After this summer's experience with daylight saving by New Castle, before we go into it again an effort should be made to make it more unanimous in Western Pennsylvania. Only a few places have it and very few cities outside of the large cities have it. No city between here and Erie has it, but Erie has it. No cities between Pittsburgh and Philadelphia have it. Even in the Seventh Ward in this city it is not being used and it has caused a lot of embarrassment and daylight saving is considered more or less of a nuisance by those who are active in this community and get away from it once in a while long enough to see what other people are doing.

Speaking about touring in foreign lands or in distant parts of the United States, we are going to advise a tour of Pennsylvania. We have only been able to advise this recently as we had never toured our own beloved state ourselves. We can do so now. Just take a trip over this state, over its three or four magnificent paved highways and you will get an eyeful you cannot get any place else in the world. Beautiful and wonderful are the right words to use in describing this Grand Old Keystone State.

A London newspaper man has offered five thousand dollars in English money, of course to any one of English birth who swims the English channel. Having a German butcher's daughter and a German baker swim the channel is too much for that British publisher. He is even willing to give real money to hear of one of his own country swimming the channel.

GOD, LET ME GIVE—
God, let me be a giver, and not one
Who only takes and takes unceasingly.
God let me give, so that not just my own,
But others' lives as well, may richer be.

Let me give out whatever I may hold
Of what material things life may be reaping,
Let me give raiment, shelter, food, or gold,
If these are through Thy bounty, in my keeping.

But greater than such fleeting treasures may
I give my faith and hope and cheerfulness,
Belief and dreams and joy and laughter gay
Some lonely soul to bless.

Who says there is no such thing as conscience? When I went to bed the other night, I left my coat where I had thrown it on the sitting room sofa. For more than an hour I tossed around in bed, unable to sleep, realizing that I should have hung that coat up in an orderly manner on a closet hook, Finally I got up and did that very thing. Then I went to sleep as easily as a tired child.

Commenting on the statement of the Rev. Father in Pittsburgh who declared by 1935 the beauty contest would be held in the nude we are led to think that the Father is mistaken only in the time. Booth Tarkington a few months ago predicted in five years the skirt would disappear and the woman would wear pants. He was asked why he put it off five years, and that is about the case of the bathing beauty contests. Why put it off as long as 1935 for the nude.

The cost of golf in this country is placed at one half billion dollars, but that doesn't include the time off from their work of those who play it.

Crime Costs Money.
Wealth in the Sea.
Are You Resilient?
We have Slumped.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1926, by N. Y. American, Inc.

Louis Siebold says crime costs the United States ten thousand million dollars a year, three and a half billions that criminals steal, six and a half billions spent on police, insurance against theft, prisons, criminal courts, etc.

Justice Victor J. Dowling of New York attributed our crime wave to the "wreckage of the war," which wrecks men physically and morally. Young men were told that killing somebody you never saw before across the ocean is a noble deed. A certain number, feeble-minded, concluded that if it is all right to kill for Uncle Sam it's all right to kill for their own pocketbooks. It will take some time to get over that.

Everything depends on your period and your cause. Farmer Holben of Pennsylvania, fined $2, said that it was unjust, he would never pay, killed a sheriff and his deputy sent to get him, and was shot to death afterward. His wife said "God would protect him".

Thirteen hundred years ago, William Tell, Swiss farmer, thought he was unjustly treated by Gessler, the Austrian governor, who, according to the legend, which isn't true, made everybody bow to his hat hung on a pole. Tell killed Gessler after shooting the apple from his boy's head, and he is the hero of Switzerland.

Mrs. Koppel lost a $3,000 diamond bracelet swimming in the ocean. Mr. Mayes, swimming teacher, dived and found it.

The tyrant of Samos lost his valuable ring overboard. His cook found it in a fish's stomach. Every German boy learns a poem about that. Er stand auf seines daches, zinnen, etc.

A good old saint in the ancient legend lost his crucifix overboard in a stormy sea. When he landed on the beach a crab came out of the water and handed the crucifix to him.

All interesting, but nothing compared to wealth that will be brought from the sea when submarines are perfected. One intelligent prospector is searching the bed of the ocean through glass in the bottom of a specially built submarine which recently traveled from Holland to San Francisco.

Where the ocean is now, dry land once was. Where dry land is, the ocean was. England's chalk cliffs were the bottom of the sea once. Oil wells are operated below the water of the Pacific. The old prospector went climbing over mountains on his little donkey. In future centuries he'll explore the ocean's deep valleys by submarine.

Wonderful is resiliency in man or material. If you bounce up after you are squeezed down, nothing can keep you down. If you stay flat when you are squeezed flat, you don't go far. That's why our Jewish friends succeed. They possess resiliency.

Scientists are searching vainly for synthetic rubber. Its discovery would be worth billions to the world. Synthetic elasticity for the human mind and courage would be even more valuable.

By the way, if any young man can find a way to "reverse the vulcanizing process of rubber," making old rubber as good as new rubber, as old iron is made good as new, that young man will realize the ambitions of millions, and get enough cash to make Paris and Palm Beach take notice.

Opening the American Legion convention at Niagara Falls last night, Theodore Roosevelt said: "Since the war we have slumped. A great wave of material prosperity has swept the country. Men and women are thinking simply in terms of dollars and cents, automobiles and creature comforts."

Although a Republican, with a capital R, Mr. Roosevelt attacks Republican money-spending at elections in Pennsylvania and elsewhere.

He would be the strongest vote-getter the Republicans could nominate for governor in New York state this fall. But the owners of the Republican party don't want him, as they didn't want his father. To get rid of the father and "shelve him" they made him vice president. You know what happened.

"The Democrats are overjoyed at Lenroot's defeat in Wisconsin. It will make trouble for the Coolidge regime."

It may make more trouble for interests that control many Democrats in the senate.

Blaine is a Democrat in the real sense of the word, although in the Republican party. He is an uncomfortable person who thinks this country should be run by the 115 millions that live and work in it, not by the few that sign the big checks. Such a man will disturb Democrats as well as Republicans in the senate.

The country is prosperous, there is lots of money. Wall street was happy yesterday. Borrowers, to quote the street, "literally had money pushed at them".

Mr. Mellon needing 350 millions offered only 3⅛ per cent interest. The whole issue was over-subscribed in advance.

We have lots of gold. But we haven't any flying fleet. One of these days those that have the flying fleets may have our money and give us experience in exchange.

Bathing ladies of Biarritz may presently miss an ear. Fashion says they must wear rubber earrings, brilliantly colored; also highly colored kid or satin shoes. If fish in the sea like trout in the streams, are attracted by brilliant colors, earrings and slippers may cost some charming intellectual bather an ear or a foot.

Chicago's trade union college, according to Miss Herstein, chairman, purpose to add "charm and grace of manner" to the college curriculum.

The public laughs and shows the esteem in which labor is really held in this glorious democracy. Yet everything comes from labor originally.

Englishmen like to think that they descend from William the Conqueror. His mother was a tanner's daughter, washing clothes in the brook, when the Duke of Normandy first saw her.

Leonardo Da Vinci, illegitimate son of a poor peasant woman, supported his aristocratic half brothers and sisters, born of a mother whose position "made it impossible for his father to marry her".

A Mother's Counsel

"There is sin in the world," said the mother wise,
"but be you brave and true
And never the joy shall quit your eyes
Or the sin bring hurt to you.

"There are those in the world who would betray.
But be you not afraid,
If you hearken not to what tempters say
You shall never be betrayed.

"This life knows much that is red with shame,
But, daughter of mine, be true
And the words which poison a woman's fame
Shall never be said of you.

"For you may walk where the sinners are
If your heart be pure within.
And whether the road be short or far

IF YOU REFUSE—

SEPT 11 . . . . . .

To be generous do not complain if your money gives you no pleasure.
To be tolerant do not complain if you are the victim of prejudice.
To be open minded do not be surprised if much truth is closed to you.
To be loyal do not be surprised if some one else is at your desk some morning.
To be faithful do not except your cleverness to atone for it.
To be consistent do not expect your children to overlook it.
To be patient you will lose many fine prospects.

Bible Thought For Today

THE PRINCE OF PEACE:—For unto us a child is born: and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called, The Prince of Peace. Isaiah 9: 6.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

FINE WORK—FINE WORKMEN.

There is more to the steel industry than great blast furnaces, long lines of open hearth furnaces, great molding pots, cranes, crucibles, ladles, giant roll trains, fiery heat, and Gargunthian shadows. There is also the watch spring and the tempered springs, steel finer even than that found in the watch spring. An American steel company recently booked an order which demonstrates that great size only represents one phase of production. The order was for nearly four miles of material. Altogether the finished product weighed but ten pounds. It was for strip steel one eighth inch in width, and less than one-thousandth of an inch thick. It was an order for the smallest cross section ever rolled on a commercial basis. These four miles of spring steel were to be used as a part of a very delicate weaving machine, and the price was $75 a pound.

Although strip steel is commonly rolled in this country thinner than ordinary paper, and accurate to one thousandth of an inch, it was necessary to entrust the production of this to a firm in Sweden. The delicate task of rolling was done by a master craftsman, 77 years of age. He was helped by a younger understudy, a man of only 50. Both of these men have worked for the firm employing them since they were fourteen years of age. They have devoted their lives not only to the mastery of the art of rolling steel with the finest of finishes and the utmost accuracy, but they have remained in the employment of one firm all these years.

An American workman who has worked for one man sixty three years is not easy to find. Are there any such in Lawrence County?

Dr. Crane's Editorial

THE BASIS OF MARRIAGE

Mrs. Mary Borden, alias Mrs. Sears, an American novelist, in a lecture on international psychology in London, some time ago, deplored sentiment as the sole basis of marriage. She pointed out that in America love making and sentiments were the usual precedents of marriage, and the consequence was much after marriage estrangement.

With the French, on the contrary, and the Europeans generally, happy marriages were more common than in America because economic well being considered the proper basis of married life.

It is all too true that sentiment alone should not dominate in marriage. But then, on the other hand, neither should economic considerations dominate.

The best system seems perhaps to be a blending of the two. There should be enough sentiment to render the contract agreeable and tolerable, but it should be recognized that this sentiment is useless without a sound economic basis.

Among Americans the matter is attended to by the young people themselves almost entirely, while in France, for instance, the parents have much to do with the case.

There is no reason why a girl or boy about to be married should not take the advice of the parents. They are older and wiser and their experience ought to mean something. That the parents should entirely control the matter is contrary to American convictions. But that the young people themselves should manage the whole business does not seem to be reasonable.

A little more tractability on both sides perhaps would be advantageous. Parents should consider the feelings and preferences of the child, while on the other hand the child should consider the advice of the parents. If the two points of view in the case were properly coordinated the insurance of a happy marriage would be greater.

Many a marriage which is undertaken purely from sentimental reasons has speedily gone upon the rocks. Where one's individuality is so pronounced that he decides the whole matter for himself, that individuality may later lead him to go his own way after marriage without consulting the feeling of his wife, and a divorce or seperation may ensue.

The best way is to take all the elements in the case into consideration. Sentiment is to be reckoned with, since the basis of our happiness is always sentimental to a degree, while on the other hand economic reasons should not be disregarded, for much of our well being depends upon our means.

POEMS I LOVE

BY CHARLES HANSON TOWNE

"I Am The Wind," by Zoe Akins.

Fine a playwright as Miss Akins is, she is an even better poet; and the pity of it is that she gives us of late so few metrical expressions. In her love poems she frequently rises to an exalted plane and if the drama did not so insistently call to her she might do big things in the realm of song.

I am the wind that wavers,
You are the certain land;
I am the shadow that passes
Over the sand.

I am the leaf that quivers,
You the unshaken tree;
You are the stars that are steadfast,
I am the sea.

You are the light eternal—
Like a torch I shall die;
You are the surge of deep music,
I but a cry!

Blue Prevailing Color For Fall

Suits, Topcoats And Hats For London Men Displayed In New Shade Blue

International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Sept. 11.—This Fall is going to be a very blue one for fashionable London men-about-town, according to the early hints of London tailors. "Plumblue," "China Blue," and "Madonna Blue," are among the new colors threatened for suits, topcoats, and hats.

Sir Phillip Sassoon, one of England's richest and most eligible bachelors, is already affecting suits of these shades, and the Prince of Wales was observed coming out of York House the other day in a near-blue turn-down hat.

These three shades of blue, according to the tailors, are to be the leading colors, because they tone well with other shades. Shades for hats in a list that reads more like a dressmaker's than a hatter's include Bordeaux, Chili and Azalea, three tones of red, cedarwood and buff, and lilac, storm-gray, chamois and sage.

London's literary coterie is already excited over H. G. Well's new novel, "The World of Mr. Clissold," the first volume of which is due to be published in September, and the other two volumes at monthly intervals.

Wells' publishers have made an arbitrary innovation for London, sending the book to the reviewers three weeks before the date of publication. Several well-known English people who are still living are said to be portrayed in the new book.

Tmericans trekked to the North for the grouse shooting season in greater numbers than ever this season, according to the tourist agencies, railroads and leading hotels. Terrific prices are reported to have been paid for the pleasure of renting several of the more famous Scottish moors, much to the displeasure of many English sportsmen, who complain that the Americans—with their freedom with money—are forcing up prices to an unprecedented extent.

Pierpont Morgan was one of the many distinguished Americans who made the journey North, while others who rented moors were Viscountess Furness, the former Thelma Morgan Converse, Jardine Bell Whyte of New York, J. L. Steers of Boston and his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Glorney of Boston.

Many Americans unable to make the trip North emulated the English gourments by having grouse sent down by airplane a few hours after the official shooting esason opened.

Prominent hoteliers and storekeepers estimate that London hotels and stores benefited to the tune of five million dollars a day by the anti-American demonstrations in Paris, many Americans having cancelled proposed trips to France and devoting longer time to London and England through the fear of being involved in "incidents."

The whole of the English Royal Family is now vacationing. King George and Queen Mary are leading the simple life at Balmoral, the Prince of Wales is spending his time between London and visits to Sandwich for golf, and other members of the Royal Family are at their respective country homes for shooting, walking and deer-stalking.

London society circles credit Prince Henry, third son of King George and Queen Mary, with the intention of taking unto himself a bride in the very near future. The names of a young Scandinavian princess and an accomplished daughter of an English peer, a distant relation of the Royal Family, are being mentioned.

Methodist Church Conference Opens In Kittanning, Pa.

(International News Service)

KITTANNING, Pa., Sept. 11.—Two hundred clergymen and laymen were in attendance today at the 93rd session of the Pittsburgh conference, Methodist Episcopal church, which includes the territory of southwestern Pennsylvania, northern West Virginia and eastern Ohio.

Officers for the ensuing term are Rev. Dr. J. C. Bloomfield, Pittsburgh, traveling president; Rev. A. J. Green, Pittsburgh, secretary; Rev. C. M. Smith, New Brighton, journal clerk; Rev. O. M. Bolton, Dunbar, statistical secretary, and Rev. H. M. Peterson, Fordyce, treasurer.

A proposal to raise $500,000 for Adrian college is under consideration by the conference, which ends its session next Monday.

Garment Makers Organize Strike

(International News Service)

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 11.—Battle lines of the International Garment Makers' Union have been extended seventy-five miles eastward from the seat of their strike war in New York.

Pickets are stationed in New Haven where city officials have ordered them to give up their task while their leaders are urging them to stand firm and make a court test of the right for peaceful picketing. Stamford has had several legal engagements as a result of the great New York strike.

Workhouse For All Wife Beaters

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 11. — Wife beating, a popular indoor sport in Pittsburgh, according to court records, must stop, Magistrate A. D. Brandon has ruled.

Long workhouse sentences will replace fines as the penalty for wife beating the magistrate has announced.

Rev. S. H. Moore To Preach At Central

Rev. S. H. Moore, of Eustice, Fla., former pastor, will preach at the services in the Central Presbyterian church on Sunday morning and evening. These will be the last services in the church, prior to the coming of the new pastor, Dr. C. B. Wingerd, who takes up his duties one week from Sunday, at the Central church.

There is every indication for a most encouraging winter at the Central church.

Ice For Iceland

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—What looks like the coldest business deal in history has just been put over by an European firm which obtained a government concession for construction of a refrigeration plant in Iceland.

According to a report to the Department of Commerce today from United States Consul Maurice C. Pierce, at Bergen, Norway, the Iceland government will give its full support to the project. The new ice plant is to be located at Reykjavik.

Iceland heretofore has worried along on natural ice of which it is reported to have a considerable supply.

Church School To Resume Sunday At Trinity Church

Sessions will be resumed tomorrow at Trinity church school. The fifth and higher grades will meet at their regular time, 9:30 a. m., and the primary classes up through the fourth grade will assemble at 11:00 a. m.

For a number of years it has been the custom of the school to close for a period during the summer vacation, re-opening when the public schools re-open for the fall term. It has been found that a gain is made in enthusiasm and interest on the part of both teachers and pupils by means of this plan.

A good attendance is anticipated for this first meeting of the new school year.

NEGRO CONVICT PAYS PENALTY

(International News Service)

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., Sept. 11—The unclaimed body of Henry Jackson, negro, who was hanged last night at the state penitentiary, was buried here today.

Jackson was executed for the murder of Earl Langfitt of Parkersburg, a prison guard. He was serving a life term for murder at the time he killed the guard.

Twelve persons, the smallest audience in the history of the prison, witnessed the execution. Jackson was dead 12 minutes after the trap was sprung.

"God bless my soul," was Jackson's last remark.

Two Tennis Matches Played On Friday

At 3 o'clock Friday afternoon Florence Waddington met with Helen Galant to play off the second match of the Y. W. C. A. tennis tournament. The girls played three hard sets of tennis which lasted for one hour and 55 minutes, with a two-minute rest between the first and second sets and five-minute rest between the second and third sets. The girls were quite evenly match, however Miss Galant warmed up to the game while Miss Waddington was not up to her customary standard. First set, Florence Waddington, games, 6-4; second, Helen Galant, games, 6-2; third, Helen Galant, games, 6-1.

The third match of the tourney, between Ruth Jamison and Floy Owens, began at 5:45 p. m. Friday and ended at 7:45, with two hours of real playing. This match also called for three sets to determine the winner. First set, Ruth Jamison, games, 6-2; second set, Floy Owens, games, 8-6; third set, Floy Owens, games, 6-2. Miss Jamison had the better serve of the two, while Miss Owens gained on her return balls. In the second set, "games all" was scored no less than four times, which indicates that the girls were quite equal.

The match between Ruby Niemi and Mrs. Aileen Stone, postponed Friday will be played Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock. This match promises some keen entertainment. All games are being played at the Carnegie playground court.

Teacher Training Class To Graduate

Members of the Teacher Training class of the Highland United Presbyterian church, taught by Mrs. George W. Conway, will be graduated in connection with the services at the church on Sunday morning. The young ladies have completed the course of training and will receive diplomas at this time.

No Longer Smoky!

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 11.—Pittsburgh has temporarily lost its nationally known nickname of "Smoky City" according to W. S. Brotzman, local meteorologist. Skies as clear as those in any part of the nation are in order this week, he announced today. Friday the skies above Pittsburgh were officially recorded as being the clearest east of Denver.

FOUR ARE HELD FOR THEFT OF FREIGHT GOODS

Four Charged With Theft Of Interstate Shipments Of Merchandise

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 11.—Charges of thefts of interstate shipments of merchandise today were filed against Orville Cartwright, 40, a Pennsylvania railroad freight conductor, of Dennison, O., George W. Andrews, 35, Pittsburgh restaurant owner, his wife, Margaret, 34, and Earl Baker, 33, of Dennison, in Carnegie, Pa., police court. The four were charged with being implicated in the theft of $4,000 in merchandise over a period of four months.

Andrews, his wife and Baker, arrested by Carnegie police after a gun battle which followed pursuit of Andrew's car, mentioned Cartwright in subsequent questioning, and the conductor was arrested.

Andrews, in the information filed against him, is accused of acting as a "fence" in disposing of merchandise which police allege was taken from freight cars after the seals were broken by other members of the gang.

Carnegie police held the four to await action by Federal authorities.

Silk goods and other merchandise valued at $400, which police said was found in Andrews' car, was held as evidence.

SHARON TEAM TO COME HERE

Noted Degree Team Of Sharon P. H. C. Coming In October

Members of New Castle Circle No. 5, P. H. C., who have witnessed the beautiful floorwork of the Sharon degree team will be pleased to know of a delightful event now in progress for a visit from this crack team from the parent circle and a splendid program under the direction of the Guardian of No. 1. This was decided at the session held on Thursday night when the local circle accepted the invitation from Sharon to exchange programs for the "good of the order" in both circles.

The session will be held some time in October, when the Sharon team will initiate a big class for No. 5 and put on their wonderful drill, followed with a program presenting Sharon's finest talent.

The Knickerbocker team of New Castle will return the courtesy, initating a large class for Sharon, presenting a program of unusual merit.

The session of Thursday night was a busy one. The fall and winter plans for social events promise to bring out the usual splendid gathering of the membership.

Supreme Auditor Dr. R. G. Baird of Sharon and several of the service men now working in the city in the interests of the order, gave brief addresses along insurance lines and a social hour closed the interesting session held by No. 5.

LILLY B. JONES,
Secretary.

OBEDIENCE TO LAW (Temperance Lesson)

Lev. 26:5; 14-20

Golden Text: "Do not drink wine nor strong drink, thou, nor thy sons with thee." (Lev. 10:9).

In an accommodated sense only can this portion of Scripture fulfill the evident purpose of the international committee, i. e., to teach obedience to our national prohibition laws. Let it always be remembered that these words were spoken to the theocratic nation Israel, which was in covenant relationship to Jehovah. Israel, an earthly people, was at this time under the covenant of the law, which conditioned all temporal blessings, personal as well as national, upon strict obedience to that law.

In striking contrast to Israel is the church, a heavenly body, under the unconditional covenant of grace, which gives a much more distinctive place to the individual. Heavenly rather than earthly blessings are held before the eyes of the church as an incentive to loving obedience and service (Rom. 8: 17-18; John 17:24; Eph. 1:3; 2:6-7; Phil. 3: 20-21; Heb. 12:18-24; I Pet. 1: 3-5). While the Christian has the assurance that his needs will be supplied (Phil. 4:19), he is also warned that in this world he may expect tribulation, persecution and affliction (John 15:18-21; 16: 33; II Cor. 11:24-27; II Tim. 2: 12).

On the other hand, certain eternal principles of God's governmental dealings are enunciated in this passage, which are operative in every age. Obedience to the laws of God, whether found in His Word, on the statute books of the nation, or in the realm of nature; always brings health, happiness and blessing. History shows that those nations which have been most obedient to the laws of God, either in regard to worship or morals, have been blessed and prospered above all other nations of the earth.

I. "BLESSED ARE THEY THAT KEEP HIS TESTIMONIES" (Psa. 119:2; Lev. 26:3-5).

1. The supreme reason for obedience is because God commands it. Jehovah himself is the antecedent of the pronoun "my" in verse three. Above all rules and regulations of man are the statues and commandments of God. The majesty of the law-giver demands obedience. Because of who He is, God has the absolute right to make laws for His creatures.

With the Christian the supreme motive for obeying God is love rather than fear (John 14:15). The child of God obeys God, not only because of who He is in His majestic glory; but because of what He did in His matchless grace. We obey Him because we love Him, and we love Him because He first loved us (I Jn. 4:19) and gave Himself up for us (Gal. 2:20).

2. The secondary reason for obedience is to gain the promised blessings. God promised unlimited productivity and unquestionable protection to Israel if His laws were obeyed. Subsequent history demonstrates that periods of national obedience in Israel were periods of plenty. During these times her cities were safe and her armies were victorious. As the child of God walks in the spirit and feeds upon the Word, his soul becomes fat, the riches of grace unfold before him and he gains the victory over the adversary.

II. "THE WAY OF THE TRANSGRESSOR IS HARD" (Prov. 13:15; Rev. 26:14-20).

Having commanded obedience, God now in faithfulness fortold the frightful effects of disobedience. We see in this lesson both the "goodness and the severity of God" (Rom. 11:22). Let us observe:

1. The course of disobedience (vs. 14-15). There is progress in lawlessness. Man goes from God by definite steps downward (Psa. 1:1). Note the steps:

(a) Failure to hear God's Word—"If ye will not hearken unto Me" (vs. 15). This condition is generally due to neglect of God's Word and worship. How frequently we become so occupied with our prosperity that we do not take the time to study God's Word and meditate upon it. We must read His Word to know His will.

(b) Failure to obey God's Word—"And will not do all these commandments". Those who forget to hear soon forget to do. One of the most prolific causes of disobedience is the fact that the Word of God no longer has the supreme place in many hearts and homes. Not only should "all" the counsels of God be declared (Acts 20:27), but "all" should be obeyed. We have no right to select certain portions to believe and obey and reject other portions which we may not like.

(c) Disapproval of God's Word—"And if ye shall despise (reject) my statutes" (vs. 15). Those who disregard and disobey God ever seek for some excuse for so doing. Hence an effort is made to disprove and disapprove the Scriptures and show that they are not inspired and are contrary to the superior claims of intelligence. This attitude is seen in many exponents of the so-called "modernistic school".

(d) Despising of God's Word—"And if your soul abhor my judgments" (vs. 15). Rejection is soon followed by revulsion (Rom. 1:28). In many circles today the Bible is held up to contempt. It is little wonder that the laws of man are despised when the laws of the Almighty are scorned.

(e) Covenant breaking—"that ye break my covenant" (vs. 15). Men who break faith with God will soon break faith with their fellow men. The nations which regard God's Word as a "scrap of paper" will soon regard their sacred national agreements in the same light (Rom. 1:31; II Tim. 3:3).

(f) Confirmed hardness of heart—"And if ye will not yet for all this hearken unto me" (vs. 18). Continuance in sin lessens the probability of the forsaking of sin. Man becomes so depraved when he forsakes God that even the warnings and chastisements of God are unheeded.

2. The curse of disobedience is manifold, whether personal or national (vs. 16-17). The sinning nation and the sinning individual will surely suffer.

(a) Physically (vs. 16). The physical results of sin are apparent. Those who break the moral laws put themselves in the path of unmentionable afflictions and unspeakable suffering. Those who break the liquor laws pay for their violation in disease and death.

(b) Mentally—"And make the soul to pine away" (vs. 16 R. V.). Mental suffering is often more intense than physical suffering. The accusations of conscience, fear of exposure, remorse and despair have driven many a sinner to suicide.

(c) Economically (vs. 16). Crop failure was a result of Israel's sin. If we note the periods of famine in Israel's history we will see how accurately this prediction is fulfilled. It is possible to be an honest business man and a Christian at the same time. Our nation need not expect continued prosperity if it continues to turn its back upon God and His laws.

(d) Nationally (vs. 17). Israel was defeated by her enemies, carried into captivity, weakened in national morale; because she turned against God. Our nation should be warned by the finger of history.

3. Chastisement for disobedience (vs. 18-20). While the miseries of the previous verses came largely in accordance with natural laws and through the hands of Israel's enemies, yet behind them all we see the chastening hand of God seeking to bring His people to repentance. Many times God had to apply the rod the "seven" additional times (vs. 18), until the arrogant pride of Israel was broken (vs. 19). What a wonderful picture is this of the chastisements of the wayward child of God. His heaven is iron, unpenetrated by his prayers, and his earth is brass, barren and foreboding. In the Word of God brass is a symbol of judgment.

We should distinguish between the punishment of the disobedient child, which is corrective and curative in its purpose, and the punishment of the unsaved, which is punitive and unremedial.

As individuals may we obey the Word of God, which involves obedience to the laws of the state (Rom. 13; I Pet. 2:13-17). Only thus can we expect national prosperity and security.

Miss May Kelty To Leave For Texas

Missionary Among The Spanish Speaking People To Train Mexican Converts

Miss H. May Kelty of this city, who has been for several years a missionary among the Spanish-speaking people of the Argentine, S. A., and the Island of Cuba, will leave Monday evening for San Antonio, Tex., where she will engage in special Bible school work for the training of Mexican converts as missionaries to their own country.

The Mexican missionary work was established some years ago under the supervision of Rev. H. Ball, superintendent of Mexican missions of the Assemblies of God, whose headquarters are at Springfield, Mo.

Miss Kelty will give her farewell address at the Pentecostal Tabernacle on South street Sunday evening.

When Thou Makest A Feast

Call the poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind: Luke 14:12; 13, 14, call not thy friend, nor thy brethren, neither thy kinsmen, nor thy rich neighbors—this is the reason we entertain and help poor mothers, widows and children all this week. Read the following scripture references, Job 29:16, Tech 11:7, Matthew 25:31-46, 2 Cor. 6:10, 8:9, James 2:2-6. I will be at the Bible House Mission, 10 E. North St. every day from 8 to 9:30 a. m. arranging for poor people to be taken to the camp ground. Volunteers with autos and people giving baskets come daily from 8 to 9 o'clock. L. CANADA VOTES NEXT TUESDAY

Voting In Dominion Will Decide Issue Between Meighen And King

Premier Is Confident Of Victory, While Kings Looks To Progressives

(International News Service)

OTTAWA, Canada, Sept. 11. — Canada expects a vote that will shatter all previous records of past federal elections when the total figures of the balloting on September 14 are made known.

After one of the most spirited political battles in many a decade interest is at fever heat from one end of the dominion to the other.

Both party leaders, Premier Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen and William Lyon McKenzie King are confident of victory.

The eyes of all Canada are focussed on western Canada and the French Canadian province of Quebec. Premier Meighen is counting on Ontario to bring him victory while former Prime Minister King looks to Quebec to put him over with the assistance of the western Canada progressive provinces.

The campaign has been waged around three big issues—the tariff, the constitution, and smuggling between Canada and United States. Other minor issues have appeared most prominent of these being the immigration question and the trek of native born Canadians to United States.

From political chieftains of both the conservative and liberal parties, it has been announced that whichever party goes down to defeat will be reorganized from cellar to garret.

"Bull" the killer, "Mike" the rustler, and "Spade" the card sharp—a trio whose very names sent a chill down the spines of brave men—formed a protecting ring for a slip of a girl—and their lives make a drama on the screen that has never been surpassed.

Unending lines of adventurers rolling westward—
Untold numbers of unsung heroes in the fight for gold—
Unbending hearts in a land as cold as steel, where primitive passions and physical power ruled with a mailed fist—where might was right and weaklings dropped by the roadside—
Into this maelstrom of gold-maddened men and frenzied women rode a slip of a girl—and "3 BAD MEN!"
Terrors of the west, wreakers of havoc, border killers who settled disputes with the shooting iron, they formed a protecting trio for this dainty bit of femininity—
And they rode into eternity with a smile that this transplanted desert flower might realize the secret of her dreams.
It's the mightiest of all great stories of the birth of America's tremendous western empire.
The greatest thrill the screen has ever seen—the mightiest race for gold in the history of the world—that's what you'll see in "3 BAD MEN".

Border Treaty Is Agreed On

(International News Service)

BELGRADE, Sept. 11.—A treaty securing the present frontiers of both countries and pledging mutual aid in case of attack will shortly be signed between Poland and Jugo-Slavia according to a statement by the Polish ambassador to Jugo-Slavia.

The negotiations for the treaty have already been completed and the document will be signed shortly for Jugo-Slavia by the foreign minister Nincic and by the Polish minister, M. Zaleski for Poland.

Nincic will visit Warsaw after the signing of the document.

Woman's place used to be in the home, but this summer it seems to be in the English channel.

ABE MARTIN On Illiteracy

TH' COUNTRY SCHOOL O' YISTERDAY

This is supposed t' be a purty enlightened nation, an' in an educational way things are buzzin' along at a lively rate t'day, but at th' beginnin' of our preparations t' jump in th' world war th' army illiteracy tests showed that we wuz twenty-six per cent illiterate. An' that didn' include those who could read an' write but didn' do either. An' when we recall th' ole one-room country school, an' th' class o' teachers that presided o'er 'em, an' th' hundreds o' thousan's o' country children that attended 'em, it makes me wonder if somethin' wuzn' wrong with th' army tests. Th' ole time skunk-infested country school wuz only open fer a short term each year, a period when th' snow wuz too deep t' do any farm work. "Ever' time I'm in th' vicinity o' a skunk I recall t' mind that Columbus discovered America, that th' earth is round, an' that th' Mississippi river empties int' th' Gulf o' Mexico. Th' odor o' skunk is associated with all th' lessons an' trials an' tribulations o' my country school days," Tell Binkley remarked lately. Ther wuz a skunk's nest under ever' country schoolhouse, an' what crops o' intellectual an' odoriferous giants those modest temples o' learnin' did turn out—thousan's upon thousan's o' country boys an' girls with jest enough education t' hold ther heads up among th' stock an' chipmunks. Who wuz th' teachers? It wuz quite th' thing fer town boys an' girls o' slender means, an' still slenderer educations, t' apply fer country schools t' teach. Twelve dollars a month an' found wuz good pay fer ignorant, inexperienced boy an' girl teachers with nobuddy dependent on 'em, an' many would apply ther earnin's toward gittin' an education. Many a man an' woman o' affluence t'day educated 'emselves with th' money they earned educatin' country boys an' girls. If a town boy wanted a sled, or a pair o' skates, he'd teach a country school fer a spell, an' sometimes a girl got romantic an' listened t' th' call o' th' wild an' took on a country school, an' returned t' town when th' roads got passable, fat an' yeller from eatin' sausage an' cane molasses. "I recall an arithmetic problem that used t' stump me when I wuz teachin' th' Tharp's Run School. It went like this, 'A gentleman returned from th' city an' brought each o' his four sons a pomegranate. How many pomegranates had he?" relates Lafe Bud, who taught three country schools before he could read or write. "I had t' bury my clothes fer a week on account o' skunks after ever' country school I taught before I could return t' civilization. I had a special skunk suit fer th' last school I taught," further relates Mr. Bud. Th' big commodious, modern, skunk-proof rural school buildin's o' th' present day are a long stride in th' right direction, although mighty belated, an' are turnin' out some exceptional basketball players an' promisin' orchestras.

Building Activity In Pittsburgh Is Hundred Million

(International News Service)

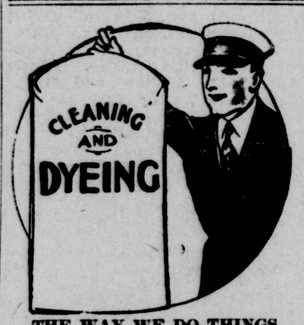

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 11.—Building projects to cost approximately $100,000,000 will be begun in Pittsburgh this fall, according to advance notices received by the Chamber of Commerce here.

Among the largest improvement projects being planned is that of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad, which will expend $5,000,000 on improvements to its Pittsburgh terminals, officials announced. The railroad will rearrange and enlarge its public delivery yard and add to its facilities for handling mail and dairy products.

MAJOR PARTIES FACE TROUBLE IN KEEPING PEACE IN RANKS

Friction In Both Democratic And Republican Ranks In Many States

G. O. P. Has Many State Worries From Insurgents And Progressives

By GEORGE H. MANNING
(General Press Association)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 11.—How to keep the peace between the Republican regulars and the Progressives or Insurgents until after election day is the problem that is making the party campaign committee leaders lie awake nights and is adding to the number of their gray hairs.

Factional strife in the Democratic party, too, is giving worry to the Democratic chiefs. Party ties, sitting loosely on the average voter, make it impossible for the leaders of either of the two great political organizations to crack the whip over him in the old-time fashion.

In Iowa, strange to say, the regular Republican organization has made peace, at least for the time being, with former Senator Smith "Wildman" Brookhart, Col. Brookhart, who was nominated for the six year term, in the face of the most relentless opposition from the organization, will take the stump under the auspices of the state central committee, a hard-boiled array of regulars, and will endeavor to avoid throwing any brickbats at the array in question until after the ballots are counted in November.

Harmony In Iowa

Two years ago, in a speech at Emmetsburg in the latter part of the campaign, he made an attack on Coolidge. That speech cost him thousands of regular votes and lost him his seat in the Senate. Now, if the regulars and progressives of his party unite for him on election day, he will be able to defeat Claude R. Porter, his Democratic opponent, and regain a place in the Senate sun.

Healing of party sores in Iowa, which seems to have taken place, is one of the most conspicuous examples thus far in the campaign of how factionalism can be subordinated under stress of necessity. However, efforts to accomplish the same thing are going on in many States. On the success or failure of such efforts much will depend as to whether the Republicans keep control of the Senate and House in the next Congress.

Dove Of Peace Near?

Massachusetts, Ohio, Illinois, Kansas, and Washington, are other States in which the dove of peace appears to be hovering over the various Republican elements. In Massachusetts, Senator Butler, Republican national chairman, and lieutenant of the President, although an independent is announced, has united the support of most factors in his fight against former Senator David I. Walsh, Democrat.

In Pennsylvania, it looks as if the great body of the Republicans would unite behind William S. Vare for the Senate, regardless of campaign fund revelations, and despite the fact that the Senate will probably not allow him to keep his seat if elected. In Ohio, Senator Willis has the bulk of his party support, though he will lose some of the wets. In Illinois, the Republican factions are well enough united on Colonel Frank L. Smith, Republican Senatorial nominee, so that it does not look now as if George E. Brennan, the Democratic candidate could beat him. Here again, the voters will apparently send Col. Smith to the Senate although it looks as if the Senate would shut the doors on him. In Kansas, there is plenty of progressive Republicanism but it will not seriously oppose the return of Senator Charles Curtis to the Senate.

These are some of the instances where a measurable volume of harmony obtains. In sharp contrast are such situations as those in California, Oregon, Wisconsin and New Hampshire, not to mention New York.

In California

In California, it is doubtful if anything can compose the troubles between Senator Johnson and Senator Shortridge. The latter has been renominated in the face of strong Johnson opposition, but the Johnson forces nominated their candidate for Governor. The unsettled question is how many progressive Repubicans, led by Senator Johnson, are going to knife Shortridge when they go into their booths on election day.

Senator Stanfield, beaten for the nomination on the Republican ticket, in Oregon, sets out to run independent. This hurts the Republican chances of carrying the state and helps B. E. Haney, the Democratic nominee for the Senate, former member of the Shipping Board.

No Peace In Wisconsin

The schism in Wisconsin between the LaFollette elements and the stalwarts, who supported Senator Lenroot for another term, is so pronounced that no one seriously expects peace there. Were it not for the weakness of the Democratic organization in that state, the Republicans would find it impossible to carry the state.

With the New Hampshire primaries over, efforts will be made to smooth out the differences between the friends of Senator Moses and Former Governor Bass. These differences became so pronounced in the campaign before the primaries that it will be difficult to dispose of them. They give the Democrats some hope of carrying the state.

Senator Wadsworth in New York is sure to be the Republican nominee for the Senate but the Republican difficulties over the wet and dry problem are giving him trouble. The general feeling in Washington today is that Senator Wadsworth's re-election is in great doubt, with the chances against him. Whether he can overcome the obstacles in his path between now and election day remains to be seen. An able and resourceful campaigner, his friends will not believe he is beaten until the votes actually show it. On the other hand, the great strength of Governor "Al" Smith in the state, the Republicans fear, will not only re-elect him as Governor but sweep Senator Wadsworth out of the Senate.

Maryland is another state where Republican dissensions are feared. The contest between Senator Weller and Representative John Philip Hill, wet leader in the House, for the Republican Senatorial nomination, is sufficiently bitter to afford much encouragement to the Democrats who will nominate Representative Tydings as their Senatorial candidate.

Democratic Troubles

But the Republicans have no monopoly of factional troubles. The Democrats have looming up before them the ghost of the antagonism that stalked about Madison Square Garden in 1924. Moreover, it is a very vigorous and persistent ghost. Recent developments in California where the McAdoo and Smith supporters came to an open clash are significant. John B. Elliott of Los Angeles, a McAdoo man, having the open support of McAdoo, was nominated for the Senate against Isidore Dockweiler, national committeeman, a supporter of Governor Smith. Had Elliott been beaten, it would have been hailed as putting McAdoo out of the running for 1928.

On the whole, the California Democratic contest has served to stir up the old Smith and anti-Smith controversy in other parts of the country.

The wet and dry issue is another that is giving the Democrats concern and there is also a division as between progressive Democrats and conservatives. The progressive Democrats accuse the conservatives of practically standing for regular Republican policies.

WOMAN CONQUERS FEARS

Husband Delighted and Home Happier

St. Paul, Minn.—"Here is a little advice I would like to have you put in the papers," Mrs. Jack Lorberter of 704 Dellwood Place wrote to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company. "If young women want to keep their health and strength for the next thirty years of their lives, it is best to start in right now and take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have tried the Compound myself and received fine results." In describing her condition before taking the Compound, she writes, "I was afraid in my own house in broad daylight, I used to lock the doors and pull down the shades so that nobody could see me." One day a booklet advertising the Vegetable Compound was left on her porch and she read it through. In so doing, she found a letter from a woman whose condition was similar to her own. "I bought the Vegetable Compound," Mrs. Lorberter continued, "and have had fine results. The condition I was in made me a burden to my husband. Now I ask "How is housekeeping?" and he says, "It is just like being in Heaven!"

Evangelicals May Purchase Park For Assembly Grounds

Monarch Park Site Between Franklin And Oil City Talked Over In Conference

SCALP LEVEL, Pa., Sept. 11.—The Pittsburgh conference of the Evangelical church in its 75th annual session here, will take action on plans to purchase Monarch park, Oil City, an abandoned amusement park, for use as an assembly ground for the conference, the Rev. George A. Collin of Oil City, newly elected presiding elder of the conference, said yesterday.

The conference considered a number of routine questions in its morning sessions, following which Rev. Mr. Collin took part in informal discussions regarding possible purchase of the park site.

The conference, which will bring its annual conference to a close here today, has held meetings here and at Windber during the week.

Fall Down Stairs Proves Beneficial

(International News Service)

WELLSBORO, Pa., Sept. 11. — An accidental fall down the stairs has proven beneficial rather than harmful to Mrs. Mary Murray, who lives near Towanda, it was reported here today.

For years Mrs. Murray has been unable to use her right arm, which had become shortened and stiffened from rheumatism. When she fell down the stairs recently she broke the deformed arm just below the elbow. She found that she could raise the injured arm, putting her hand to her head.

Instead of setting the bone physicians have placed the arm in a cast, leaving the bones an inch apart, hoping that new cartilage will fill the space and lengthen the arm so that its usefulness can be regained.

TODAY—
America has its first high-speed European-type Light Car

THE Whippet is the first American light car designed to meet modern traffic conditions.

A car engineered specifically for parking at jammed curbs—for lightning get-away at congested traffic crossings—for instant stopping in pedestrian-crowded city streets. It will pickup in 13 seconds from 5 to 30 miles an hour. It will stop in 51 feet from a speed of 40 miles an hour. It will turn in a 34-foot circle—park in a 14-foot curb space.

30 miles on a gallon of gasoline . . . 55 miles an hour . . . 5 to 30 miles in 13 seconds . . . 4-wheel brakes . . . stops in 51 feet from 40 miles an hour . . . turns in 34-foot circle

More room—greater comfort

This new car has a low, European-type body. With height and length in true symmetrical proportion. It is 5 feet 8 inches high . . . not as tall as the average man. Yet it provides more leg-room and comfort than you've ever found in any American-built automobile of this class before.

4-wheel brakes are an integral part of this new car's chassis design . . . a necessity that light car owners have not heretofore enjoyed.

In fairness to yourself, come, see this wonderful new-type car.

Whippet Sedan $735, Touring $645, and Coupe $735. All prices f. o. b. factory. Prices and specifications subject to change without notice.

The new Willys Finance Plan means less money down, smaller monthly payments, and the lowest credit-cost . . . Willys-Overland, Inc., Toledo, Ohio.

ELLWOOD CITY NEWS

SCHOOLHOUSE BEING RAZED

William Buquo Purchases Old Building Erected In 1891 —To Build Church

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Sept. 11.—Men are busy tearing down the old school building on Line avenue and College street today. The building has been purchased by William Buquo, who has been given until March to get the old building out of the road, in order that the Bell Memorial church can go ahead with its excavating for the new church for which plans and specifications are now in order.

The old building, which was used for a school, was one of the first school buildings on the north side in 1891, at that time known as Hazel Dell. It was used for a school building until about five years ago when it was purchased by the board of the Bell Memorial church, to be used for a community house. The school bell has been retained by the school board.

It has served the church and a number of lodges in this capacity for a number of years. Many basketball games, social and other events have taken place in this building which is being razed today to make way for a beautiful church building, the Bell Memorial.

This church has grown to mammoth proportions since its beginning, when Rev. Charles Bell started a mission in connection with his pastorate at the Slippery Rock church. Later he was pastor of the Bell Memorial, which honors him with its name, and helped in the church which is making such headway.

At the present time with Rev. J. A. King, pastor, this congregation is making great strides. Hundreds of new names have been added to the membership list and long ago the capacity in the older building was insufficient for the attendance.

Vesper Services To Be Conducted At Presbyterian Church

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Sept. 11—Sunday, September 19, there will be Vesper services beginning at 4:45 p. m., in the First Presbyterian church auditorium. These services will feature best music, organ and choir. The sermons will be terse statements of real religion for real people.

The service will not be denominational. The thought is to offer to the public a service of divine worship, in which any citizen of this community will feel at home and in which he may find fellowship, pleasure and inspiration.

The Vesper service or twilight service has been conducted in this church with success, in previous years. At the time of day shadows are falling over the Lee, the Ellwood community will take advantage of these special vespers.

Cars Running On New Track At Burnstown

Old Tracks Discarded That New Wurtemburg Highway Can Be Started At Once

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Sept. 11—Disclosing many unforseen beauties in the way of nature along the banks of the Connoquenessing creek, a number of trees have been hewn down and the hill filled in closer to the creek. Today the Harmony street car tracks have been completed on this new fill and cars to and from Ellwood are running on them.

The old tracks, which were badly depleted, have been torn out and the station at Burnstown stands with the little platform, all alone in the middle of what is to be the new Wurtemburg highway.

The street car company is fixing the street car tracks in various part of Ellwood City too. A gang of men have just completed finishing the final laying of brick on Fourth street, where they worked for two weeks, replacing old ties.

Today Spring avenue from Fourth to Fifth street has been made into a one way street, going West, and the brick work has been torn out, in order that new ties can be put in.

Rev. Cosby Conducts Wedding At Parsonage

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Sept. 11.—Miss Dorothy Sloss of Volant and Mark Anthony of Cleveland were married Friday afternoon at the United Presbyterian parsonage by Rev. J. A. Cosby. The young couple were attended by Miss Ruth Young and Norman Young of near New Castle.

The bride wore a charming gown of fawn georgette with hat of corresponding color. She carried Sweetheart roses. Following the wedding ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Mark Anthony left for Cleveland, where they will make their future home. Mr. Anthony is employed as a salesman for the Canfield Oil company.

Mrs. Anthony has a host of Ellwood friends which she has made during a number of visits to the home of her brother, Harold Sloss of North Ellwood Heights.

Class Number Four Has Class Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Sept. 11.—Class No. 4 of the Bell Memorial church had its regular monthly meeting at the home of Miss Esther James on Todd avenue Friday evening. The meeting was opened by singing of a hymn, following which Mrs. J. A. King led in prayer. The Bible reading was given by Miss Roma Menold.

The young women made plans for a bazaar to be conducted in the near future, as well as other business matters taken up at this time. The session was closed with prayer by the pastor.

Later in the evening lunch was served by the committee which comprised Miss Margaret Clyde, Miss Helen Menold, Miss Esther James, assisted by Mrs. John James.

Winifred Stoner Given Surprise

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Sept. 11—Mrs. John Stoner of North street entertained eight young people at her home Friday evening in honor of her daughter Winifred's fourteenth birthday. The guest of honor was presented with many lovely gifts. The evening was enjoyed with music and games. At a late hour lunch was served by the hostess.

Gardner

Mrs. Robb of Butler is spending a week at the home of her son, A. H. Robb and family of Gardner.

William Stephanov, who has delivered milk in Gardner for several years, was working on his truck when a box fell and struck him on the head, injuring him. He has not been able to work since, but is improving now.

Recent callers at the Williams home in Gardner were Mrs. Lydia Green, daughter Minnie and son Jack, Leo Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Mattinger and son Harry, Mrs. Fanny Wood, all of New Castle, and Miss Rose Duffield of Youngstown.

Miss Elizabeth Fombelle of East New Castle and Ernest King of New Castle were calling in Youngstown on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. McCoy and son Dale of Youngstown spent last Sunday with Mrs. McCoy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Locke of Gardner.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Laird and daughter Alberta of Ellwood City were calling on the Clapper family in Gardner on Labor Day.

Mrs. Laura Wallace of New Castle spent last Sunday with her brother, Frank Hay and family, in Gardner.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fombelle of East New Castle spent the week-end with Mrs. Fombelle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pierce of Evans City.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wimer and son Bobby of Woodlawn spent a few days with Mrs. Wimer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kirkwood of Gardner. Master Jack Wimer, who has spent some time with his grandparents, went back home to Woodlawn on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs Philip Moore and daughter Gladys of Gardner spent Labor Day with Mrs. Moore's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Zeigler of the Butler road.

Mrs. Mary Bevan and son Thomas of New Castle were guests last Sunday of Mrs. Bevan's daughter, Mrs. John Sherger and family of Gardner.

Paul Fombelle and sister Frances of East New Castle and Miss Kathryn Herbert and Montgomery Rogers of New Castle motored to Evans City last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller of Columbus, O., spent several days with Mr. and Mrs. Comstock of Gardner.

Mrs. C. W. Fenton of Wilkinson stop attended the funeral of her cousin, Dr. Balph of Beaver Falls on Thursday.

Miss Mary Milligan of Mt. Washington, Pittsburgh, spent a few days with the families of her uncles, John and Frank Sherger of Gardner.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. King of Shenango stop had as recent guests Mr. King's brother William and wife, and relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Komensky, all of Cleveland. Mrs. King brought her friends to the Dickson dahlia gardens and they were delighted with the flowers, and said there was nothing in their city to equal the splendid blooms in Gardner.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Fenton spent last Sunday with their nephew, Fred Fenton and family of Salem, Ohio.

Last Friday Mrs. Mary Wood and son H. L. Wood and wife and daughter Ella Jane of Albion, Pa., spent several days with Mrs. E. O. Alexander of Gardner.

Mrs. Will Hedrick of Wilkinsburg spent a few days with the families of her two brothers, John and Frank Sherger of Gardner.

Mrs. Mary White has returned home after a very pleasant trip to Niagara Falls, Chautauqua assembly and several days spent with the family of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. White of Baden, Pa., who have a cottage at Conneaut Lake. Mrs. White was accompanied on this trip by her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Fleming of Akron, O., and also by two sisters of Mrs. White which added much to the pleasure of the trip.

Russell King, who has been employed for some time in Detroit is now at home with his parents at Shenango stop.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Stelter and two children of Navarre, O., were guests on Labor Day of Mrs. Stelter's sister, and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Kennedy of Gardner.

E. O. Alexander of Pittsburgh was at home last Sunday with his wife and son Francis in Gardner.

State College Expert To Speak On Home Duties In Mercer County

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Pa., Sept. 11.—During the coming winter months 150 Mercer county women will derive instruction in home duties through the classes held at county granges under the management of Miss Lora Pinder of State College of the home economics department. Miss Pindar will be here five days each week every other week, so rapidly has grown the demand for her services. The instruction is in dressmaking and cooking. There will be classes in dressmaking at Hendersonville and Leesburg Granges, one in cooking at Millbrook, made up of young ladies; a dressmaking class at the Grange in Greene township, making of clothes will be the instruction at Jackson Center, Sandy Lake and in Hempfield township. This is the second winter that Miss Pinder has conducted these classes in Mercer county. She closed her 1925 work with a style show of dresses made by the members of the class. Her classes of this year are not only larger, but the thread of the interest in the work over the county has been responsible for increasing the number of classes.

The late J. P. Whitla of Sharon well-known barrister, who died quite suddenly Tuesday evening, had spent the day in court here. Perhaps two as important events as ever occurred in his life are of rocerd on that date. His son, William Whitla, of kidnapping fame, who graduated this spring from law school and has been taken into his fathers' office, was admitted to practice in the Mercer county courts. His father was with him when he was formally inducted by Judge J. A. McLaughry. Mr. Whitla was also associated with C. C. Brockway of his law firm in securing the signature of Judge J. A. McLaughry on an instrument that made legally airtight the turning over to the destitute people of northern France $1,000,000 by the trustees of the estate of Frank Buhl, as provided for in the will of that steel manufacturer, who died June 8, 1918.

Cities Do Not Happen Co-operation Builds Them

The City of Progress Through The Chamber of Commerce

Chambers of Commerce are often regarded as solely commercial and industrial promotional institutions. The modern Chamber of Commerce, however, recognizes that industrial development requires a readjustment of every aspect of city life. The supply of labor, better living conditions, education of children, stimulation of thrift, development of public recreation, Americanization, transportation, efficiency, and many other factors, vitally affect the permanency of industry. All of these are matters in which an open-minded and broad-guaged community organization is interested.

It is becoming increasingly apparent that environment sets bounds to industrial as well as mercantile and professional prosperity, but it is also certain that mere physical surroundings are not the sum total of "environment." The propelling force in all progress is the human element. This is the fact behind the necessity for community team work.

The Chamber of Commerce is the best means for representative community development. What other organization can bring together all types and conditions of men? The Chamber of Commerce is the only organization which is non-political, non-sectarian and non-partisan, through which the community can think on terms of equality and can translate that thought into action.

PETER'S ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

After wandering for many months in the jungle and making friends with the animals, Peter, a small boy with a fondness for adventures, is again at his home. You see Peter possesses a blue lizard's tail which keeps him from all harm and anytime he wishes to be whisked away to another land Peter just shuts his eyes tightly, holds the tail in his hand, makes a wish and, presto, in an instant his wish has been granted. Now go on with the story and learn more of Peter's interesting adventures.

EYES AND EYES

Ding, dong! Ding, dong! Ding, dong!

Almost time for the train to start! As is sure to happen in every station just as the train is about to leave, through the door came scurrying last minute passengers, who must have set their watches wrong, or eaten too much dinner, or done something which they shouldn't, so that they almost weren't on time. Up the train steps they scrambled! Down the platform hurried men in uniform with big brass buttons on their blue coats. Out of the darkness twinkled many lights. A lantern swung by an unknown hand made red circles in the night.

What a hustle and bustle it was!

"All aboard!" shouted the conductor, and then—

"Hey, wait a minute!" shouted a voice. "Here's a little box marked to go that's been forgotten!"

A toss, a catch, and bang! Down on the floor of the baggage car went the little box.

Puff! Chug! Choo, choo, choo!

Huffing and puffing and sneezing steam the engine said a noisy goodby to the station. The train was off on its rambling way.

Nobody had noticed the squeal of terror that had come out of the little box as it rose in the air. Nobody had heard the grunt of pain when it was dropped upon the floor. Nobody saw the two bright, frightened eyes that peered out of two holes in the side of the box.

"Yip, yip! Oh, how scared I am! What is this dreadful place? Why am I shut up in here and shaken like an old shoe in a puppy's mouth until my poor sides ache? Where am I going? What is going to become of me?"

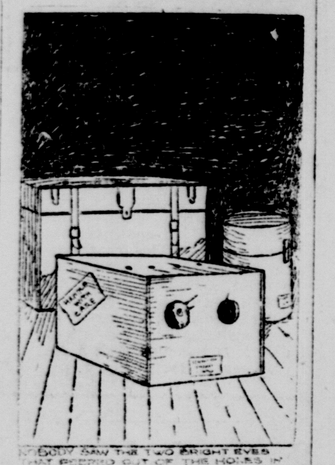

The voice that belonged to the two bright eyes in the box yelped as loudly as it could, but nobody answered its questions. Except for the bumping of the train there was silence.

It was very dark, too, in the baggage car. All that the two bright eyes peering out of the box could see were trunks piled on top of each other and boxes—lots of them like the one out of which they looked—not anything or anybody that interested them a bit.

"Oooh! How black it is. And I am all by myself. Mmmmm! I am so very lonely!"

The voice that belonged to the two bright eyes in the box started to cry, but broke off on the first whimper.

"Hello!" came a squeaky greeting. Out of the darkness in one corner blinked two eyes as bright as the eyes in the box.

Detroit Fills Lake With Gunmen Tools

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Sept. 11.—Hundreds of weapons of the underworld, everything from billies to dynamite caps today rest at the bottom of Lake St. Clair. They were dumped into the lake under the supervision of Superintendent of Police James Sprott and Secretary of Police Theodore W. Kolbe.

The accumulation represented a six months collection of weapons taken from criminals apprehended by the department and comprised 300 rifles, 50 pairs of brass knuckles, 125 billies, 250 pistols and revolvers, 125 top pistols and devices resembling revolvers, 55 sawed off shotguns, 75 swords, 235 knives, bludgeons, cartridges, cartridge belts, dynamite caps, nitroglycerine and morphine.

FOOTBALL SEASON OPENS HERE NEXT SATURDAY

Mars High To Be Opponents

After Two Weeks Of Training High Gridders Show Up To Standard

TEAM MAKE-UP IS UNDECIDED

By "BUGS" WALTHER

One more week, or seven days, to be exact, till football season opens in this city. The opening contest of the year will find Mars High pitted against the New Castle High team. The game will be played at Ben Franklin stadium.

The New Castle High team has had two weeks of intensive training under Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh and his two capable assistants, Bill Klee and George "Gig" Thomas, and the writer is safe in saying that the boys have learned a heap of football in the past 14 days. The one week spent at training camp placed the team in a fine physical condition and the one week at the Ben Franklin field has served to further the cause of learning what the game is all about. With another week of training before the lid-lifter the boys will be in fine fettle.

Robinson at Center

With a squad that numbers over 50 candidates, the coaches have had a mighty hard time in picking out what they believed the strongest material. The job of selecting the varsity squad for the opening game is still in progress, and even Coach Bridenbaugh himself isn't quite sure about his starting line-up. Captain Harry Robinson, the youth who holds forth in the center of the line just as every house or building needs a foundation, sure is starting at the center job. In fact, Robinson is as sure of playing in the opening game as the writer is that Dempsey and Tunney will fight on September 23 at Philadelphia.

Tentative Line-up Announced

Here, folks, is the way the writer shapes up the team that will start the opening game of the season next Saturday; that is unless there is an earthquake: ends, Ostrosky and Burns; tackles, Millison and Christman; guards, Ulrich and W. Mott or Kirk; quarterback, Klaber; left half, Richards; right half, Turk or Dickson, and fullback, Harper.

Just what Mars has up their sleeve is not known at the present time, and will not be known very likely until they roll them up here next Saturday for the benefit of the local footballers, but it is a safe bet that Coach Hudson will have a good team to represent Mars High and that there will be a football dish here one week from today.

The High gridders went through a two-hour signal drill on Friday afternoon and this morning the boys were put through a hard scrimmage workout at 10 o'clock, and the squad was excused from further training till Monday afternoon at four o'clock, when they will enter their final week of practice preparatory to their start for the W. P. I. A. L. championship.

Pennant Races In Both Leagues

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—The National league race is a bit tighter today as a result of the stunning 11 to 3 defeat inflicted on the Cardinals by the Braves. St. Louis is now two and one-half games in front of the Reds, who have played and won one more game than Pittsburgh.

The Reds and Pirates, who divided a double-header yesterday, will play another game today while St. Louis tackles Boston in a twin bill.

Cleveland Fighter Asks For Too Much Money, Gets Gate From Tunney

(International News Service)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 11.—Benny Leonard, undefeated lightweight champion of the world, was at Jack Dempsey's camp today and may box with the champion today or tomorrow.

Tommy Laughran, Philadelphia light heavyweight who came here to work out with the champion, said today that he would not spar with Dempsey unless he gets on the same card which stars Dempsey and Tunney. He asked Dempsey to try to influence Tex Rickard in his behalf.

Dempsey boxed a round each yesterday with Bill Tate, Charley Anderson, Frank Carpenter and Martin Burke. Tate landed to Dempsey's head three times and the champion retaliated with a right to the jaw that staggered the negro.

Report Greb And Mason To Reunite

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 11.—Harry Greb of Pittsburgh and his erstwhile manager James M. Mason have buried their hatchet and will resume their old relations of fighter and manager according to reports here today.

A new agreement between Greb and Mason was signed several days ago and the report says:

Court Monarchs, Past And Present

BY FEG MURRAY

Copyright, 1926, by Metropolitan Newspaper Service

It's a far cry from Dick Sears to Bill Tilden, but there is a distinct connection between the two, in spite of the vastly different type of tennis played by them and the thirty-nine years trat separated their first national championship victories. Richard Sears, the first to win the official title of "Lawn Tennis Champion of the United States," was like Big Bill has been the last few years, in a class by himself. He was so far in advance of the other players of his day that he could go out upon the court with a feeling of absolute confidence in his ability to beat them. Tilden has been suspected of having that same confidence.

Dick Sears was the first man in this country to use the volley, he was one of the first to use the overhand service, and after a trip to England, he returned with the famous "Lawford stroke," with which he ran his opponents dizzy. Sears is the only man in United States tennis history to win seven successive championships. William A. Larned won the title seven times, but not in succession. Now Bill Tilden is out to equal Sears' record in the tournament starting Monday at Forest Hills, and what makes it appear that this will be the most interesting and exciting of all the forty-five annual contests is that there appear to be three or four players who have a fine chance of knocking the champion from his lofty perch.

Of the sixteen men who have held the title of United States lawn tennis champion, only one, H. L. Doherty, was a foreigner, and he, I believe, is the only one who is not now alive.

The most popular of all the winners was undoubtedly Maurice E. McLoughlin of San Francisco, called the "Comet" because of his flaming red hair and his dashing style of play. "Mac" was to tennis what Francis Ouimet was to golf, sort of a torch-bearer who popularized a game considered either too expensive or too lady-like for the multitudes. McLoughlin burnt himself out by his net-storming tactics, his terrific service, and his slam-bang overhead attacks, but he had a grand time, and almost revolutionized the game of tennis.

What do you think, can William T. Tilden, 2nd, thirty-three, of Germantown, Pa., accomplish what Dick Sears did nearly forty years ago?

Rules Set For Titular Scrap

Six Men Who Will Handle Fighters Secure "Second" Licenses

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 11.—The rules which will govern the heavyweight title fight between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney at the sesqui-centennial stadium Sept. 23, were set yesterday.

It was decided that no towels or sponges will be recognized by the referee if thrown into the ring.

A manager and three seconds will be allowed for each fighter and none of the assistants will be allowed to coach or speak to their man during the championship bout.

Each fighter will be allowed bandages for the hands. Kidney blows, rabbit punches and pivot blows are strictly barred.

The following men have received licenses as seconds: Gene Normile, Capt. Mabbutt, Jerry Ludavis and Gus Wilson, for Dempsey; Billy Gibson and Lou Fink, for Tunney, with the other two seconds to be chosen later.

Methodists And Presbyterians Are Deadlocked

The First Methodist and Central Presbyterian teams are deadlocked for the leadership in the New Castle church league as a result of the Methodists taking a forfeit game from the Croton team on Friday night.

Both teams have won 20 and lost 7 games to date and the championship of the circuit lies between the two.

Red Tops Claim Midget Championship

"Red Tops claim the midget championship of the city" says at note delivered to the News, adding: "The team has played practically all the midget teams in the city and have carried off many victories in such games. This is the first year the team has been in existence and the players are pleased with results but hope to have a better team next year."

New Coach Leads Wilmington High

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Sept. 11.—With E. C. Wiggins, former star lineman at Bethany College acting as head coach, the local high school grid squad has started work for what promises to be a mighty strenuous season.

Wiggins takes the place of John Lawther, now a member of the Westminster College faculty as well as assistant coach of football and head basketball coach at the blue and white institution.

In filling Lawther's place, the new mentor has a big task before him since Lawther turned out winning teams despite the handicap of little material. However, Wiggins is going about his work in a business-like manner. He has already gained the confidence of his squad and expectations are that he will come through.

Twenty-three men have been issued equipment and have been taking part in the work-outs. Nine letter-men are available. They are: Pete James, full-back; Bill James, quarter-back; Bob Neale, half-back; J. Worrall, guard; Ted Anderson, center; Don Davis, end; Jack Lewis, an end who was not in school last year; Ted McConnell, an end and Matt Gilliland, tackle.

Two of the most promising new men are Bob Herriott, a husky lad who is expected to play a tackle position and Harry Sheers, a half-back.

The team was hard hit by graduation. Leading the list of those who received diplomas is Henry Penberthy, one of the fastest backfield men to ever wear the blue and gold. Tom Herriott, last year's captain who was a bulwark of strength at center; Howard Waltenbaugh, an end; Wesley Drake, a guard; Bob Hillard, a tackle, and Ralph Thomas, an end, were the other graduating members.

Matt Gilliland is student manager of the team and is working on his schedule. He expects to have it complete within a few days. The season will open September 25 when Grove City high is met abroad.

E. C. WIGGINS

A graduate of Bethany College, where he played a line position, E. C. Wiggins is now in charge of football at New Wilmington high school. He has nine letter men available, but is confronted by a hard schedule. He takes the place of John Lawther, now assistant grid coach at Westminster College.

Bryan Downey Is Through As Block For Gene Tunney

By RAY CAMPBELL,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

STROUDSBURG, Pa., Sept. 11.—Bryan Downey, Cleveland middleweight who came here as a sparring partner for Gene Tunney, today had left camp after working with Tunney for only one day. Downey demanded a daily guarantee which Billy Gibson, Tunney's manager thought exhorbitant.

Jimmy Delaney, St. Paul light-heavyweight, who has twice boxed Tunney will fill Downey's shoes.

Beginning today Tunney will cut down his boxing to four rounds.

Tunney branded as preposterous stories that he was to split with Gibson. These yarns emanated from Philadelphia.

"Gibson will be my manager as long as I am in the fight business," he said.

Claims Wife Caused Split

Dempsey And Kearns Sever Connections Account Of Estelle

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Jack Dempsey is quited as having split with Jack Kearns because the heavyweight champion's wife, the former Estelle Taylor, could not get along with his erstwhile manager.

In an affidavit filed by counsel for Kearns in the latter's suit for a third of a million dollars against Dempsey, Dan McKettrick, well known boxing promoter, declared the champion told him the break was necessary "to keep peace in my family".

Summarizing conferences with Dempsey here on July 15, 16 and 17, McKettrick quoted Dempsey as saying he had "nothing against Doc (meaning Kearns)." "I like Doc," Dempsey is further quoted, "but my wife cannot get along with him and I have reached the parting of the ways to keep peace in my family."

Tagging All Bases

(International News Service)

The Cardinals unexpectedly stubbed their toes against the Braves, who tagged Alexander for 15 hits and drove him from the mound in the seventh inning when they scored six runs. The final score was 11 to 3, Mogridge pitching shutout ball after Benton got the gate.

The Reds and Pirates cut each other's throats by splitting a double-header, Pittsburgh winning the opener 5 to 2 and Cincinnati copping the nightcap by the same score. Kremer and Lucas were the winning pitchers.

Guy Bush's winning streak of eight straight was shattered when the Phils trimmed the Cubs 8 to 4. Dennis Sothern, a rookie, made his debut with the Quakers and clouted a homer and a double.

The White Sox, who had won six straight games, were stopped when the Browns nosed them out in the tenth, 5 to 4. McCurdy, Chicago catcher, was stopped after hitting his tenth consecutive safety in ten times at bat, within one of the world's record.

If all of the lady drivers were placed end to end, they'd be on the wrong side of the road.

Plan Forming Of Swimming Club

Plans are under way in New Castle for the organizing of a a first class swimming club that will include both male and female swimmers.

The Plans have progressed to the point where a meeting has been called for next Wednesday evening, September 15 at 7:30 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. of all swimmers in the city who care to attend.

The club as soon as it is organized will start training for meets held in the tri-state district, including Erie, Pittsburgh and other cities.

Has Pitched Perfect Games

Ketcham Of Akron Turns In Six "Perfect" Contests

AKRON, O., Sept. 11.—Close of the Ohio & Pennsylvania baseball league's 1926 season finds Akron's General Tires the champions, and Charley Ketchum, their star hurler, with two more no-hit, no-run games to his credit.

Ketchum's collection of perfect games now totals six. He pitched four of them in 1921 while playing semi-pro ball with the Phoenix club of Buffalo. His victims this year were first the New Castle Flyers, and the Pittsburgh Pirates, with scores of 8 to 0 and 6 ot 0 respectively. Ketchum probably will pitch for Akron again next year.

County League To Be Unchanged For 1927, Indication

Four Teams Have Already Made Overatures For League Berths Next Year

Judging from present indications, the Lawrence County League for 1927 will be unchanged as far as the six teams already holding franchises are concerned.

John A. Jackson, in an interview granted yesterday, said that four of the teams in the league this year have already made application for berths next season, and that no new franchises would be granted unless one of the present teams decided to "throw in the towel".

It is the plan of the officials to conduct a fast six-team league in 1927, much after the manner of the latter half of this year after Union and Brent dropped by the wayside.

Call Meeting Of League Managers

Eddie Connery, secretary of the Lawrence County league has mailed out notices to the various managers to meet in the Sporting Goods Store at 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening, September 15, this is a change from the meeting scheduled previously for Tuesday night.

It is important that all managers attend the meeting. It is desired to close up all business matters relative to this year and to arrange for the annual Lawrence County League banquet, and the awarding of the pennant at Ellwood City.

The herring has always been regarded as a mystic fish by the Highlanders of Scotland. They believe it is subject to various occult influences and when, as has happened, the herring deserted old haunts, the Highlanders indulged in queer practices to lure it back.

Christians Top Third U. P., 3-2

Shiek Outpitches Marshall To Gain Victory For Central Christians

Wylie Shiek and Marshall engaged in a pitching duel on the Lehigh grounds on Friday night with the Central Christians gaining a 3 to 2 verdict over the Third U. P. outfit.

Shiek had the better of the argument holding the Third U. P. team to three hits and fanned nine men, while Marshall permitted but four hits and had eight strikeouts to his credit.

The Christians bunched their hits in the first three innings to score their runs. The Third U. P. team scored a lone run in the second inning when Bauman threw high to third base, and again in the third inning when McKnight stole home.

Both pitchers bore down as the game progressed but the fifteen-year-old youth was not to be denied victory and fanned the last five out of six men to face him.

Shaffer had the only extra base hit of the game a double to left field. The playing of Thompson at second base for the Christians was one of the bright features of the game, this youngster in his initial tryout with the Church League team looks mighty promising.

U. S. Retains Davis Cup

Williams And Richards Clinch Seventh Straight Victory

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 11.—For the seventh successive year and the tenth time in the history of Davis Cup competition America has established her world's supremacy at tennis.

The defense of the historic trophy was settled yesterday as decisively as it was begun when the American doubles combination of Richard N. Williams II and Vincent Richards smashed their way to triumph over France's pair, Jacques Brugnon and Henri Cochet, in a sparkling three-set tussle, decided by score of 6-4, 6-4, 6-2.

This was America's third straight victory over France, whose bright hopes as the survivor of 24 original national challengers have been blasted for the second year in a row. Coupled with the convincing triumphs of Big Bill Tilden over Jean Borotra and Little Bill Johnston over Rene Lacoste Thursday. The decision Friday gave America the three points necessary to settle the challenge round series on the courts of the Germantown Cricket Club.

Illinois Faces Hard Grid Schedule Minus Services Of Grange

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—Without the services of the great Grange but with more than a dozen veterans on hand, Robert C. Zuppke, famed football coach of the University of Illinois, faces one of the stiffest gridiron schedules in Illini history.

The schedule includes eight games and in the list are teams rated to be the strongest in the Big Ten conference.

Michigan, Chicago, Iowa and Ohio, conference battles; Pennsylvania, one of the leading eastern elevens, defeated last year by Illinois, and Coe, Butler and Wabash, foremost among middle western smaller schools, will be the Illini opponents this season.

Coe, the only team on this year's list which did not play the Zuppkemen last year, will open the season at Urbana, October 2. The following Saturday Butler will invade the Illini stadium, the conference games getting started October 16 with Iowa at the annual Illinois homecoming.

October 23 Zuppke will take his charges to Ann Arbor to meet Yost's University of Michigan team and October 30, climaxing a month of stiff play, Illinois will contest Pennsylvania at Urbana.

November 6 is the date of the Illinois-Chicago game to be played this year in Chicago. Wabash plays Urbana November 13 and the following week Ohio will journey to Illinois' stadium for the season's windup.

Facing the prospect of whipping his eleven into shape extremely early in the season in order to be prepared for the tough October games, Zuppke has had made a $10,000 rubber blanket, called the "world's largest raincoat" which will insure a dry field during September and October when rains and light snows may be expected.

Use of the raincoat is expected to furnish the Illini with a dry playing field during the days of practice and will also insure a fast gridiron for the playing of all games.

Westminster Backfield Will Have Some Punch; Team To Have Offensive

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON Pa., Sept. 11.—With ten days of gruelling work behind them the members of the Westminster college grid squad in training here are in fine physical condition and with the exception of a few cripples the squad is ready for whatever manner of work Coaches Beede and Lawther desire to dish out. The training camp will end next Wednesday for this is the opening day of school.

With scrimmage sessions a part of the daily program Westminsterites are beginning to wonder concerning the personnel of the eleven which will be sent against Duquesne University of Pittsburgh September 24. Two teams one about as strong as the other have been pitted against each other in practice.

The so-called first team has been using Kelly and Crowell at the ends Dombroski and Ayers at the tackles Capt. Montgomery and Rose at guards with Joe Smith at center. "Rusty" Coles has been calling signals with Bowen and Hostettler alternating at fullback while Hall and Lauder have been at the halves.

The second team lines up with Del Smith and Stewart at the terminals Anderson, Hitchcock, Markes and Tom Herriott at the tackles, Sweet and McCullough at the guards with McLean and Kreuger alternating at center. McQuiston barks signals with Brown and Phillips playing the halves and Wolfe at full. Freed and Henderson are used frequently as guards as is Eller at tackle. Wrigley alternates at end.

During the course of a practice session Beede and Lawther make frequent changes so that it is a matter of guess work as to the first string lineup. It is certain however that the backfield will carry a punch for with such men as Bowen, Hostettler and Lauder carrying the ball there is plenty of weight.

Pirates Split In Twin Bill

LUCAS CAPTURES SECOND CONTEST

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 11.—The Pirates and Reds split in a double attraction Friday, Kremer winning from Rixey 5 to 2 in the opening contest and Lucas taking the second game by the same score with Morrison, Yde and Aldrich on the "Buc" flinging line.

In the first game the Pirates staged a three run rally after two were out in the eighth and offset Hargrave's home run. In the last game Smith of the Pirates brought fans to their feet with a home run but the Reds copped the contest.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

By ED. FRITZ

New Castle will send at least one hundred fight fans to the Jack Dempsey-Gene Tunney heavyweight title fight at Philadelphia, according to an estimate gathered by the writer. Some will journey by train but others will motor to the big scrap. Very few of the fistic fraternity have made arrangements to witness the fistic extravaganza.

Among those who witnessed the fight in which Jack triumphed over Jess Willard were Jimmie Dime, the late George Lamoree, the two Chips, Tom McMahon, a former resident, Marty Gibbons and others too numerous to mention. Were they all here they would agree that providing Dempsey is in the same condition this month as at Toledo, Gene's name would be mincemeat.

There are two local events which will monopolize the attention of men who are inclined to favor sports. One will be the first game of a series between New Castle and Ellwood City. New Castle is a member of the O. & P. circuit and Ellwood has won the Lawrence county loop flag. Our guess is that Ellwood will lose. The other event will be the field trials of the Lawrence County Coon Hunters at the fair grounds. An entry list of 250 dogs is expected. The sponsors have spared no effort to secure suitable prizes.

Talking about dogs, we might mention that we met "Dad" Lyons, noted handler of bench dogs after his return from Conneaut Lake. Being the owner of two bull terriers the writer listened to "Dad's" narrative of what took place at Conneaut. Finally "Dad" spoke a mouthful, as follows: "Always be careful to keep away from the man who is shunned by children and dogs." He went on to say that children and dogs have an instinct grown-ups do not possess. He also rapped dog poisoners, Lyons declaring: "A man who will poison a dog will poison a child."

Billy Glenn expects to have ice skating events at the Cascade Park pool this winter, according to a statement he made to the writer recently. Billy has one of the best pools in this section of the country. For years ice skaters have had no place to skate. Glenn will remove the boardwalks and there will be space for hundreds of ice fans. When Glenn built a pool he did something big. Formerly New Castle swimmers had been journeying to various swimmin' holes and the pool at Idora Park. Things are different now.

Pennsylvanians who are unable to attend the big fight at Philadelphia can see the "movies" of the encounter inasmuch as there will be no legal barriers to stop the display and the first man in this city to get a film will be an enterprising soul. There will be no interstate shipment and for this reason the films can be shown. After Johnson whipped Jeffries a law was passed prohibiting interstate shipment.

Officials and coaches of the Big Ten will meet today and consider football rules, according to Major J. L. Griffith, Western Conference athletic commissioner. The coaches wish to have a thorough interpretation of all rules before the season starts.

Four Murder Cases, Two Manslaughter, In Beaver County

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Sept. 11. Four cases of murder and two of involuntary manslaughter are on the list to be presented to the September grand jury. The murder cases are that of George Walker, charged with the murder of John Freeman; Albert Ruff, of Beaver Falls, charged with the murder of Harry Miller; Ralph Moore of McDonald, charged with shooting James Cairns at Hell's Half Acre several weeks ago and that of Milly Lucento who it is alleged shot and killed Jerome Oppedisano at New Brighton in August.

The two cases of involuntary manslaughter are those against Robert Martin, colored of Leetsdale, charged with the death of Joseph Armstrong and Jas. O'Neil both of whom died following an automobile accident which occurred on the road between Conway and Baden. It has been alleged that he two men were struck by a machine driven by Martin.

Coach Louis Young Of Pennsylvania Takes 58 Prospects For Practice

International News Service Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 11.—Coach Louis A. Young of the University of Pennsylvania football team has his 58 "prospects" for this year's grid team at Sea Girt this month for preliminary practice in order to develop the defense for five different systems of play that must be met, he says during the coming season.

Young believes that the important contests are almost as difficult to face as last even though this year's schedule provides a breathing spell between games.

Pennsylvania may not be as strong defensively as they were last year because they have lost a number of linemen and Kreuz, whose backing up of the line saved the team frequently last year, and the necessity of planning defenses for five different styles of play, may slightly weaken the team where it has always been strong, it was said.

Zuppke, at Illinois; Crowley, at Columbia; Stagg, at Chicago; Bobie, at Cornell, and Bezdek, at Penn State, all teach different brands of football, Young explained. Young holds victories over all the above mentioned coaches within the last three seasons except Zuppke who aided by the famous "Red" Grange, stopped Penn last fall after a string of brilliant victories that included Chicago, Brown and Yale.

Karl Robinson, varsity center for two years, Joseph Wilson, last year's captain, Albert Leth, Howard Long, Emid Thomas, Stanley Sieracki and Emil Heintz, all letter men, will not be with the team this year, while Tillou, a promising center who starred with the freshmen two years ago, has decided not to return to the University.

Veteran ends and backs abound, Young indicated, but the line will probably be composed of a number of inexperienced men. The loss of Robinson at center means, it was intimated, the switching of Jack Butler, a guard to that post.

The coaching staff plans the changing of several end candidates to tackles and guards while Stewart Brydon, center understudy, will in all probability be groomed for a guard position.

The preliminary training squad is the largest in the history of the University, Young declared and contains freshmen from last year, veterans from the varsity squad, a number of men are playing the game for the first time and several who were promoted from the scrubs.

Indications are to a fast and light backfield with Charles Rogers, Alfred Wascolonis, Paster Fields, Jess Douglas, Thomas Freeman, Joe Laird, Richard Odiorne, Paul Scull, Paul Murphy and John Shober, as the principal candidates. The last three named were freshmen last season.

For ends the coaches have George Thayer, All-American of last season, Don Singer, Joe Lenzner, John Hayes, Folwell Scull, Raymond Walker from the varsity and Reese Dill, Joe Schaaf, Bill Sullivan and Ralph Monk, from the freshman team.

The coaching staff for this season is the same as last season with one exception. The resignation of Brodie Stephens, end coach caused a switch that made Ludlow Wray, end coach as well as line tutor.

DID YOU EVER "HOLD A LION"?

Famous Race Horse Killed By Error Of Chicago Stable Hand

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—Captain Hal, recognized as the greatest stake horse of the year, due to his consistent performances at Homewood and Lincoln Fields race courses, died in his stable yesterday from poison. A stable hand, intending to give the animal some linseed oil, mistakenly fed him a dose of poison from a bottle which formerly contained the oil.

Captain Hal, owned by five tobacco clerks at Louisville, in his last 11 starts won nine races and placed second in the remaining two. The son of Black Tony-Waverly ran second in the Kentucky Derby in 1925 to Flying Ebony. His owners rated him in value at $140,000 and were offered $75,000 to sell the four-year-old, but refused. Insurance covers part of the loss of the horse.

Racing secretaries have enrolled the horse under the ownership of A. A. Kaiser and but few persons knew of the intimate financial dealings of the five Kentucky owners, who struggled to gather the initial purchase price of $2,500 that they might develop the colt.

Was "Bad Post Actor"

As a two-year-old Captain Hal was known as a "bad post actor", but frequent barrier schooling made him one of the best "breakers" on the turf, with the result that his flying starts helped him establish an enviable winning record. This eventually brought him heavy impost in all his latest races, under the present form of handicapping, but did not prevent his finishing in the money.

Trainer Roscoe Goose told of the mistake in feeding the horse the deadly potion. He was being made ready for a campaign at Churchill Downs and, after a gallop this morning, was given the dose of "linseed oil". Shortly afterward he became frantic, foaming at the mouth and lying down in his stall, and died about 30 minutes later. Strychnine is the poison said to have caused his death.

Note:—If recollection serves accurately, Captain Hall raced at the local tracks two years ago.

Steel Body, Fine Performance and New Lines of Beauty and Colors

With a new steel body in new lines and color, and as rigid as a steel building, the New Hudson Coach brings even greater improvements in the finest Super-Six chassis ever built.

Gasoline mileage is greatly improved. Added to the more important factors of Hudson economy, it gives lower operating costs than any previous Hudson, or any car of comparable quality.

The Super-Six principle which for eleven years has given Hudson exclusive mechanical supremacy through elimination of vibration, is supplemented by a balanced flywheel increasing smoothness, power, performance and reliability.

Gasoline, cleaned and strained, filtered air, and motor protected from dust and dirt are all taken care of in Hudson design without the added cost and complication of special accessories.

Gives Up Effort To Swim Channel

(International News Service)

DOVER, Sept. 11.—Louis Timson, the American Legion representative of Boston, today gave up his attempt to swim the English Channel after being slightly less than seven hours in the water.

Timson, starting from Gris-Nez at 10:06 last night, surrendered to the tides at 5 o'clock this morning. He was fifteen miles from the starting place, and ten miles from Blanc Nez when he gave up.

The sea was calm when the swimmer started but it roughened later and a heavy drift to eastward set in.

Timson returned to Dover avowing his intention to try again.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

© McClure Newspaper Syndicate

DURING THE "MORMON REBELLION" (1857), BISHOP LEE AND OTHER MORMONS PERSUADED THE INDIANS TO JOIN THEM ON THE WARPATH AND WIPED OUT AN EMIGRANT TRAIN NEAR MOUNTAIN MEADOWS. TWENTY YEARS LATER, LEE WAS CONVICTED OF THE OUTRAGE AND EXECUTED AT THE SCENE OF THE MASSACRE.

IN THE SPRING OF 1858, GENERAL HARNEY WITH THE "ARMY OF UTAH" ENTERED SALT LAKE VALLEY. HARNEY'S SCOUTS REPORTED THAT THE MORMONS HAD ABANDONED SALT LAKE CITY.

BRIGHAM YOUNG HAD LED HIS FOLLOWERS TO SAFETY, BUT WAS DETERMINED TO BURN THE "CITY OF THE SAINTS" IF THE SOLDIERS ATTEMPTED TO OCCUPY IT.

FURTHER TROUBLE WAS AVERTED BY PRESIDENT BUCHANAN, WHO PARDONED THE MORMONS ON CONDITION THAT THEY SHOULD OBEY THE FEDERAL LAWS. THE MORMONS RETURNED TO THEIR HOMES AND PEACE ONCE MORE REIGNED IN UTAH.

N. Y. STOCKS

By W. S. COUSINS,
International News Service
Financial Editor.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Prices were irregular in the brief session of the stock market today, with the major trend of the industrial stock leaders downward. Selling pressure was most apparent at the start of trading in the stocks which retreated most readily in Friday's final period, and the early declines in many of these stocks brought prices to the lowest range of the week.

The first of the week-end surveys of business to be issues after the Labor Day holiday were distinctly favorable. The stock market appeared to be suffering chiefly from an over-brought condition in many of the speculative favorites. It required only a small volume of selling to create a reactionary price movement.

Specialty stocks were able to make some headway, as also were a number of the motor and industrial stocks which moved upward on Friday in the face of a general reaction. Studebaker was the outstanding strong spot in the latter group, moving up on around 6½.

Heavy selling of Mack Trucks caused that stock to decline to 11¢, compared with the week's high price of 128. Selling of the stock was attributed to liquidation by some prominent stock operators and pools, as well as by large stockholders who received the 50 per cent stock dividend last month.

Prices in important sections of the market, including the rails and oils, firmed up in the second hour. Short covering and new speculative buying was reported in stocks which had apparently reached a more attractive price level as compared with the high range of last week. Coppers, sugars and tobacco stocks appeared more often on the tape. Yellow truck held quite firmly around 34 on heavy trading. United States Steel and Independent Steels resumed their forward movements and tire and rubber stocks also firmed up.

Commodity markets were quiet and prices generally steady.

Four Are Overcome By Gasoline Fumes

One Man Suffers Probable Fractured Skull, Arm And Leg From Fall

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 11.—One man was seriously injured and three others were overcome by gasoline fumes at the yards of the Atlantic Refining company here today.

William Lindsay, 28, suffered a probable fractured skull, arm and leg, and body lacerations when, overcome by fumes, he toppled from the top of the car which the men were unloading to a concrete pit.

Thomas Hewitt, 47, of Wilkinsburg, A. L. Murdock, 30, of Pittsburgh, and David Coulter, 36, of Pittsburgh, were overcome while at work near the car.

Shock Fatal To West Newton Boy

McKEESPORT, Pa., Sept. 11.—Ten-year-old Frank Orchek of West Newton, Pa., died in McKeesport hospital today from the effects of shock suffered two months ago when a dynamite cap with which he had been playing exploded.

The boy suffered a mangled hand in the explosion but the shock caused heart disease, physicians said, which proved fatal.

To Move Prisoners During Jail Repairs

Forty prisoners in the Mercer county jail are to be sent to jails of neighboring counties while repairs are being made on the Mercer jail. No applications for accommodations have yet been made in the Lawrence county jail according to Deputy Sheriff William Reynolds, but accommodations for 15 have already been secured in the Crawford county jail.

Double Court Next Week Problematical

Judge Hildebrand has been counting on Judge James J. McLaughry of Mercer to assist in holding criminal court next week but he may not be able to be present on account of the serious illness of his sister. It will probably not be known definitely until Monday morning whether or not Judge McLaughry will be able to be present.

Reaction Appears In Stock Market

Renewal Of Short Selling Checked Forward Movement During Past Week

CAR LOADINGS BREAK RECORDS

BY W. S. COUSINS
I. N. S. Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—High money rates, extended profit taking 'distribution", of industrial stocks by the professionals and a renewal of short selling from the same quarter, checked the forward movement of prices in the stock market this week, and produced a reactionary market which was as distressing as it was surprising to the bullish factors in Wall Street.

The closing of all markets on Monday in observance of Labor Day, and the absence of a large group of traders on Thursday and Friday for the Jewish New Year's celebration naturally diverted a good portion of speculative interest from stocks, bonds and commodity future.

A good portion of speculative interest from stocks, bonds and commodity futures. The effect was seen in a withdrawal of buying power from the stock market, particularly in the railroad and high grade industrial shares which led the latest forward movement in prices.

The continuance of the 5 per cent call money rate beyond the usual period after the first of September reflected chiefly the larger demand for funds from the interior points for crop moving and other purposes; also the increased call for money in industrial and commercial activities. In view of the high tension of the industrial plants this year and the comparatively larger turn-over of goods, this firmness in the money market should not cause any great surprise.

Industrially the reports for the week were uniformly favorable. Car loadings for the latest week reported topped all previous records in the whole history of American transportation; steel mills reported a continuation of advance orders beyond expectation; automobile manufacturers presented evidence of an unusually active season for production and sale of cars; mercantile establishments expressed themselves as well pleased with the volume and character of their fall business.

Forty Hour Devotion Starts On Sunday

Former Pastor Of St. Joseph's Church Will Be Here To Participate

Forty Hour devotion will be inaugurated Sunday morning at St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church, with the celebration of Solemn High Mass with the pastor Rev. Fr. A. Weisenberger in charge. The devotion will be continued for the period of forty hours and during Monday. This occurs only occasionally at the different Catholic churches of the city and it is anticipated that many of the members of that faith will make the most of the opportunity afforded them and attend.

Of interest locally, will be the fact that Rev. Fr. J. F. Eger, pastor of St. Joseph's church, Braddock, Pa., and a former pastor of St. Joseph's church, this city, for many years, will return for the devotions and will take part in the services held Sunday evening.

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., Sept. 11.—Mayor W. F. Hurst announced that he would investigate the handling of a $5,000 fire in the downtown business district today by the local fire department which consumed 12 minutes in making a run of the two and one-half blocks.

It was necessary for a business man to summon the Dover fire department, which responded with a "pumper". The flames, which destroyed a grain barn on the Goshen Dairy Company, were caused by spontaneous combustion in 10 tons of new mown hay.

Indian Guide, Named Co-respondent In Stillman Case, Seeks Damages

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Stillman, photographed since their reconciliation and, inset, Frederick K. Beauvais, the "Indian guide".

By Central Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—One half a million dollars. That, no less, can repay Frederick K. Beauvais, the far-famed "Indian guide" co-respondent in the Stillman divorce case, for the ostracism which he now suffers as but one result of the libel and defamation he alleges came to him during the divorce hearings of the New York banker and his wife.

Up to the time of the reconciliation of James A. Stillman and his wife, last year, Beauvais maintains that he maintained his silence because a woman's name was at stake. But now that the Stillmans have settled their troubles—including the problem of the legitimacy of baby Guy Stillman—the Indian guide whom Stillman accused of the paternity of Guy feels that the time has come to speak.

Hence his $500,000 suit for damages from Stillman. Defamation of character and libel are the charges.

The petition alleges the libel was uttered in the Stillman divorce petition which charged Beauvais was the father of the famous "Baby Guy" Stillman.

Stillmans on "Honeymoon".

The Stillmans were recently reconciled on the eve of a "second honeymoon" to Europe.

The suit is the latest chapter in perhaps the most sensational marital tangle ever presented to American courts. Before the litigants had withdrawn their various suits, the legitimacy of baby Guy had been legally established, but not until Mrs. Stillman had accused Stillman of supporting Flo Leeds, the former chorus girl, and of being the father of Flo Leeds' son.

When the Stillmans were reconciled in November, 1925, it was announced that a suit brought by Mrs. Stillman had been dropped.

Orders Made In Non-Support Cases By Judge Hildebrand

Weekly And Monthly Payments Are Ordered By Court In Cases

Orders in a number of desertion and non-support cases were made following hearings held Friday afternoon. In the case of Jake Conti, charged with non-support of children he was directed to pay $30 per month.

Roy White, charged with non-support of aged parent, W. A. White, an order was made directing him to pay $2.50 per week.

R. H. Cage, R. L. Cage and Geo. Cage were directed to pay $2.50 per week, each for the support of their aged father, R. E. Cage.

George Swisher was directed to pay $7.50 per week for the support of his wife, it appearing by the testimony that Mrs. Swisher is already getting $25 per month rental on property.

M. W. Cox for support of his wife was directed to pay $3 per week and Ewart Reese for support of wife $4 per week.

Home Street Man Is Badly Injured At Cement Plant

Dominick DeForso of 16 West Home street is confined in the New Castle hospital as the result of painful injuries sustained Friday afternoon while at work at the Lehigh Portland Cement Plant.

The injured man fell from the top of one of the buildings, a distance of about thirty feet. Several ribs were fractured and he sustained a deep cut on his head. He was also badly bruised.

Funeral party with the body of the late Mrs. Hannah Young whose death occurred at Hermosa Beach, Los Angeles, Cal., will arrive in this city Monday morning.

Announcement of funeral will appear in Monday's paper.

CHEWING GUM AT SCHOOL IS BANNED

MONONGAHELA, Pa., Sept. 11.—During the summer Monongahela officials have startled the outside world with a number of reforms, some of which were so cute as to elicit front page publicity in distant cities. But it remains for the Monongahela board of education to deliver the crowning blow, and knock Chief of Police S. S. Burnworth and his reform schedule for the count.

The board of education has announced that chewing gum will be withdrawn from the counter of the high school cafeteria. This is the initial move to discourage jaw exercise in the public schools. Close upon the heels of the announcement comes the information that students will not be allowed to chew contraband gum—that is, gum bought elsewhere, during school hours.

DEATH TOLL IN SHARON BLAST REACHES TWO

(International News Service)

SHARON, Pa., Sept. 11. — The death toll of a gasoline stove explosion in the Frank Cimperman home here was increased to two today with the death of Mrs. Cimperman. Mildred, 2 years old, died a few hours after the blast late yesterday.

The mother, already badly burned, attempted to save the life of her child by re-entering the house after the blast. She removed Mildred from the building, but not before both were burned so seriously as to cause their deaths.

East Brook Man Is Injured By Fall From Roof

Blanchard Hall of New Castle, R. D. 9, received injuries while at work on the roof of a home on Galbreath avenue, Friday afternoon.

Mr. Hall fell considerable distance and was badly cut about the face. His left wrist was fractured. He was removed soon after the accident to the New Castle hospital.

RICH FARMER FOUND GUILTY OF POISONING WIFE TO WED SECOND

M'COOK, Neb., Sept. 11.—Burt M. Davis, former Beaver City grocer and wealthy stock man, was found guilty of first degree murder in connection with the death of his first wife, Blanche, by a jury. His punishment was fixed at life imprisonment. Davis' first trial several months ago resulted in a hung jury.

Davis was alleged to have poisoned his wife so that he could marry Mrs. Kate Resler, a neighbor, which he did four months after his wife's death. Mrs. Resler, held as an accessory, was acquitted. She and Davis blamed the charges to "main street" tongues wagging.

ASK NEW ROAD TO STATE LINE

New Galilee And Enon Citizens Aid Boosting For New Highway

A community meeting of the residents of Big Beaver township, Little Beaver township, Darlington, Enon Valley and New Galilee was held at the ball park in New Galilee Friday evening for the purpose of creating an interest in the new road project in which an effort will be made to construct an improved highway from Darlington through New Galilee and Enon Valley to the Ohio state line, a distance of eight miles.

The event was in the form of a booster meeting and was attended by about eight hundred people. A corn and weiner roast was also enjoyed.

Representatives, J. G. Marshall and J. C. Patterson of Beaver, Pa., were present and made addresses of interest of the proposed highway. Frank George of New Galilee and George Andrews of Enon Valley also gave talks.

W. J. McGeorge one of the oldest residents of that community, who is 81 years of age, has presented a petition representing the citizens to the commissioners of Beaver county. The petition is the largest one ever presented to these officials and is an evidence of the interest shown by the people of the community. A committee will also wait on the State High Way Department at Harrisburg.

The event was one of the most enjoyable ever held in that community. Selections by the Mt. Jackson band furnished music for the evening.

On Tuesday evening, Oct. 12, Mahoning Valley Grange will give their special program in Willard Grange hall.

Harness Shop Is Forced To Quit

(International News Service)

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 11—Chalk up another defeat for Old Dobbin and the one horse shay. The Perkins-Campbell Co. here one of the largest concerns in the United States manufacturing harness, saddles and accoutrements of the horse and buggy era is quitting the business.

Large harness show rooms in New York and Chicago already have been closed according to officials, and the harness departments of their huge plant here are being sold or leased for other types of business effective in October.

The corporation will turn its $20,000 capital to the manufacture of leather specialties peculiar to this modern age and the automobile.

"Only in the west does a demand for harness and saddles remain sufficient to justify their manufacture declared Milton D. Campbell, vice president of the company "and the harness houses of Milwaukee, Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas have the technical advantages of lesser freight rates to distribution points. Hence we are not needed in that field."

The Perkins-Campbell Co., was established in 1879 by Henry A. Perkins and Braxton W. Campbell. It is now owned in entirety by the Campbell family.

FALL KILLS GIRL JOLTED FROM AUTO BY SUDDEN SWERVE

BLAIRSVILLE, Pa., Sept. 11.—As an automobile driven by Albert Buzzanotti of Black Lick was swerved suddenly to avoid a collision with a machine occupied by Congressman M. Clyde Kelly and his wife, of Braddock, and two other men, on the William Penn highway, Mary Lucas, 17 years old, of Palmertown, fell from Buzzanotti's machine and was killed.

Buzzanotti was driving in the middle of the highway, according to witnesses, and when the machine occupied by Congressman and Mrs. Kelly and M. K. Clementson and William Clementson, of Marchland, Ind., approached turned his car suddenly.

Only Four Cases Of Contagious Disease In Past Month

Milk Test Report For Month Submitted By Health Officer

"A new low record for contagious disease was established in August and the city was entirely free from contagion, excepting four cases of whooping cough" said City Physician William L. Steen to city council in a report presented Friday. This is most unusual in a city the size of New Castle and the number reported is the smallest since the health department was instituted."

Althongh the physician did not have much contagion to deal with he made analysis of water and milk and other matters pertaining to the department.

The average for August bacteria per c. c. in milk examined, he reported was 24,000.

Missing Youth Last Seen In New Castle About One Year Ago

ABRAHAM SOLOMON

Charles Solomon, of Detroit, Michigan, brother of Abraham Solomon, the latter shown in the picture, has been in this city for several days, seeking to secure some trace of his brother, who has been absent from his home in Detroit, for the past three years.

Abraham, who is 23 years of age, was seen in New Castle about a year ago, but since that time, no trace of him has been found. The family, especially Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Solomon, of 72 La Belle street, Detroit, Michigan, is anxious to learn of his whereabouts, and the brother Charles said that $50 would be paid for information as to his whereabouts.

The search here did not prove successful in locating him and it is believed he has left this city. Fears that something has befallen him are entertained by the family.

Anyone knowing anything of the youth is asked to make it known to the parents in Detroit.

Foster's Weather Prognostication

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—A wave of below normal temperatures is expected to cross southern states centering on September 11, central and northern states centering on 8; during this wave killing frosts are expected to make their first appearance of any consequence this season, reaching down out of the north and northeast probably as far as northern corn belt and mountain areas. While September temperatures are expected to average below normal generally the month will not be one of continuous cold or wintry conditions, but rather of great extremes of warm and cool temperatures that will average below normal. The real danger periods of September from cold waves and frost in central and nothern fields will center on 17 and 23. The condition of some fall crops especially corn is such as to cause some anxiety during these two periods. The general average condition of corn is still somewhat behind that of the average year, whereas the average year does not find corn ready for frost in central belt before September 15 at the very earliest. A storm wave of moderate intensity is expected to cross continent during week centering on September 14; warm wave preceding this storm center will carry central and northern temperatures consideraly above normal and probably furnish a muchly desired period of harvest weather. Periods centering on 18 and 25 will be expected to average warm and dry in southern sections where such weather will be in great demand for cotton and rice cool waves and above normal precipitation are expected in southern sections during these two periods causing conditions favorable to pests and bad for harvest.

Solar Radiation.

For the present at least theories relative to solar radiation its cause and effects, have not sufficient substantial evidence to establish them as fact or law. Such theories however are of a force that actually reaches our atmosphere, some phases of which have actually been measured, therefore unlike many astrophysical subjects solar radiation theories deal with what may be termed a tangible force; such theories will be proven right or wrong by future discovered facts. Many years of accurate and detailed records will probably be necessary before forecasts of the effects of solar radiation upon plant life, germination of plant and animal life, etc., may be made with any degree of accuracy; cycles of cause and effect are so varied and overlapped that a long record of past results are necessary for successful research. Empirical forecasts may be made from synoptic tables in a similar method to that now employed by the government bureau in its daily weather forecast, but I am unable to see that valuable forecasts of effects of solar radiation to a given locality would result from such a method; forecasts of world averages could probably be made with a fair degree of accuracy by such methods but would be of value to scientific research only. It is also possible that a search of past records would reveal sufficient data of great extremes to be of value in forecasting great local extremes and to aid in checking up tehoretical results. To forecast for a given locality, tables of records from the same locality must be used Detailed records of solar radiaton that are now being made will be of immense value in the future.

Wet Drive Will Not Have Kick Declares Wheeler

International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—There will be no more "kick" in the drive of anti-prohibitionists for modification of the Volstead act at the next congress than is found in a bottle of "near" beer, Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon League said today.

"The wets will ferment and create a little suds on their steins, but it will amount to nothing," Wheeler said.

On the other hand he predicted enactment of new prohibition legislation, proposed at the last session of congress for strengthening the federal enforcement program.

To Which Class Do You Belong?

People are divided into two classes as to the way they use their money—wasteful people and careful people. Which are you?
If you are careful with your money, you will get ahead. If you are wasteful, you will not.
It doesn't make much difference how much you earn, or how much you have, waste will ultimately consume it.
It doesn't make much difference how little you earn, or how little you have, careful use of money will bring you some measure of financial success.
